POLICE OPEN OFFENSIVE AGAINST GAMBLERS

The Tax on Fools.

Romantic Oil.

American, Not Mexican.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)

Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

The Italian government runs a lottery, as do many other nations. The latest drawing yielded a government profit of five million dollars, gambling excitement being increased by an individual predicting winning numbers. The numbers didn't win, but in Naples alone the people spent fifteen million lire for tickets.

In Italy they call the lottery "the tax on fools."

We need not criticize Italy, for in this country, according to statistics, race track fools tax themselves eight million dollars a year, handing the money to the bookmakers.

And get-rich-quick schemes tax the American public, especially women, a thousand millions more.

The marvel is that the people have any money left when the gamblers and the get-rich-quick schemers finish with them. It is all for the best probably. He who loses his savings must continue to work hard. Hard work, not people living on their incomes in idleness, is what the country needs.

Even the prosaic oil business is romantic. You know of the oil well that the Rockefellers have "brought in" within the Arctic circle. It would cost many millions to run in a pipe line. But at least the Rockefellers know that there is an Arctic reserve.

At Ventura, on the Pacific coast, the Shell Oil Co.'s docks were washed away. Its tankers could load no oil.

Associated Oil said: "Bring your tank ships here, we'll load them." Associated runs a pipe line half a mile out on the bottom of the sea, has a flexible pipe anchored at the surface and fills tanks, storm or no storm.

Nearby are wells driven down through the water, pumping up oil from below the Pacific. Submarines some day will find much wealth for enterprising prospectors.

The flying machine is used in prospecting now.

There is much excitement about the Mexican-American dive resort maintained at Tia Juana, just across the California border. Two American girls drank in one of the Tia Juana saloons with their father and mother

DIRECTOR MOORE BANS FICTITIOUS NAMES IN MAKING RAID REPORTS

Governor Opposes Race Track Betting, He Tells Crabbe

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17.—Governor Donahey is flatly opposed to gambling in connection with horse racing, or in any other form. He believes, however, that efforts to stop gambling during race meets at Ohio tracks can be adequately made by local officials and that the situation for the present at least does not necessitate action by the governor.

This statement was made at the governor's office early this afternoon following a conference between Governor Donahey and Attorney General Crabbe. At this conference, requested by the attorney general, Crabbe asked for the governor's co-operation in the former's efforts to stop race horse gambling in Ohio.

EARL SALSBERRY IS FINED $50

Judge J. C. Hanley Orders Prisoner Committed to Workhouse if he Does Not Pay.

War on gamblers was declared today by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Safety-Service Director J. W. Moore and the police department.

With the launching of the offensive, orders were issued to the police to register the correct names of all persons arrested in gambling raids. Heretofore, fictitious names have appeared on the police blotter.

Notice Posted at City Hall

Here is the notice, signed by Director Moore and approved by Mayor Benedum, posted at police headquarters today:

"When arrests are made, entry on the police blotter and the charge made to the court must, in all cases, carry the correct name of the offender, if such knowledge is available.

"Attempts to answer under an assumed name must be ignored and the correct one given, if known to the officer, or if he can, by reasonable diligence, so determine."

"No gambling will be allowed here during my term of office," declared Benedum. "I have so informed several persons who have come to me with the intention of ascertaining my attitude.

"Police have orders to visit all places suspected of violating the laws. This order includes pool rooms. We will insist that all offenders be arrested."

Salsberry First Victim.

The first violator in the campaign of the police to stop gambling was fined $50 and costs and committed to jail by Municipal Judge Hanley. He is Earl Salsberry, St. Clair avenue, whose home, almost opposite Central fire station, was visited by the police last Sunday morning.

Salsberry, without funds, was released on his own recognizance to appear before Judge Hanley for a hearing at a 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. When he failed to keep his promise, orders were issued for his arrest. He was apprehended yesterday afternoon by Patrolman William Lister.

FRANK HOOVER PRINCIPAL IN WAR ROMANCE

Washington Nurse Will Become Bride of City Solicitor.

WED TOMORROW

Ex-soldier Met Miss Harriet Clogston While in Hospital.

A war romance, which began four and one-half years ago when he was a patient in the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., convalescing from a shattered leg, will culminate tomorrow morning when City Solicitor Frank H. Hoover and Miss Harriet Clogston, Red Cross nurse, formerly of Bridgeport, Ohio, are married in Christ's church, Alexandria, Va.

Hoover met Miss Clogston when she nursed him in hospital where he received treatment for wounds sustained at Thielt, Belgium, on October 31, 1918, while fighting with the 135th Machine Gun battalion, a part of the 37th ("Buckeye") division. Friendship grew into love. The marriage will be solemnized in the church where George Washington worshiped.

Hoover was born here. He joined Company E, Tenth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, when it was being recruited during the early stages of the war. He trained at Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., and saw active service on the battle fronts in France and in Belgium. While wounded he was confined in field and base hospitals in France for several months. Disabled, he returned to the United States with the rank of sergeant.

After hospitalization, Hoover entered the National university at Washington, D. C., where he graduated in 1924 with a master of law degree. He began practice here on June 15, 1924, and was elected solicitor last fall after having won the Republican nomination from a field of four.

Hoover's parents are dead. He is a member of Private Eddy post No.

Lawrence W. Boston, 21 years old, of Wellsville, furloughed Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, is dead today as a result of injuries sustained Monday night at the Irondale C. & P. station when he missed his footing in an attempt to board an eastbound freight and was dragged 50 feet along the tracks.

WOMAN AND SIX CHILDREN ARE TRAPPED; TWO OTHERS ESCAPE

Mother Sacrifices Life in Attempt to Rescue Tots.

FATHER INJURED

Eldest Daughter Unhurt in Central Bridge, N. Y., Blaze.

CENTRAL BRIDGE, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Edmund Teal and six of her children were burned to death here early today when fire, said to have started from a defective chimney, destroyed a two-story building. The husband and the oldest daughter, Catherine, escaped, but Teal was badly burned.

Father Breaks Both Arms.

Teal is 43 years old. In running down the stairs to summon help he fell and broke both arms. He also was badly burned and suffered from inhaling smoke.

The mother could have escaped, neighbors said, but she remained in the burning building and bravely died with her children. Teal said when he rushed from the house to summon help he believed his wife would follow with the children. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

The Teal family lived on the second floor of the building, the first floor being used for a barber shop.

Fire Threatens Business Zone.

Neighbors were unaware of the fire until Teal ran from his home, his clothes afire, calling for help. The flames spread to other buildings, and for a time it was feared the business section of this small town would be wiped out.

Fire apparatus from Cobleskill, Howe Cave and Scoharie responded.

Mrs. Teal was about 35 years of age. The children who died in the flames were: Charles, 11; Davis, 7; Ernest, 4; Sydney, 3; Elizabeth, 2, and a two months' old baby.

It was some time before fire apparatus from nearby villages arrived. The only telephone in the village, that is in use at night, is in the home of Dr. H. R. Bentley. When Dr. Bentley learned of the fire he called the telephone operator at Howe Cave who in turn notified the surrounding villages.

EAST LIVERPOOL, "STAFFORDSHIRE OF AMERICA," FIRST CITY TO UTILIZE OIL AND GAS PIPE LINES, T. T. JONES TELLS WCAE RADIO FANS

The 127-year history of East Liverpool, recognized as the center of the American ceramic industry and home of its two great organizations—the United States Potters' association and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters—was outlined recently in a five-minute talk from the WCAE broadcasting station, Pittsburgh, by T. T. Jones, newspaper man.

Jones appeared on the program with the augmented choir of the First Presbyterian church, of which W. A. Macdonald is director.

Jones' speech follows:

City Settled by Thomas Fawcett.

"East Liverpool, Ohio, 44 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, Pa., and an equal distance north of Wheeling, W. Va., is a manufacturing city of some 25,000 people, that fronts a beautiful, serpentine bend of the Ohio river from the rugged heights of its continuous series of ridges.

"Just across the placid stream and connected by two bridges, are Chester and Newell, two progressive West Virginia communities which, with Wellsville, Ohio, four miles to the west, and Midland, Pa., as far to the east, and other surrounding rural localities, make of it a mutual attraction point of a 50,000 population.

"Settled in 1798, 127 years ago, a year before George Washington died and a few months over a decade before Abraham Lincoln was born, by Thomas Fawcett, a Quaker-Irishman, and his wife, who was Isabelle Snodgrass, also a native of the Emerald Isle, and their four sons and as many daughters, East Liverpool, after the many vicissitudes of its pioneer days, has slowly but steadily, grown until in turn it has become nationally and internationally known as 'The Staffordshire of America,' 'The City of Hills and Kilns' and 'The Pottery Center of the World.'

Once Called St. Clair.

"In the beginning the hamlet was called St. Clair for the governor of the Northwest territory; then for a period it was referred to as Fawcettstown in honor of its founder; later the advent of numerous Englishmen to it caused the village's name to be changed to Liverpool, which finally was added to by the prefix 'East' so as to distinguish it from another town of the same name in a nearby county.

"Four score and six years ago the city's present supremacy in the ceramic industry took definite form when James Bennett, a native of England and then but a young man, recognized the potentialities of clays with which its soil abounded. With the aid of several forward looking citizens he built on land long since washed away by the Ohio floods the city's first pottery. To the daughter of one of these men, Mrs. Cynthia Bradshaw, he presented the first piece of ware taken from the initial kiln of the plant fired. That bit of earthenware, pioneer of countless others since made in it, is to this day intact and in the possession of the recipient's daughter, Mrs. Ida O. Reynolds, of Chicago, Ill.

"How the industry thrived and the trade expanded to its present dimensions of millions of dollars per annum of production from its 20 or more plants, one of which the Homer Laughlin China company, being the largest in the world, is a story replete with interest, and reflects the evolution from plain yellow ware to the decorated white china variety of the moment with the multitudinous porcelain products that have supplemented the manufacture of initial table necessities.

"With an industry bulwarking it East Liverpool developed proportionately in other lines. Oil and gas found in and about it made possible its being the first city in the world to utilize pipe lines and thus insure municipal fuel and illumination.

Home of Gift Hymn Writer.

"To it as a boy came Andrew Carnegie to visit relatives during summers, and a nearby early furnace perhaps caught the ambition that made of him later the ironmaster of the country. In it also was reared and lived the gifted song and hymn writer, William L. Thompson, author of 'Softly and Tenderly Jesus Is Calling,' 'Jesus Is All the World to Me' and other contributions, and Will Rhoades, the great Pittsburgh tenor. From it went soldiers at the nation's every call from General 'Mad' Anthony Wayne's campaign against the Indians to the 'Watch of Coblentz on the Rhine.'

"Just north of it a dozen miles is the historic spot that marks the farthest northern point reached by Confederate soldiery in the clash of the states in the sixties. The stump of the famous tree under which General John Morgan then surrendered has long been exhibited by the East Liverpool Historical society.

"But a short distance out of it J. M. McGuffy, who later became the president of the University of Virginia and the author of the famous McGuffy readers which Henry Ford has recently assembled for his museum, began his career of teaching in a log school house; in it Sanford C. Hill,

STATE TAX LEVY REPORT IS FILED

Against the total property valuation of $2,133,491,140 in the state in 1925, the state, county, municipalities and district boards of education levied direct taxes to the amount of $52,536,197, says Grant P. Hall, state tax commissioner, in a letter prepared to be sent to all county assessors.

Out of every $100 levied in direct taxes in this state last year, $1.80 was used for state purposes other than the Virginia debt and school aid, while $98.20 was used for county, district, school and municipal purposes, the letter says.

There was an increase of 9½ cents in the average tax rate on each $100 valuation for 1925 as compared with the 1924 figures, the average rate being $2.19 in 1924 and $2.285 in last year.

The total amount of all direct taxes levied by the state upon real estate, personal property and public utilities for the year 1925 was $6,761,528, says the tax commissioner. Only $2,133,491 of this sum was levied for state purposes other than the Virginia debt and of this slightly more than two million $1,250,000 was appropriated to the local taxing districts as state aid to schools, "leaving only $833,491 to be used for general state purposes."

County courts levied last year for county and district purposes $15,691,440; boards of education levied $24,015,823, and the municipal authorities $6,067,306.

Vanderbilt Bills Newport on Dead Hens, Gets $30

Newport, R. I.—Under an old Rhode Island law that dates back to the Revolutionary days, William H. Vanderbilt has collected $30 from the city of Newport in payment for 15 of his hens, which were killed by a dog at Oakland farm, Portsmouth. The law, which Newport members of the general assembly have sought to repeal in vain, provides that the city of Newport shall pay practically all the cost in recompensing owners of hens killed anywhere in the county.

Acting under this law, Mr. Vanderbilt put in a bill which was approved by the board of aldermen and paid.

Kills Catarrh Germs In 3 Minutes!

Newly discovered treatment kills the germs, heals the tissues and works wonders. The discoverer, a famous French chemist, in actual laboratory tests isolated germs on microscopic slides and killed them in 3 minutes.

Chronic Catarrh germs, no matter how bad, and cases of Bronchial Asthma now yield to this amazing discovery. This method of treatment, called Lavex, kills the countless germs that line the breathing passages, yet is positively harmless to the most delicate membranes and tissues.

Results in a Single Night

Lavex works like magic. The germ laden mucus that causes all the trouble is quickly eliminated, and the sore, inflamed tissues respond instantly to the wonderful healing powers of Lavex. Sufferers are relieved in a single night and thousands of former Catarrh victims report almost miraculous results with this remarkable treatment. To prove it and introduce Lavex to fifty thousand more sufferers in one month, I am making this startling offer.

FREE TREATMENT

I offer to send a treatment free and postpaid to any one who will write for it. No obligation. No cost. It is absolutely FREE. If it does the work, you can repay the favor by telling your friends—if not, the loss is mine. No matter what you have tried, just send me your name and address for this generous free treatment and convince yourself at my expense. Be sure to write at once.

REOPEN TUNNEL USED BY GRANT'S TROOPS

Shaft to Be Memorial to "Battle of the Crater."

Petersburg, Va.—One of the greatest pieces of battlefield engineering of the Civil war has been brought to light with the reopening of the main tunnel by which the famous mine under the Confederate works near Petersburg was placed. Explosion of the mine caused the "Battle of the Crater" to go down in history as the most tragic of that war.

Much of its timber still sound, the tunnel is declared to be a model of shoring. It is planned to make of it a shrine to American ingenuity and resourcefulness.

Winding its narrow way 30 feet underground, the tunnel extends a distance of 510 feet from behind what was General Grant's front line to the crater itself. Several parallel and perpendicular shorter tunnels connect with it. Finally the passageway enters a large underground room, believed to have been a Confederate bomb-proof dugout.

Dug in Thirty Days.

It was this gallery, as it was called by the Pennsylvania miners of Colonel Pleasant's regiment who dug it in 30 days, that afforded the means of laying the mines which were intended to clear the obstruction to Grant's march on Richmond. In the success of Colonel Pleasant's plan, which at first Grant described as "claptrap and nonsense," the North had placed its faith for an immediate ending of the war.

Federal troops had been drilled for a month and Grant had concentrated 65,000 troops in the adjacent valley for the charge that was to follow the explosion at 3:30 a. m. of July 30, 1864, which wrecked Elliott's salient and cleared the way to the capital of the Confederacy.

Many sections of the passageway have now been found to be in place just as originally built. Here and there were discovered evidences of the men of the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania infantry who dug them. Whether the parallel galleries were dug by the men under General Lee in an effort to locate the Federals working underground or by the same men who dug their way 510 feet to the crater, remains undetermined.

300 Were Killed.

Through Colonel Pleasant's tunnel 4,000 pounds of explosives were placed under the Confederate works. When Grant's army waited the fuse was lit. After an hour's wait it was found necessary to enter the tunnel and relight it half way up. A few minutes later came the explosion which sent 300 Confederates to death, caused confusion and delay to the waiting Federal troops, and paved the way for the rush of General Meade's men to their destruction.

A crossfire from Confederate batteries, placed advantageously after it had been learned that their position was being undermined, met the Federals as they charged through the opening made by the explosion. It was two hours before Meade penetrated the thin gray line.

By that time Mahone had come up with his Petersburg brigade, and the celebrated "Crater Charge" drove the enemy beyond the crater, leaving behind more than 5,000 Union dead. The hope of General Grant for the immediate capture of Richmond was wrecked.

Offer College Courses to Japanese Students

Philadelphia.—Under plans launched by the American Friends service committee a selected group of Japanese students will be invited to come to the United States next autumn to study in colleges and universities as the guests of Americans.

The Friends service committee said that a nation-wide appeal would be made for co-operation in carrying out their plans. A number of colleges already have volunteered.

"This is the first concrete proposal," said a statement, "to give general expression to the widespread desire. . . . to improve our relations with the people of Japan.

"A Friends service committee, composed of Japanese Quakers, has been formed in Tokyo. This committee will be charged with the selection of the students. The choice will be based entirely on individual fitness and aims and the students will not represent any official or other special interests.

"On their arrival in this country they will be placed in volunteer colleges. This will insure the full benefit of the plan to Americans as well as to the Japanese."

Heart Disease Killed Poet Bobby Burns Not Alcohol as Claimed

LONDON.—The poet, Robert Burns, died of heart disease and not from alcoholism, according to Sir James Crichton-Browne, who has just published a new book on the life of the Scotch laureate.

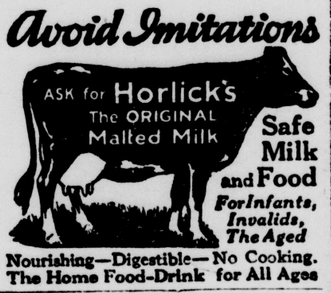

"Burns died of endocarditis," Sir James declares, "with the origination of which alcohol had nothing to do, though it is possible that an injudicious use of alcohol may have hastened its progress.

"It was rheumatism that was the undoing of Burns. It attacked him in early years, damaged his heart, embittered his life and cut short his career."

Leading Voters To The Polls

Two bills are before the New York state legislature aiming to make voting compulsory. The whole country has felt the need of finding some way to get more citizens to vote. Uusually activity takes the form of a campaign prior to election to arouse interest in voting as a privilege and duty. But with all the urging and campaigning and scolding and pleading, the number of voters exercising the franchise continues to dwindle.

Transportation to the polling place shouldn't be much of a problem in these days. Neither should the act of voting take much time. Indifference, not inconvenience, is at the root of the trouble.

And why the indifference? It is suggested that voters no longer take an interest in elections because they are convinced that most of the candidates for office are prompted by self-interest rather than public service, that issues are fictitious and that campaign pledges are rarely fulfilled.

The way to overcome these evils and popularize the vote, some people say, is to penalize successful candidates if they fail to carry out their promises. That might make an election mean more than it often does now.

But whether the remedy sought is better candidates or better platforms o rbetter conduct in office, it all goes back to the fundamental needs fo better citizenship in the individual voter. Compulsory voting won't bring that about, but education may.

Ford Economics

Henry Ford, of course, is unique. He is a law unto himself. when he wants to lower the price of his product, he reduces the selling price below the cost of production and tells his subordinates they've got to make it possible. Then they do. It has never failed. Other manufacturers follow the opposite course, seeing first how much they can lower production costs, then keeping a safe margin above that in lowering the selling price.

Similarly Mr. Ford cuts prices and raises wages at the same time. Other manufacturers usually argue that they can't pay higher wages without higher prices, and can't lower prices without lowering wages.

Still, the uncontrollable and unfathomable Henry may not be defying economic law so outrageously as he seems. When he lowers his selling price, he gets such a rush of new orders that increased volume of business, along with stricter economy and efficiency, justifies the new prices. When he raises wages without any visible reason, his working force somehow becomes mor productive.

Henry seems to feel that economic law is based on human nature, and he capitalizes his knowledge of human nature.

He makes a good case, in an article in Collier's, for what old-fashioned business man would regard as madness—that it's "always good business to raise wages and never to lower them." He explains that higher wages mean greater purchasing power and more customers, and that charging "all the traffic will bear" is never a sound business policy because it won't hold the business.

Hot Dogs and Rural Charm

At a meeting of the Ontario Horticultural association recently in Toronto, a plea was made for "rural beautification." Usually one thinks of the country as being naturally beautfiul. It is, when orchards are in bloom or crops are growing and when man has not interfered too much with nature.

But frequently farm buildings are unattractive or ill-kept, grass and flowers are omitted because they take too much time from farm duties, and roadsides are absolutely threeless and given over to weeds and dust. A definite movement to plant trees, shrubs and flowers in rural districts that have been too thoroughly cleaned off by pioneer settlers would help greatly to restore rural beauty.

There is another means of beautification which is particularly needed along main highways in this country. That is some sort of control of the hot dog and soft drink stands that have sprung up like mushrooms wherever the tourist goes. Sandwiches, coffee or lemonade for the traveler are frequently as desirable as gas and oil and air for the automobile. But it is hard to see why these stands ministering to the comforts of motorists must inevitably be so ugly that they disfigure otherwise lovely scenes.

One cannot expect architectural beauty of them, but surely the proprietors need not go out of their way to plaster them with hideous advertising signs or to decorate the neighborhood with tin cans, bottles and rubbish. Somebody should start a movement to make these places simpler, cleaner, more pleasant to the eye than they have been up to date.

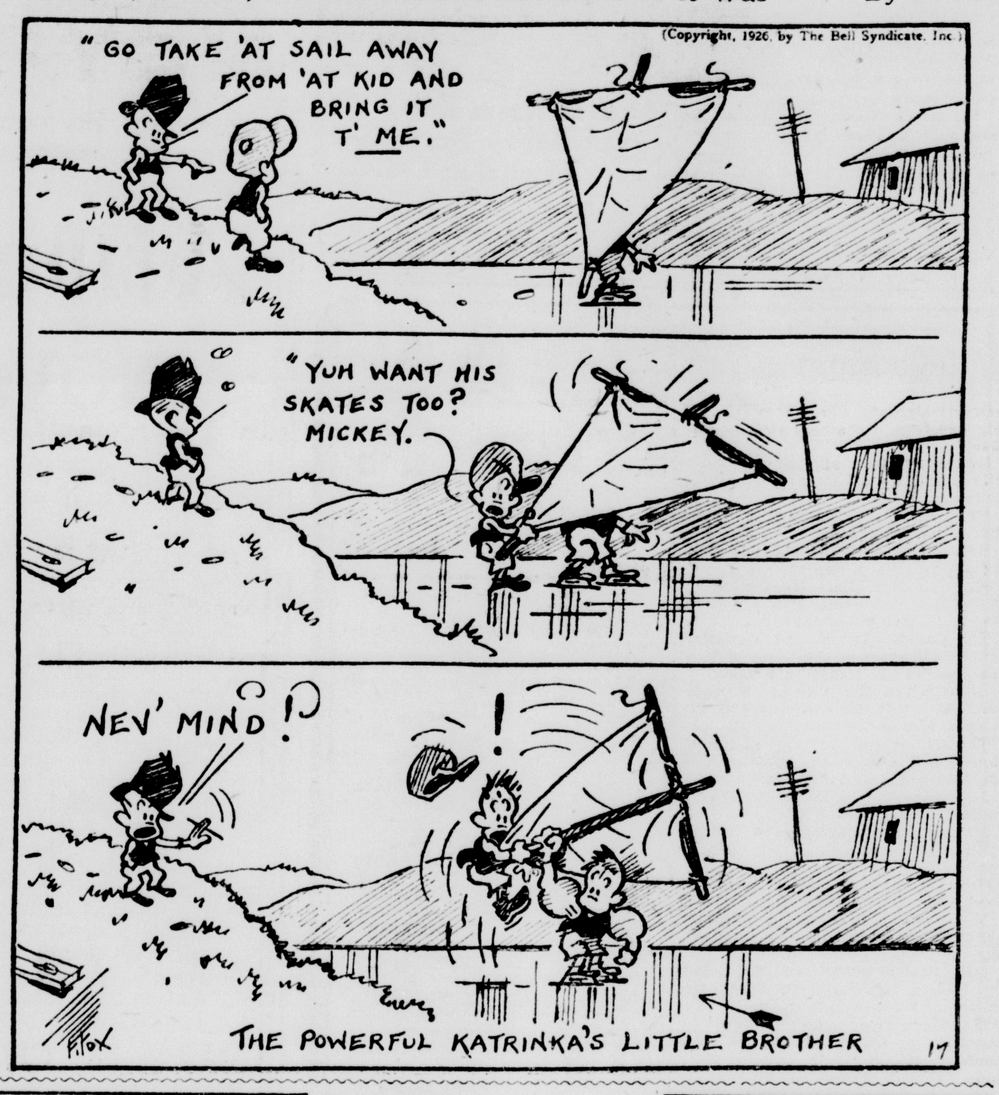

Mussolini and the king together are the absolute power in Italy. And now if Mussolini would only let the king do the talking!

Every time we read a news story about a man arrested for bigamy or trigamy or anything like that, we think some people must be regular gluttons for monthly bills in their mail.

Now that we're going into the world court, no need of hurry to provide business for it. International litigation is no more desirable than any other kind.

Radio needs more radius to cross the Atlantic.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Movie Organs and Organists.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Twenty-one centuries ago there lived in Alexandria, Egypt, a man named Ctesibius. He was a musician, and along with his musical ability he possessed inventive genius. The result was that he gave to the world the instrument known as the organ.

It was a simple affair of three reeds which the performer held upon his knees while he played upon it and his audiences at best were small and not exceptionally appreciative. There is neither record nor tradition to the effect that Ctesibius was regarded as one of the foremost musicians of his day, and it is improbable that he ever made any money out of his talent or the instrument which he invented.

However, Ctesibius started something. That primitive affair of three reeds that cost almost nothing has grown to be an immense instrument om innumerable pipes, keys, pedals, and what not, that reproduces the tone and effect of almost every instrument in a great orchestra, and it costs anywhere from $5,000 to $150,000. And the performer who plays the modern organ thrills thousands in his immediate presence every day and night ,and not infrequently plays to an audience that is limited only by the number of people having radios. The is what the motion pictures have done for organs and organists, for it is through the film theatres that the pipe organ has been developed almost miraculously within the last decade and its players have had their profession expanded for them until it has become one of the most remunerative in the musical world.

Hundreds of motion picture houses throughout the country have installed magnificent organs and afford constant and lucrative employment for from two to three organists for each theatre. The day when the artist who mastered the pipe organ was limited in his opportunities for engagements to the comparatively few churches that boasted such instruments, and an occasional concert hall, is long since past. A good organist is never out of a position and the top-notchers are rapidly acquiring fame and fortune.

A Widely Known Performer.

Washington has one of these performers with a nation-wide reputation in teh person of Otto F. Beck, the musical director of one of the city's largest motion picture theatres, who has done concert work throughout the East and Middle West, and who now broadcasts a program three times a week and has become known to radio fans everywhere. Mr. Beck started his career with the movies in Montreal. Later he played at the Rialto in New York, the first Broadway theater to install a pipe organ, and was also in Atlantic City for a time before coming to Washington.

Although he himself was fortunate enough to have the opportunity to study under one of the greatest organists, the late Houe-Jones, Mr. Beck says that musical talent and technique are only half the requirements for success in his profession. The motion picture organist must possess that gift or art known as showmanship.

"The organist who hopes to make a name for himself must possess this quality," says Br. Beck. "He must realize that he is just as much a performer as the actor on the screen or stage. Me may be skilled and versatile, he may be conscientious, and industrious, but he will never attain real success if he is not a showman. With a different set of methods he must 'sell' the motion picture he is accompanying—put it over to the audience—very much as the ballyhoo man sells the sideshow at a circus."

Everyone remembers the days when movies were accompanied by indifferent musicians who merely made sounds to break the quiet accentuated by the flicker of the films and the shuffle of restless feet. Then producers discovered that a good pianist could play upon the emotions of an audience almost as much as the picture itselif, and they began to require their musicians to do more than play tom-tom stuff for an Indian scene or "Hearts and Flowers' for a bit of pathos. The artist at the piano, thereupon, found it necessary to acquire a repertoire, and to cultivate the imagination that would enable him to use that repertoire in interpreting the rapidly changing scenes and action on the screen.

The music must create the atmosphere for the drama to breathe in. The flat gray figures are there, and must be made to glow, to pulsate, and to sound. Even an amateur would not play a brisk march for a dying mother scene, Mr. Beck points out, but would be known that "hurries' and "agitatos' are not appropriate for a prize tight scene, because mental disturbances are lacking, and that he should play light, brilliant music?.

Experience Also Required.

Experience is another essential to success as a motion picture organist, according to this authority. In fact, he says it is decidedly difficult for an organist to get a job unless he had had experience. Just how aspiring artists can get experience without first getting a job is not so clear to the layman, but perhaps back of this somewhat anomalous requirement of the profession lies the explanation of why the ranks of the organists are not being over-run with recruits.

Most of the well known motion picture organists are former movie and orchestra pianists. Church organists, it is said, rarely break in, and as a rule they do not make good movie organists. They seem to find it hard to develop a diversified repertoire, and do not adapt themselves readliy to the jazz and other light music that are so essential in movie accompaniments.

The movie organist, it should be known, does not always sit and let his fingers wander idly over the keys, playing at random whatever occurs to him as appropriate to the scene on the screen. With each feature film that is to be shown in his theater he gets a cue sheet, which indicates the music which the picture producer thinks should be played from the beginning to the end of film, and frequently he has a per-view of the picture in order that he may see how the cue sheet music does fit in and determine whether or not he should make any changes it it.

As to the financial rewards that may be reaped by the successful organist, the figures that are quoted will be an eye-opener to most patrons of the cinema. Not all the "big money" in the motion picture business goes to the screen stars, directors, and producers, or to the owners of the popular theaters.

An assistant organist in an average city motion picture theater will start at a salary of $60 a week, it is stated. From that up, the sky is the limit. An average good organist who proves that he has showmanship ability finds it comparatively easy to garner from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, and when one gets into the star class and is in demand for concert work he may enjoy an income that rivals that of the President of the United States—$75,000 a year. And these incomes are real, be is averred, and are not the dreams of highly imaginative press agents.

That it is an attractive profession is further attested by the fact that a Washington school eacher makes a weekly trip to New York to take a lesson from one of the great pipe organ artists of that city.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 17.—Night life in Miami and Palm Beach smacks of Broadway. Familiar names stud the Florida heavens in lights—the Kit Kat club, the Del Fay club, Rector's, Club de Montmartre and others. All, like their New York prototypes, have the intimacy of the ash-can.

Visitors are divided into two classes. Those who come for rest and repose and those who come to have their fling. For the latter there are numerous high spots. Intrigues abound. And liquor is just as plentiful for those who want it as in New York. And a little more expensive.

Road houses are in profusion and are no better or worse than those dotting Long Island. The tea hour in the outdoor gardens of the big hotel reveals many familiar faces of those ladies who live lightly along Broadway. They flee from the rigors of a New York winter, poor dears.

Florida is a new and green pasture for press agents who wrap their superlative about real estate and other projects and ship them north to brave the blue pencil. They have made "a huge red ball of fire hanging in the west" of the sun we used to know.

The moon does not come up. It "hangs a slight crescent in the plush velvet night." Press agents become poets. Old first night roues knock their heads against the stars. Doubtful ladies discard sex and gossip weeklies for Byron and Shelley.

We stopped along the roadside last night to "hook" a few grape fruit. After looking furtively about I concealed a few under my coat. Upon my return the owner was there and helped fill the bottom of the car. I thanked him in the guilty fashion of a trapped thief.

What a change! On the last piratical expedition as a boy in Ohio I was going over a rail fence with a juicy watermelon. There was the boom of a shot-gun and the zing of a bacon rind against my anatomy and I ate standing up for several days.

It is considered hot stuff to appear in New York in the middle of February with a heavy tan. Head waiters may even notice you. I merely blister and peel and instead of a sepia tint I whiten. Any dim museum desiring an Albino at current rates will only be required to furnish a little peroxide. Along the beaches are men and women as dark as a mahogany stain. But I suspect they have been here through the summer.

A sign maker's sign on Miami Beach: "I do not talk. I make signs."

From a screened porch I watched a group of darkies raking up a load of dry grass across the roadway. The darkey is attuned to the happy song of life as no other human. At intervals they would stop to sing and drop their rakes to do a few Charleston steps. They laughed as they worked—something I have not seen for many years. The last man I saw laugh at his work was a copy reader in Dayton, O. He was dismissed for upsetting the office morale.

For some reason or other Indiana seems to have the largest representation in Florida. Hoosiers are everywhere—some to stay, others to play. Kin Hubbard, the Abe Martin humorist, is the latest arrival from the corn belt. George Ade is golfing nearby. Ohio seems next in representation judging from auto license plates.

Florida is polite to its visitors. None of the arrogance that is spoiling Europe for visitors exists here. Even hotel clerks are displaying a cordiality that is rare in most busy cities. This spirit will do more for Florida than it perhaps realizes.

CHURCH EVENT PLANNED HERE

Rev. Peter W. Macauley to Observe Anniversary of Pastorate.

Next Sunday the Rev. Peter W. Macaulay and the congregation of the First Presbyterian church Lisbon, will celebrate the seventh anniversary of the pastorate of this minister. During the morning service, the mid-winter communion service will be observed with a reception of new members. At the evening service the pastor will speak on the subject, "Our Church."

The Rev. Mr. McCaulay came to the Presbyterian church of Lisbon, February 1919 from the churches of Florence and Frankfort, Pa., this being his second charge. He succeeded the Rev. John C. Strubel, now pastor of the Presbyterian church at Columbiana. At that time the Lisbon church had an enrollment of 550 members, and was in a flourishing condition, with many active and thriving organizations. In fact, a good and lasting work had been done by those who preceded the present pastor in this church.

During his pastorate more than 300 members have been added to the roll of the church, and the membership now totals 710, the largest in any town in the state with a population of 3,500.

The congregation has more than doubled its gifts to all causes and has placed each year $2,000 in a building fund.

This spring the congregation plans church improvements estimated to cost $60,000, about half of which has been subscribed. A new organ is included in this program.

The Ladies' organization, the Friendship Circle has already subscribed $5,000 toward the organ fund, and the balance will be underwritten by special gifts, since the organ will be dedicated to the mothers of the church, past and present.

The church has a band of 30 pieces, which plays free of charge for any church or patriotic organization in the town. It is supported by the community at large, the church furnishing the room, light and heat one night each week for rehearsal purposes.

The Rev. Macaulay was the first president of the Lisbon Kiwanis club, which office he held for two years. He also is active in the Boy Scout movement.

The church has an auditorium which seats 300 and is filled almost every Sunday morning. The average attendance for the morning service during the last six years has been 289, while the evening service attendance has averaged 150. Ushers count the congregations at every service, and and accurate record of attendance at all church services has been kept.

Only one meeting of Mahoning Presbytery, in which the Lisbon church is located, has the Rev. Macaulay failed to attend. He was elected moderator last year.

He is a graduate of Franklin college and also of the Western Theological seminary. He has been in the ministry 10 years. He is a member of the several branches of the Masonic fraternity in Lisbon, and also of Salem commandery, Knights Templar of Salem.

Decision Is Expected Soon on Location of Lisbon-Negley Road

While the state highway department has not handed down a decision relative to the permanent location of the new Lisbon-Negley-state line intercounty highway, this can be expected within a few weeks, according to Chief Locating Engineer W. C. Fawcett, who spent Tuesday and Wednesday in this county reviewing the 1926 road program as it has been advanced by the county commissioners and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

"It is our understanding that another hearing will be asked on this road, at the suggestion of the Pennsylvania state highway department," Mr. Fawcett announced, "but it is my opinion that the department at Columbus will decide upon the location of this road so far as Columbiana county is concerned within the next few weeks."

There was a public hearing on this road held in Lisbon last fall, with Mr. Fawcett presiding and representing the state highway department. The department at Columbus scheduled several possible routes for this east and west road from Lisbon to the Ohio - Pennsylvania state line, but there was no change sought in the route between Lisbon and Elkton. From Elkton east, however, several possible routes were suggested, and it was upon these routes that discussion followed.

"The Columbiana county road program is being discussed all over the state, I have observed. The plan is so simple that it is being copied by other counties, but Columbiana has the jump on all the rest of the state so far as connecting improved roads is concerned."

Mr. Fawcett was formerly division highway engineer for this district, but since the Columbus department revised the districts of the state he was promoted to chief locating engineer, with headquarters at Columbus. His visit to this county this week was the first in several months. He intended to travel over the route of the new East Liverpool - Youngstown intercounty highway, but the condition of the road prevented the journey with Surveyor Kirk.

Uncle Sam Will No Longer Pry Into "Little Fellows'" Pay

Employers Need Not Report Incomes Below $1,500 for Single and $3,500 for Married Persons.

By FRED J. WALKER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. — Uncle Sam announced today he would no longer pry into the incomes of the "little fellows."

Anticipating passage by congress of the new revenue law, which eliminates all taxes on incomes below $1,500 for single men and $3,500 for married persons, the treasury issued regulations that employers henceforth need not report salaries below these figurges.

The order will cut 4,000,000 people from the surveillance of the internal revenue bureau, it is estimated, and leave only 8,000,000 on whom the treasury has a salary check.

Up to the present every employer in the United States has been required by law to report the incomes of every employe who received more than $1,000 annually. The effect of the rule has been to give the government a double check on the veracity of the taxpayer—through his own return and that of the "boss."

An important decrease in work for both the employer and the government is expected to result from the new regulations.

Regulations Go To Collectors.

The new tax bill provides that returns must be made by "all persons, in whatever capacity acting, including lessees of mortgagers of real or personal property, fiduciaries and employers," where salaries exceed $1,500 for single and $3,500 for married persons.

Those whose employers do not know they are married had better report that fact at once, the treasury advises, because the boss must report all salaries over $1,500 if he does not know the "marital status of the payee."

Among the checks still retained by the treasury, however, are those requiring real estate agents to report payments to landlords, and bank interest payments if the amount exceeded the minimum income figures.

The regulations were forwarded today to all collectors throughout the country.

One of the most important effects to those required to pay income taxes is expected to be a more prompt auditing of returns, minimizing the instances where, years after, demands are made for additional taxes.

SUSPECT FLEES AS COP FIRES

Bullets Fly in Search for Gunman in Wellsville.

The search for the assailant of Antonio Graham, 24, Wellsville Italian, who is in a critical condition in the City hospital with five bullet wounds in his body, continued today throughout Wellsville and adjoining territory. It has been uninterrupted since early Tuesday morning save for several hours last night when police, seeking a suspect in the Italian district, chased him for several blocks and lost him in the darkness.

Thoroughfares leading out of the city have been kept under surveillance since 7 o'clock yesterday morning when Graham was shot down in the street by one of a group of three men on a second story porch.

Authorities last night searched stores, dwellings and other buildings in the vicinity of Twelth and Commerce streets for the suspected gunman. Shortly before 7 o'clock, Patrolman Hurd, standing in an alley near Twelfth street, observed a man run out of a house about a half a block away. Hurd started after him, firing several shots at the fleeing form. The chase led into Eleventh street and toward the hill where the fugitive disappeared.

Anthony Armiento, arrested yesterday by Chief Fultz, is being held on suspicion.

Reports that one or more persons were killed in Wellsville last night were proven groundless by authorities.

DEVIE DEATH INQUIRY ENDS

One Youth Fined $500, Another is Sent to Jail.

Lester Rowley, of East Liverpool, who was arrested by Wellsville authorities following the mysterious death of Charles Devie, Wellsville laborer, on December 21, last, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of furnishing intoxicating liquors, when he appeared before Judge Lodge Riddle in probate court, Lisbon, yesterday, and was fined $500 and costs. He was committed to the county jail until the fine is paid.

William McKinnon, also of East Liverpool, who was arrested along with Rowley, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in connection with the theft of $20 from Devie. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. He has already spent 50 days in jail, being the only one of the four men connected with the case who could not furnish bond. Charges against Ray Carroll, East Liverpool, and Anthony Dash, Wellsville, were dismissed.

The arrests followed the finding of Devie's body in the hallway of the second floor of a Main street building in Wellsville. The four men, police charged, had furnished Devie with the liquor.

The youths were bound over to the common pleas court on charges of murder, but the grand jury at the January term ignored the cases, which were then referred to the probate court.

Secretary Kellogg doubtless will find a way to prevent constant migration of United States citizens to the dives across the border.

Tia Juana's drinking dives and race rack dives are patronized and kept going by people from the United States.

Above the drinking dives the word in big letters is bar, not cantina. If the American father had not taken his wife and daughters to a Tia Juana drinking dive the daughters would have kept out of trouble, the father would not have found it necessary to kill himself and his family.

Prof. Ross, sound thinker, of the University of Wisconsin, has cheer for this troubled world.

It is getting better, he says. A hundred years hence the average man will enjoy bnfits of civilization "now enjoyed only by them ost advanced people."

Religions are less violent in their hates than they used to be. The average length of life is increasing. Child welfare is considered more important than any particular detail in baptism or any squabble about the nature of the trinity.

Council Will Act Tonight on Market House Fund Issue

City council's proposal to transfer the $38,000 balance in the Market house fund to a proposed municipal building fund, will be discussed by Trades and Labor council tonight.

Trades and Labor council fostered the Market house bond issue when it was approved by the electors about 12 years ago.

The proposed "Tag Day" for the benefit of the striking anthracite coal miners, which was to have been conducted here next Saturday, has been cancelled inasmuch as the strike has been settled.

Several shipments of clothing and shoes collected by labor representatives here have already been forwarded to the eastern Pennsylvania districts where the miners have been idle since September 1, last.

War Department Ax Falls Upon Three Air Service Men

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The official ax of the war department fell today upon three army air service officers because of their "lobbying" activities in attempting to influence congress against the administration's air program.

Vatican Campaign Against Immodest Dress is Launched

ROME, Feb. 17.—The pope has started a Lenten campaign against immodest dress. The suggestion has gone forth from the vatican that during Lent sermons should be preached against the short skirts and low necks which women are wearing.

The pope's suggestion was made during a private audience, and it is understood that he urged that the sermons be directed at men as well as women.

The pope is reported to have declared that men are largely responsible for present fashions. He recalled an incident which occurred in Hungary, when a mass meeting was held to protest against women's garb. The pope said that the women answered the protest by stating that they dressed to please men.

The pope's opposition to modern fashions has long been known for the vatican regulations with regard to dress have been made strict and churches have been advised to bar the entry of women who are not deemed to be properly dressed.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Stocks of the public utility companies were the leaders in a moderate advance in prices in the stock market today. Professional selling pressure was confined to a few of the high priced industrials, including Baldwin Locomotive, which declined to a new low for the year at 108¾. The market was sluggish in other sections of the speculative list, with independent oils and a few rails inclined to slightly higher prices.

Consolidated Gas resumed its position at the head of the public utility stocks and reached a record high price of 103, with Brooklyn Union Gas, Standard Gas & Electric and Philadelphia company advanced nearly 2 points.

The balance of the market was comparatively dull and inactive. Motors sold slightly higher, steel and copper stocks were irregular. Call money 4¾ per cent.

FIVE CONVERTS AT REVIVAL

Rev. B. R. Johnson Preaches Sermon on Character

Five persons responded to the invitation at revival services in the First Church of Christ last night after the Rev. B. R. Johnson, the pastor, spoke on "What We Take Along." All persons so far to unite with the church have adults.

In last night's sermon, the pastor said:

"There are two views of life. One teaches that man should eat, drink and be merry, and says to to the soul, "Soul take thine ease, for thou hast much goods laid up for many years." The other view of life is expressed in the word of Jesus, "A man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesseth."

No matter how wealthy you may be, it ought to be remembered that shrouds have no pockets. A man built up a great fortune of more than $200,000,000. One day he died and it was asked upon the street, "How much did he leave?" The reply was, "He left it all." He left it all—houses, barns, gold, jewelry, art. Naked we came into the world and naked we go out.

"Mr. Fish of the International Rotary was recently addressing the Washington, D. C., Rotary club. In the course of his remarks he said: 'You men who compose this club are well to do. Many of you are millionaires. Let me say to you men that you cannot take a single cent with you. Look about you and find places to give your money. Help the needy and use your money while you live for you cannot control it when you are dead.'

"King Tut took most of his gold and possessions with him into his tomb. Floating near the head of his rich and costly casket was a light canoe, suspended from the ceiling. This was for the use of his soul that he may safely pass the river Styx. After three thousand years we dig into the rich tomb and find things just as they were the day of his burial. He had no use for them after death.

"We do not take our pains and troubles with us. Paul was troubled with a thorn in his flesh, but when he entered into rest he left his 'thorn' to smoulder in the grave. How often have we seen the crippled, the sick, the invalid in their suffering, but we do not take our diseases and our pains with us.

"What then do we take? We take a character. Man does not become immortal by any peculiar process of religion. Man is an eternal being, but religion etermines how he shall spend and enjoy eternity. Let him that is filthy be filthy still, let him that is unholy be unholy still, but let him that is holy be holy still and he that is righteous be righteous still. A man starts his soul agoing here, gives it its heavenward or hellward bent. A man goes up before his God with a character and his judgment will be as his work is. "Fame is vapor, popularity takes wings, those who cheer today will curse tomorrow. One thing endures, character."

"If we take a character and a character only with us, let us be of greater concern about its growth and development. You can buy bread from the baker, a suit of clothes from the clothier, a watch from the jeweler, shoes from the shoe store, but show me where you can purchase a character. They are not for sale. You must make that for yourself. A life conforming to and being transformed into the likeness of Christ, will assure you of a character that will stand throughout the eternities."

The subject tonight is "How to Become a Christian."

Federal Decision On Countess Vera's Status Uncertain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. — The status of Vera, the attractive Countess of Cathcart, appeared extremely uncertain today, while harassed officials of the department of labor continued to wrestle with the problem of whether to ship her back to England as an "undesirable" or admit her to the United States.

Bombarded with protests against her exclusion from feminist organizations, and threatened with lengthy litigation to determine their powers of exclusion, the authorities seemed unwilling today to promulgate the final decision which they intimated yesterday was in the nature of a routine performance.

NEWBERN, N. C., Feb. 17. — The Earl of Craven will not preside at the ceremony of unveiling of portrait of his ancestor, an earlier Earl of Craven, who was one of the lord proprietors of North Carolina.

The Colonial Dames of Newbern have decided that the earl's invitation should be withdrawn, in view of the publicity he received as a result of his relations with the Countess of Cathcart.

Fear Flood Stage In Ohio River as Rain is Forecast

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 17. — Heavy rains are expected in western Pennsylvania late tonight and tomorrow, which might cause the rivers to reach a near-flood stage, the U. S. weather bureau warned today.

The forecaster said there is an average of six to eight inches of snow at the headways of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, which would be melted by the rain.

Colder weather will follow the rainstorm, it was said.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Coolidge is suffering from a heavy cold.

Police Ready to Act.

About 10 days ago, Salsberry, according to Mayor Benedum, asking the mayor's permission "to run." He said that "others were getting away with it," the mayor told newspaper men, and that he was entitled to the same consideration. The mayor flatly refused his request.

"If you attempt to 'open up' you will be arrested," the mayor told him. Last Saturday night police declare, was his first attempt to operate a gambling house and a few hours after the game was started, Captain Conley and Patrolman McFarland raided the place, arresting Salsberry and four players. The four players furnished fictitious names, police say.

"There are no open gambling houses on the police docket, if we can prevent it," said the mayor. "We have served due notice on every one and if they are caught they can expect their correct names to be used on police court records, which are open to the newspapers. We will make no attempt to shield any one."

"We will follow out our orders," Chief of Police McDermott said. "There aer no open gambling houses in operation here now and neither will there be any so long as I am at the head of the department."

COUPLE FORGET 21-YEAR FIGHT, SEEK CHILDREN

Wife's Frequent Visits to Honeymoon Flat Are Rewarded.

RENEW ROMANCE

Chicago Story of Marital Quarrel Reads Like Fiction.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—For 21 years, following separation from her husband and the placing of their two children in an orphanage, Mrs. Joseph Wojtalewecz, of 8525 Lumpkin street, Detroit, has made frequent pilgrimages to Chicago, scene of her girlhood and marriage. Each time she has gone to the house to which Wojtalewecz took her as his bride and spent a few minutes gazing at the windows of their honeymoon flat.

Today a man descended the steps of the house and passed her a casual greeting.

"Good morning, stranger," she replied.

At the sound of her voice the man started and looked at her more closely.

"I'm no stranger, he said then, "I'm your husband."

They sat down then and there, found that the differences that had parted them long ago seemed trivial now and began at once a second honeymoon. The only dark spot in it, they say, is that they don't know the whereabouts of their children. Joe, the son, would be 26 now; his sister, Agnes, 24.

"East Liverpool is the metropolis of Columbiana county, which has given to the country and the world such citizens as Senator Marcus A. Hanna, a near president and the maker of presidents; the parents of William McKinley, who were long residents of it; John H. Clarke, who succeeded Charles Evans Hughes on the supreme bench; many members of the famous 'Fighting' McCooks; Clement L. Vallandingham, Harvey J. Firestone and Stephen G. Porter, Pittsburgh congressman and long chairman of the house committee of foreign affairs, whose joint resolution with the senate committee of foreign relations finally brought about two years after its close, a formal peace with Germany and Austria following the World war.

"No less renowned have been the city's contributions to the world of sport, particularly the great national game. To the St. Louis Browns of the eighties it gave Curt Welch, the greatest outfielder of his day. In 'Scoops' Carey, the Pittsburgh world champions captain perhaps received his diamond cognomen, for the famed Baltimore Orioles had a player many critics held to be the best fielding initial bagman of all time. Washington and Detroit, the latter he was to have managed, had in Win Mercer a pitcher second to none for many years. Alf Shaw as catcher, Bill Mundy as first baseman and John Godwin as third baseman of the Boston Americans, did yeoman service in their various positions; Bill Powell, than whom there was no greater basketball player at center, was a sterling member of the pitching staff of the Pirate world champions, who saw later service with Chicago and Cincinnati; while 'Hi' Myers, gardener de luxe, made permanent fame as swatsman and fielder for the Brooklyn and St. Louis Nationals.

"East Liverpool's scenic beauty is ever arresting; its inhabitants are law-abiding as is attested by the utilization of perhaps the smallest police force of any town its size anywhere. Theirs for the most is the acknowledgement of the truism: 'Y gwir yn erbyn y byd.' 'For them truth against the world' in the varied years of its existence has given the city a place in the sun which by now in commercial development, industrial activity, cultural acquirement and religious assimilation has made of it a community of superlative appeal in the richness of its past, the attainment of its present and the outlook of its future."

PLAN TO WIDEN SHARP TURN

City May Cut Sidewalk at Center and Twelfth Streets.

Characterizing the peculiar intersection at Twelfth and Center street as "dangerous," solons last night broached a plan for the widening of the Center street drive at the point by elimination of sections of sidewalks on both sides of the street and the removal of a telephone pole.

A plan showing in detail the proposed improvement, drawn up by Engineer McGill, was exhibited at the council table.

Inasmuch as George Patterson, owner of a section of property at the intersection, is out of town, council considered it advisable to withhold action until his return.

Residents and taxpayers of Fifth street, in a petition, asked for the widening of Fifth street from Commerce to Washington, asserting that in its present condition, the thoroughfare is objectionable to residents of the vicinity in particular and traffic in general. The petition suggested the purchase of property from Frank O'Hara for the widening of the street.

Superintendent G. W. Willis, of the street car company, in a communication to Councilman Nicholson, read to council, pointed out that the company does not attempt to turn cars at the Seventeenth street cross-over, except in cases of absolute emergency as in floods, fires and breakdowns on the right of way. It is done then, Willis said, to maintain the regular schedule spaces for the convenience of the public at large instead of only a few.

Council authorized Service Director Grafton to sell copper, wire, scrap, lumber, barrels and kegs in the possession of the city.

A resolution authorizing the auditor to pay $38 to Thomas Jackson, former garbage collector, was approved by council. Jackson returned property sold by the last administration and in a receent replevning suit was authorized to collect the money he had paid for it.

Auditor Eckfeld submitted the following fund report: General, $1,940; safety, $1,911.55; health, $426.70; service, $3,280.93; water, $216.09; cemetery, $2,038.17; library, $748.29; special water, $30,746.51; auto license, $1,357.42; gasoline tax, $2,664; cemetery trust, $410.52; Wells avenue and Lisbon street, $524.45; sinking fund, $22,353.86.

MAY GET CONTRACT WITH WORKHOUSE

Cashless law violators found guilty before municipal authorities in the future will work their fine out at the Canton workhouse if plans started by solons last night materialize.

A contract with the Stark county institution was urged by President Clyde Baker, who broached the subject, and who asserted that, in his opinion, a workhouse term would serve as an effective weapon against potential offenders.

The ordinance committee was authorized to bring in a resolution for action at the next meeting of the lawmakers.

Under the terms of the contract under which the Canton institution operates with municipalities, the city is required to pay $1 daily for each person sent there. In addition, the city pays the person's transportation to and from the workhouse and provides funds for burial expenses in the event of death.

Attorney W. F. Lones, of the law firm of Lones, Hill & Davidson, of East Liverpool, will assist the city in any litigation or controversy that may arise between the municipality and A. W. Hinaman, contractor, who built the reservoir in Little Yellow creek.

Council last night authorized City Solicitor S. C. Luccock to employ the services of Attorney Lones and to fix his fee, subject to the approval of the solons.

The city and Contractor Hinaman have been negotiating for several weeks over plans for the adjustment of the contract existing. Hinaman recently turned down a plan of settlement suggested by the city and in turn suggested arbitration.

WILL INCREASE STREET LIGHTS

Locations are Outlined in Report to Council.

Thirty or more lights, situated at points most needed throughout the city, will be added to the present street illumination system, according to plans launched last night by city council.

Recommendation for the lights was made by W. B. Nicholson, chairman of the street and light committee, as the result of an inspection of conditions in every district in the city.

The report advises the placing of new lights, the repair of lights already located and the transfer of others from the side to the center of whatever street they might be on.

Lights will be placed at the intersections of Tenth and Center streets and at Ninth and Center streets. In addition, a red reflector will be erected in front of the Central school building in Ninth street, directly at the end of Center, to warn motorists of the square turn at this point.

Here is the committee's recommendations:

East End bridge—Move to street center.

Highland avenue hill—Light at foot of hill.

Broadway at Fifth—Place arc light.

Commerce between Fifth and Sixth—Light the one there.

Commerce between Seventh and Eighth—Paid by individuals, to be taken care of by city.

The report also recommends placing of lights at Diamond and Wood, Riverside and Sixth, Danbury and Nineteenth and Riverside between Fourth and Fifth.

The committee's report was placed on file. It is likely that the solons will confer with the Ohio Power contract with a view to establishing a new contract in connection with the installation of the additional lights.

Fine Levied 18 Years Ago Threatens Man's Home

Des Moines, Iowa.—Facing deprivation of his home to satisfy the state's demands for payment of a fine imposed 18 years ago, Charles Eddy, seventy-year-old painter, of Belle Plaine, has appealed to Governor Hammill.

The property has been ordered sold to satisfy the judgment of the Benton county court, imposed September 25, 1907, for a state liquor law violation. Eddy pleaded guilty and was fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail.

He served the jail sentence, but was unable to pay the fine. The state for 18 years left Eddy unmolested. While the fine was growing to $725 through increase of interest, he saved his money and bought a home.

Eddy's attempt to obtain a loan on his property brought to light the old judgment against him.

Concrete pavement is a good investment—not an expense

When Sandusky Started Laying Concrete Street Pavement

How many street pavements can you think of that were put down in 1914 and are still in excellent condition?

J. M. Eakin, City Engineer of Sandusky, can tell you of some. And they are paved with concrete. He says:

"Our first concrete pavement was constructed in 1914—on Scott and Fifth Streets. The results have been so satisfactory that we have 115,000 square yards of concrete paved streets today. All of this is highly satisfactory, to property owners and to the city.

"We have had practically no maintenance on our concrete streets. That is why we build more each year. We have just completed nine more streets."

In addition, concrete paving has made all Sandusky more attractive, by its smart, clean appearance. It has reduced traffic mishaps because of its rut-free, skid-proof surface.

Twelve years of these benefits! And practically no maintenance.

How about your city?

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

TOURING WORLD WITH CORN CROP

"Corn," in Other Countries Don't Mean What It Does in America.

Washington.—Because the three-billion-bushel corn crop in the United States for the past season apparently cannot be marketed satisfactorily either in the sack or "on the hoof," corn holds the center of the economic—and even the political—stage in America just now.

"Just what is corn?" asks a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"The youngest farm lad will be sure he can answer that question fully," continues the bulletin. "But can he?

"Tell an Englishman that a bumper corn crop is causing our farmers economic distress and he will not think of fields of great, tall stalks and big golden ears, but of waving wheat and huge elevators. You must speak of 'maize' if you would have him understand.

"Talk to a South African of either corn or maize and he will fail to get your meaning. He grows the same plant with its grain-studded cobs, but it is 'mealies' to him. So around the world you will find what we know as 'corn' growing under half a dozen aliases, while in other English-speaking countries 'corn' means something entirely different.

"'Corn' is an English word of long standing. Of old, it meant any small, hard, granule. 'Pepper-corn' is one survival, while 'corned' beef is, surprisingly, another. 'Corned' meat gets its name from the fact that it was first prepared with coarse grains of salt—'salt-corns.' Even 'acorn' has had a misspelling legitimatized because early Englishmen naturally mistook its derivation to be from 'oak-corn.'

Corn and Lawn Grasses Are Cousins.

"From its very general meaning 'corn,' used alone, came in time to mean the small grains of the cereal plants such as barley, wheat, oats, etc.; and finally, in England and some of the colonies it usually meant wheat. 'Corn' meant the cereals in general at the time of the colonization of America, and since 'Indian corn,' was the predominant grain crop in the New world, it soon monopolized the name.

"To those who have not dabbled in botany the classification of corn, often reaching a height of 20 feet, as a grass, is a bit surprising. It is, however, just as truly a grass as the tiny plants that carpet golf greens, the succulent foliage that covers pastures, the cereals, wheat, oats, rice, and the like, or its closer kinsmen, the sugar-canes and the sorghums. Corn is often called a 'giant grass.' It is rather a conservative giant, though, beside its cousin, bamboo, 'the grass that grows into the sky.' Bamboo attains a height of 125 feet and more.

"The confusion in regard to corn is increased by the existence of still other 'corns.' 'Kaffir corn,' also a grass, and a cousin of Indian corn, is one of the grain sorghums. It carries its round seeds not on ears but in an upright plume at the very top of its stalk where Indian corn has its grainless tassel. It did not reach America until after 1880.

"Jerusalem corn is somewhat like kaffir corn and the other grain sorghums (milo, maize, durra, etc.) but its seed-clusters hang downward, the ends of the stalk being bent over. It, too, is an immigrant.

"Broom corn is the queerest of the cousins that bear commonly the corn surname, and incidentally it is the oldest of the nonsugar-bearing sorghums to be cultivated in the United States. Brooms were made commercially in America from locally grown broom-corn as early as 1798, and the plant was grown for home broom making some years earlier. The seeds are of little value in broom-corn, but the stems of the seed-clusters, are admirably suited to use in making brooms.

Corn That Turns Inside Out.

"Popcorn is merely a sort of dwarf Indian corn bearing small ears studded with small, hard kernels. The latter have the property, however, of puffing or popping when heat is applied. The hard outer shell bursts and the grain puffs out so violently that it turns itself inside out. Millions of dollars in nickels and dimes have changed hands on American street corners because of the contortions of popcorn grains.

"It is generally accepted that America gave Indian corn to the world. A few students have supported the theory that the plant came from Asia to Europe and from America to Europe at about the same time, soon after the discovery of America. There are no generally accepted records of corn's existence in Asia before the beginning of the Sixteenth century, however, while it is known to have been cultivated in America for many centuries before the arrival of Columbus.

"Since the Fifteenth century corn has spread all over the world and is now an important crop in parts of all the continents as well as in New Zealand and other islands. It is one of the most important food grains in portions of Portugal, Spain, France, Italy, Yugo-Slavia, and Rumania. In Burma the corn grain is a sort of by-product. The type grown there has fine, silky shucks or husks inclosing the ear. This is the highly-prized product. It is used to wrap the 'whackin white cheroots' smoked by Burmese men, women and babies."

WILD DUCKS HIDE OUT ON HUNTERS

Can't Be Found When They Are Sought in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark.—Southeastern Arkansas, for many years a paradise of duck hunters, this season produced poor hunting despite the fact that there are millions of the green-headed water fowl.

Whether the weather is responsible for conditions, or the ducks have gained through experience of aged birds passed on to the younger generations, sportsmen are unable to tell. Officials, however, blame the weather.

For ducks there are, literally by the million, but not where the hunters are prone to hunt. They are in the less frequented lakes and the open rivers of the rice country.

Early in the season ducks were so plentiful hunters found no trouble filling their legal bags, and rice farmers appealed to the state game and fish commission and the migratory bird authorities that the bag limit be lifted.

The hunters had hardly arrived when the water fowl disappeared. The weather had turned warm again. Then came word that duck hunting in Illinois, Wisconsin and other northern states was better than in years. The hunters put away their guns and prepared to wait for colder weather.

Cold weather came. The ducks returned. Hunters again put out for the rice fields. But when they arrived the ducks had disappeared except in small numbers.

Guy H. Amsler, secretary of the Arkansas game and fish commission, made a trip to the district to look over the situation. In several of the remote lakes he found four millions of the birds. Mr. Amsler said.

The official attributed the movements of the birds to the fact that when the weather turned cold enough to drive the water fowl out of the more northern states, it struck southern Arkansas hard enough to freeze the shallower waters in and about the rice fields. This, he said, had driven them into the open waters of the rivers and lakes.

Our Mission Is to Serve; That's Why We Are Here!

This town is our home; we live, eat and sleep here. This statement sounds a bit ridiculous but we make it to enlighten anybody who may be thinking to the contrary.

We spend a large share of our income here. We do not spend it all for we try to be thrifty and put some aside for a rainy day.

True, we send much money away but in this respect we are no different than other stores. Every store spends by far the largest part of their income out of town for goods they offer for sale. It couldn't be otherwise unless everything you wear and use in your home was made here.

Should Have Punched Ball, Says Net Expert

Mrs. Molla Mallory Who Once Caused Suzanne to Resign Under Fire, Asserts Miss Wills Employed Wrong Tactics Against French Star; "Hit 'em First and Hard," Her Advice.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Helen Wills tried to do a buck-and-wing with a competitive Pavlowa when she should have forgotten her footwork and remembered to punch the lady in the nose, so to speak.

This, somewhat stripped of its elegance, was the essence of a post mortem on the Wills-Lenglen meeting delivered today by one who has lost to both of them, to wit, Mrs. Molla Mallory. To receipt the bill in full, it may also be noted that she has won from both but never went so far as to make it habitual.

But she once caused Suzanne to "resign" under fire and, therefore, can speak without embarrassment. She did.

Her message was to the general effect that Helen Wills will continue to lose to Suzanne but will do so by ever-diminishing totals, unless she alters her tactics, pronto. It seems that there is only way to defeat the lady of France and Helen tried to use all the others.

The method in question calls for nothing more elaborate than the password to pier six: Hit 'em first and explain afterward, if at all.

"Helen had nobody to advise her or she wouldn't have tried to fence with Mlle. Lenglen," Mrs. Mallory said. "She would have started slugging with the first exchange and never stopped. Bill Tilden came to me in 1921 and told me what to do when I first faced the French girl. He told me to knock the cover off the ball. I did it. The result was that I won the first set and Mlle. Lenglen defaulted after I took the first two points in the second set.

"It seems to me that Helen had a better chance to win on the hard courts of southern France than she will have later at Wimbledon. Those helped her footwork and, in addition, they have much in common with her California courts.

"She had her big chance Tuesday and might have made the most of it had she been better advised. Hard hitting is the only system by which you can hope to take the play away from Mlle. Lenglen. Helen is noted for her hard hitting. It is suicidal for a slugger to try to spar with an expert boxer."

Georges Carpentier, sitting nearby, was moved to polite thought somewhat melancholy agreement. His mind seemed elsewhere, which was approximately the place he would have preferred to have had his chin on that memorable July 2, 1921.

"You might say that I was like Helen and Dempsey like Suzanne," he observed. "It was my hope to feint and box with Dempsey. But he came crowding in upon me, swinging a lot of punishing punches, and boxing was out of the question. I don't pose as an authority on tennis, but I think the principle of the thing is much the same."

Honor Champion Soccer Squads

Press League Winners to Banquet Saturday Night.

Homer Laughlin Soccer players champions of the Northwest division of the Pittsburgh Press circuit, are whetting their appetites for the sixteenth annual soccer banquet and presentation of trophies under auspices of the Pittsburgh Press and the West Penn Football association, on Saturday evening in the General Forbes hotel, Pittsburgh.

Representatives of the five championship clubs will be special guests. The clubs include the Homer Laughlins, of the northwest division; Scandia, of the Main Line league; Pittsburgh Celtics, champions of the Central Junior league; Homestead, champs of the Sons of St. George loop; Altoona, champions of the Blair-Cambria circuit.

Trophies will be given outright to the title clubs, each of which will also receive a handsome figure as well as 15 gold medals.

Majority of the Laughlin players expect to leave here Saturday on the 11:40 a. m., train and will take in the Heidelberg-Turtle Creek game.

"HAIR-GROOM"

Keeps Hair Combed, Glossy, Well-Groomed all Day

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which costs only a few cents a jar at any drug store. Millions use it because it gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to the hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy, lustrous hair.

FRANCE PAYS WILLS TRIBUTE

Lenglen's Defeat is Now Conceivable Says Newspaper.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—While hailing the victory of Suzanne Lenglen as a national triumph the press today paid tribute to Helen Wills as a worthy adversary and admitted that the American girl had set the pace practically throughout the match.

Only one newspaper, however, The Echo Des Sports, conceded that the match proved that Lenglen was no longer in a class by herself.

"Hitherto," this paper said, "it was believed that no rival could menace Suzanne's reign as queen of tennis. And without wishing to belittle her, the match made it plain that the defeat of Lenglen can now be considered as a conceivable, normal happening. Far from deciding the question of the relative superiority of the two contestants yesterday's play complicated it."

BEAULIEU, France, Feb. 17—Showing no effects of the strain of her two terrific matches with Suzanne Lenglen yesterday, Helen Wills came to Beaulieu this morning to take part in the Bristol hotel tournament.

The American champion will play Miss Hamerton at 1:30 this afternoon and an hour later she will meet Miss Wright.

"Naturally, I will continue playing," Helen said in response to a question. "I see no reason why I shouldn't go on. I shall play in all Riviera tournaments because I like to play. Senorita Alvarez, the famous Spanish player, is entered in the Monte Carlo tournament next week and I'm extremely anxious to play her."

Steubenville Quint Billed Here Friday

Local Boys' and Girls Teams in Action Against Jefferson County Squads; Closely Fought Contest Between Cartledge and Lorah Fives Anticipated.

Steubenville on Friday night and Chester on the following night provide the basketball assignment this weekend for Coach Lorah's Blue and White passers.

Still feeling the effects of the double drubbing at New Philadelphia and Dover last week, although undaunted, the locals are working strenuously this week with a victory over the Jefferson county combine as their objective.

Cartledge at Steubenville is directing a fast, powerful squad which undoubtedly will provide the Potters with as much opposition as either New Philly or Dover, but the team is not invincible, as indicated by a setback or two it has taken during the current season.

Both the boys' and the girls' teams will be in action in the Steubenville meeting.

Chester cagers, who cross the river on Saturday night for their engagement with the Lorah passers, have worked hard this season to win, but have failed thus far of capturing a single tilt. They have the spirit and the fight but, apparently, lack marksmanship, and their scoring, consequently, suffers.

LENGLEN RESTS AFTER TRIUMPH

But Wills Plunges Into More Strenuous Play.

By Frederick K. Abbott.

BEAULIEU, France, Feb. 17.—Mlle. Lenglen, the victor, rests at her home in Nice today, while Helen Wills, the vanquished, plunges into more strenuous play, preparing for their next meeting.

The next meeting is still indefinite, dependent upon the vagaries of the temperamental, and sadly worn, Suzanne.

If the play is made according to the present writing on the books, Suzanne must again face the dogged and determined Helen across the nets during the week of March 8, at Nice.

Suzanne has announced that she does not intend to play in singles again until the Nice tournament, and furthermore she doesn't apparently care much whether she meets Miss Wills again for a long time.

"I will play in the singles at Nice, and Helen may enter," said Suzanne laconically when asked when she expected to give the California girl an opportunity at revenge.

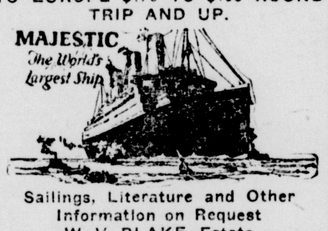

"I intend to keep right on playing," said Miss Wills, determined to play in every possible tournament, and to pass up no opportunity at meeting Suzanne, or any other star the Riviera may attract.

ACMES FACING HARD BATTLE

Play Rochester Quint at Odd Fellows Tonight.

The Acme basketball team will tackle a tough foe tonight in the Rochester Independents, an outfit consisting of western Pennsylvania court stars. The clash is slated for the Odd Fellows' court, starting at 8 o'clock.

The main tilt will be preceded by a girls' game between a local combine and a sextet of Freeport girls.

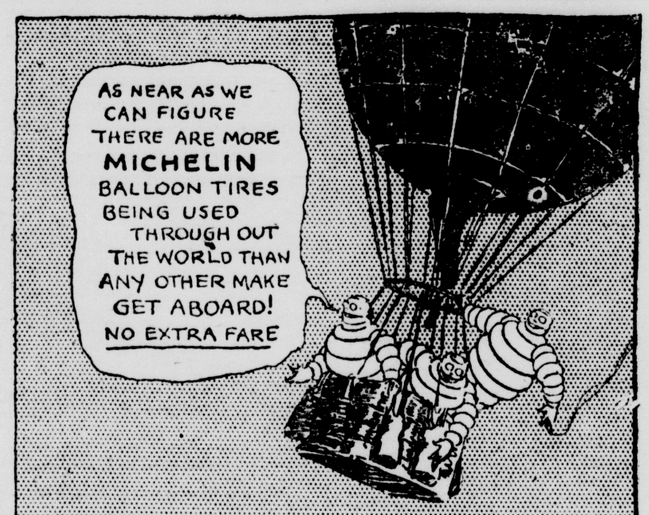

Forward Martin of the Independents established a reputation as a member of the Rochester Wizards for three years. Jeffries, his running mate, has achieved fame as a member of the Beaver Falls Basketball club and no little recognition as a Beaver court performer. Pearson, reserve forward, was a member of the Marine aviation team of San Diego, Cal., last year.

The pivot post is held down by Shaw, member of the Duquesne five last year, runners-up in the Beaver county industrial league.

Hall, Dean and Lawrence are the guards. Dean is also a member of the Peerless club of Beaver Falls while Lawrence has been performing with the Rochester Wizards and in the church league.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By Norman E. Brown

Recent developments in national swimming championships remind us a great deal of many of the old "IF" stories which have served as alibis for sports participants for many generations. In this particular instance the stupidity of promoters and officials are as much to blame as anything, however.

Aquatic fans will recall that the word was flashed from St. Augustine, Fla., and muchly heralded, that two new world's records had been established, one by Agnes Geraghty in the 200 yard breast stroke and the other by Martha Norelius in the 250 yard free style.

Now come the "glad" tidings that these records have been disallowed by the A. A. U. because upon being measured it was found that the pool was three inches short of standard measurements.

Write your own comment.

Residents of Riverview, Ky., just across the river from Ironton, O., assert that the braying of a mule is causing local radio interference. We heard that braying the other night on our radio, too, but we thought it was one of those wrestlers posting another one of those phoney $5,000 challenges.

Seldom in the field of sports does one find two noted athletes in different branches, being pursued, beset or harassed by opponents bearing the same name and yet it is happens at the present time. If you think we're spoofing, there's Harry Wills, the black heavyweight, pursuing our own Jack Dempsey, and there's the dainty Californian, Helen Wills pursuing Mlle. Lenglen. To paraphrase an old saying, "Where there's a Wills, there's always a disturbance."

We read a headline on a baseball story recently which said "Psychology wins a Lot of Games." That surprised us greatly for we always thought that a lot of good, long, clean hits which the fielders failed to field were the greatest factors in game winning.

Racing associations around the country are having a lot of fun these days naming their stake events. For instance there's The Rainy Day Stake and The Home Brew Stake at Cleveland, as well as the Wet Weather Stake at Syracuse. What track will be the first to name one The Volstead Stake?

Russell Pence, righthanded rookie pitcher of the Chicago Cubs, has the doubtful honor of being the first holdout of the season and the first in the history of the National league team in the windy city. We do not know how many pence Pence held out for, but we presume it was aplenty.

Willie MacFarlane, national open golf champion will defend his title in the national open tournament to be staged at the Scioto Country club course at Columbus, next July. Mac is at present acting as golf pro at the Hollywood, Fla., Country club. Can you pick, at this date, some one to trim him? Neither can we.

It is said that George Herman Ruth, sometimes spoken of as the "Big Bambino of Baseball" is doing his preliminary training in Florida, for the 1926 race, on the golf links, the beach and the dog track. This sounds better to us than training on gin and gyrations, not that we have anything against either of the latter, but they are not conductive to good ball playing.

Tea Drinking Rapped By Irish Surgeon In Health Address

BELFAST.—That tea-drinking is "ruining" people—and that silk stockings are to blame for some present-day illnesses—is the opinion of Dr. O'Hagan, surgeon of Louth County Infirmary, given when a special committee discussed the treatment of consumption.

"What is required," he said, "is a health campaign to get people to feed themselves properly. I advise people to drink less tea and get back to the days of stitabout and buttermilk.

"There would be less consumption if people took this advice," he added.

FINDS BIGGEST VOLCANO WAS ACTIVE IN VIRGINIA

Dr. W. A. Nelson, State Geologist, Discovers Ash Which Was Deposited Millions of Years Ago.

Charlottesville, Va.—Discovery of a layer of volcanic ash ten feet deep in Rockbridge county, four miles south of Lexington, has just been announced by the finder, Dr. Wilbur A. Nelson, state geologist and head of the school of geology of the University of Virginia.

This layer, says Doctor Nelson, was probably ejected by one of the oldest known volcanoes in America. Its presence coincides with similar deposits of ash discovered by Doctor Nelson several years ago in Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee.

Virginia's ash deposit is the thickest so far found, says the state geologist. It shows that in early geological times, millions of years ago, the mountains just to the west of Virginia, now buried under the Cumberland plateau, were a region of great volcanic activity.

From the measurement of the area over which the ash fell and was deposited in the ancient sea around this island volcano, it has been estimated that more than 60 cubic miles of ash was ejected. In addition to thick deposits in the southern states, several inches have been found as far northwest as Minnesota and as far north as Pennsylvania. This would indicate that this volcano, located probably in eastern Kentucky, near the West Virginia line, was one of the greatest of which knowledge exists.

Volcanic eruptions considered enormous during modern times, such as Kraktoi and Katmai, only ejected five or ten cubic miles of material, which scattered over 1,000 miles, Doctor Nelson added. These recent eruptions are considered of great magnitude, but they dwarf into insignificance when compared with this event which occurred during the Ordovician period.

Give 150-Year-Old Turk Job to Save His Life

Constantinople. — The famous old Turk, Zaro Agha, who claims that his one hundred and fifty years make him the oldest man in the world, is to be honored, and incidentally, saved from starvation by the city of Constantinople.

The aged man has been unable for the last year or two to carry on his life-long trade as hamal. The hamals are the human delivery wagons of Turkey, and it is a common thing to see one of these porters, bent nearly double, plodding steadily along the street with a piano or bedstead or dining-room table on his back. As Zaro Agha has grown somewhat too old for this herculean occupation, he has found it difficult to supply himself with the bread and cheese of existence, for the pension which he receives from the Association of Hamals is anything but large.

Now the prefect of Constantinople, Eminebey, has appointed Zaro as doorkeeper for the municipal council. Therefore he will now have not only bread and cheese aplenty, a uniform and a warm place to sit in, but a feeling of importance befitting the dignity of his years.

Make Strong Linen of Human Hair Mixture

Amiens, France.—The manufacture of strong linen for the filtering of extra heavy oils and other fats is the latest use found for milady's beautiful hair.

The supply of women's hair being totally inadequate to meet the demand of the manufacturers, it is now being mixed with hair obtained in China from the fast disappearing queues of modern celestials.

The carding, spinning and weaving of human hair for the manufacture of cloth is an industry just established here, but which has made great strides. The cloth or linen obtained from very close weaving of hair is virtually untearable and is in demand by refining plants and distillers of heavy oils, which require that the cloth used as filters be subjected to a very high tension.

Several washing operations are required before the hair can be sent to the carding room. Thereafter it is handled just like wool and woven on special looms.

FIND FOOTPRINTS 25 MILLION YEARS OLD

Marks Made by Animals Long Since Extinct.

Washington.—Footprints made in the sand approximately twenty-five million years ago by animals long since extinct have been discovered in the Grand canyon of the Colorado river. They have been preserved indelibly in the record of the rocks, in this instance the Coconino sandstone of Arizona.

Dr. Charles W. Gilmore, the paleontologist who uncovered many of these ancient tracks, has brought specimens of them to Washington. He describes the unique exhibit for the first time in a bulletin of the Smithsonian institution.

Hard to Grasp.

The human mind, according to Doctor Gilmore, can scarcely grasp the idea of the vast age of animal life on the earth that is presented by these strange footprints. Some tracks of extinct quadrupeds were first discovered in the Grand canyon in 1915 by Prof. Charles Schuchert. In 1924 Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie institution of Washington conceived the idea of having a permanent exhibit of the footprints in place, just as they were found, so that the tourist that visits the Grand canyon may see them.

Such an exhibit has been prepared on the Hermit trail by Doctor Gilmore, in addition to the specimens brought to Washington. The tracks include those of new and unknown species that lived in the wet sand of this region when the earth was much younger. The Smithsonian institution hopes later to do similar work in other localities and to take steps to preserve such natural phenomena.

"The great antiquity of these footprints, which occur from 900 to 1,080 feet below the level of the present rim of the canyon," says Doctor Gilmore, "is clearly demonstrated at this locality.

Beyond Comprehension.

It is obvious that since the day when those animals impressed their feet in what at that time was moist sand, more than 1,000 feet of rock-making materials were piled up in successive strata above them, and this does not take into account many hundreds of feet more that have been eroded off from the present top of the canyon wall.

"The great length of time required for the cutting away or erosion of the rock to form the deep canyon, and the even longer time necessary for the original deposition of this great mass of stone is, when translated into terms of years, if that were possible, so stupendous as to be almost beyond human comprehension.

"It is hoped that the object lesson so graphically taught by this unique exhibit may serve as an example to stimulate the preparation and preservation of other natural phenomena to be found in our government controlled parks, monuments and reservations."

Twenty leading British companies have a combined capital of $955,000,000 and 509,485 stock holders.

Gives You confidence

HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even one little pimple or blackhead will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!

But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.

If you want the kind of skin that captivates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you feel.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you.

Get S. S. S. from any drug store. And get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

Q. How many people take automobile trips in one year? N. J.

A. The American Automobile Association says that a survey of tourist camp data leads to the conclusion that 12,000,000 people in 3,000,000 cars took trips averaging 33 days last year.

Q. How was the building of the Eiffel Tower financed? J. B.

A. The French government contributed $292,000 of the $1,000,000 or more that it cost. Alexandre Gustave Eiffel, the engineer who built it, supplied the remainder of the money, trusting for reimbursement to the collection of a fee for ascending the tower. His interest in the tower was to terminate in 20 years, at which time—1909—the government took it over. During the first year that it was open to the public the fees collected nearly paid the cost of the building.

Q. In what sort of places are diamonds found? At what depth? W. L. C.

A. Diamonds are not found in any special locations. On the American continent, with the exception of Arkansas, the diamond has never been found in the actual matrix in which it was formed but in gravels and earth which are the result of the breaking down of rock peridotite. This rock decrepitates very rapidly; cracks and alters into a greenish soapstone-like substance and then actually into a yellowish green powder. The mines located in South Africa, or volcanic pipes as they really are, are like yellow snuff on the surface, then it gradually turns into a yellow rock, then into a bluish grain to a depth of 1,000 feet, then becomes a black rock going down to a depth of 3,500 feet. Diamonds are usually found in octahedron shapes or some modification of the same.

Q. What became of Alexander Smith who founded a colony on Pitcairn Island? H. W.

A. Under the assumed name of John Adams, Smith and either other mutineers of the English ship Bounty, together with some men and women from Tahiti founded a colony on Pitcairn Island about 1788. Adams was its head. He established worship and a school of a sort; and lived and died in peace, leaving a prosperous and religious people

Q. Is the commercial cold storage of Florida grapefruit practicable? L. H.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that it is. Recent tests show that cold storage improves the flavor of the product, breaking down the bitter principle, and decreases the acid content, but does not materially change the sugar content. There is a tendency of the fruit in storage to pit, that is to become covered with sunken brown spots, after being held more than six weeks.

Q. What language is the language of the Roumanian royal family? W. D.

A. Charles Upson Clark in "Greater Roumania" says that it is English.

Q. How high is the tide at Bangor and Augusta, Maine? C. F. P.

A. The Coast and Geodetic Survey says that the mean range of the tide at Bangor, Maine, is 13.1 feet, and the spring range, that is, the range at the time of new and full moon is 14.9 feet. Augusta, Maine, the mean range is 4.1 feet and the spring range is 4.6 feet.

Q. Has the government a herd of reindeer in Alaska? J. L. D.

A. The Biological Survey says that the government does not maintain reindeer herds in Alaska at the present time, although a project was carried through by the U. S. Bureau of Education several years ago. At this time the natives are raising reindeer, and this industry has proved to be of value in that part of the country. In July, 1920, under the authorization of an appropriation by Congress the Biological Survey established a reindeer experiment station at Unalakleet.

Q. How much blood is there in the human body? D. T.

A. There are from 9 to 11 quarts of blood in the body of an average man about 25 years of age.

Gas mantles made in Germany are being sold in England at fifty cents a dozen, wholesale, new machinery making it possible for 750 hands to turn out as many mantles as 1,000 formerly did.

Although cigarette manufacturing is one of Egypt's greatest industries, no cigarette paper is made in that country, and 1,250,000 pounds were imported last year.

Making of solid silverware in China, where it has been an industry for centuries, is giving way to imported plate and to the introduction of the electro plating process into that country.

We Fight Colds

We paid $1,000,000 for this way

Many years ago a great laboratory started to develop a way to fight colds. They worked 25 years to perfect it. All the best that science found was embodied in it.

We have lately paid $1,000,000 for that formula and product. Just because millions have proved it the greatest remedy for colds. And millions more will use it when they know.

It stops a cold in one day. It stops the spread of a cold. It ends the dread of a cold. In a lifetime of investigation we have found nothing more efficient.

The name is Hills' Cascara-Bromide-Quinine. It combines all the best that men know for a cold.

The best way is to have it on hand when needed. Have it ready to stop any cold at the start. Then is when minutes save hours of trouble.

But, if you lack it when the cold develops, get it as soon as you can. Get the genuine, for nothing else is like it. The way in which it ends a cold will remove all your fears of a cold. At your drug store.

The Sting of Truth!

The happenings of actual life are always more interesting than fiction. But Truth may also carry a sting. Truth always hurts when it comes too close to home—because it exposes the methods of Satan, and helps to shatter the power of wrong.

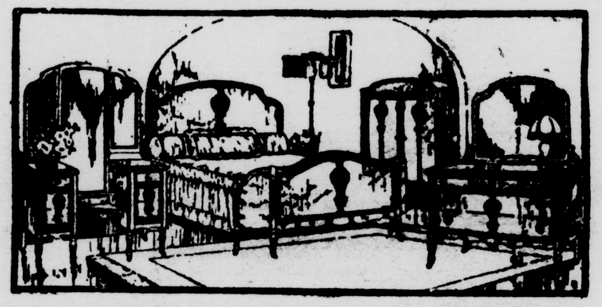

But Truth can never hurt those who wish to guard against evil. In fact, thousands have profited by the timely warnings received through the experiences of others.

Every month True Story Magazine publishes eighteen or twenty true-life narratives written by those whose ignorance or folly has brought them grief and despair. How they triumphed over their mistakes and found happiness in right living is always as dramatic and thrilling as it is helpful. The March issue is fairly packed with such stories. EX-TEACHER SUED BY PUPIL

Sebring Lad Asks $5,000 Damages, for Whipping.

As an aftermath of the whipping of Patrick McGowan, Sebring lad, about a month ago, suit for $5,000 damages has been filed in the Mahoning county common pleas court against Miss Pauline Klingensmith, former school teacher, and her father, Dr. J. B. Klingensmith, both of Sebring. The action was instituted by Mrs. F. P. McGowan, mother of the boy.

Mrs. McGowan charges that the physician and his daughter entered into a conspiracy to punish the lad, who was a pupil in the room taught by Miss Klingensmith. The petition alleges that Dr. Klingensmith provided a strip of garden hose with which the punishment was inflicted. The wripping took place on January 14 in the McKinley school at Sebring.

The child was under the care of a punishment was inflicted. The whipping, it is claimed, Miss Klingensmith recently resigned her position in the Sebring schools, but the board denied that she had been dismissed because of the whipping episode.

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Quick Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet—Famous but Simple Old English Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition, Banishes After-Eating Distress.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system by following unnecessary starvation diets.

Never hurry your meal or overeat of anything, but within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomach sweet, clean and active and free from the souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a small amount of pure Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless and inexpensive form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bisurated Magnesia, which may be obtained from any druggist for only a few cents, will easily convince you of the great value of this old English recipe.

Be sure and get BISURATED Magnesia—not a laxative.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

YOUR HEALTH

Count Good Health as a Thanksgiving Blessing

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND

EVERY good American has reason to rejoice on Thanksgiving Day if 1923 has blessed him with good health. This year has been filled with wars and rumors of war, but if you and yours are well and strong, free from acute chronic disease, you may well thank God on this day set apart for joy and thanksgiving.

If we think of this anniversary as a day of rejoicing over our national blessings, we have a right to be happy. The year has been notable for its freedom from epidemics of diseases. While other countries have suffered from famine, flood and earthquake, we have been spared these horrors.

It is meet, right and our bounden duty to lift our eyes to Almighty God and devoutly thank Him for His manifold blessings. We do this with humble hearts.

Should we not on such a day renew our pledges of upright living, promising that no wilful acts of ours shall mar a second of the year to come?

To my mind a day of rejoicing is almost a selfish day unless it serves also as a reminder of better performances in the year to follow. In our celebration of this day, therefore, let us pledge ourselves, among other worthy things, to the active support and practice of all measures making for individual and national health.

The Pilgrim Father endured endless trials and countless dangers which happily we escape. The Pilgrim Mother, bear in mind, had to endure all that the Pilgrim Father did and, besides, she had to put up with the Pilgrim Father too!

When I think about the olden times, I think about the sacrifices made by the pioneer women. The spinning, the weaving, the making up the heavy garments for the family, the knitting of the socks and mittens, the fashioning of the skins of animals into jackets, caps and shoes—these were woman's duties. The baking, the smoking and curing of the meats, the carving the pickling and preserving, the trying out of the grease and the making of the candles—these were woman's duties. But their duties did not end here. Who was the nurse, the orderly, the doctor in most ailments? The Pilgrim Mother.

As a nation and as individuals we owe everything to the pioneers. Their bravery, patience and foresight have produced a sturdy race. Those of us who enjoy great privileges to-day should add a word of praise and thanksgiving for what our forefathers and foremothers did for this land, free and happy because they suffered and wearied not.

One of the greatest of our blessings is the American insistence upon the rules of health. In the home, in the school, in the factory there is teaching about health. Municipal, township, state and national boards of health spread wide the knowledge of how to live and how to avoid disease. The span of life is increasing—eleven years in the last half century.

To-day, good friends, we can thank God and take courage!

Answers to Health Questions.

S. S. Q.—I am a young man twenty-seven years of age. Two years ago I was operated on for rupture and have been wearing a truss ever since. I seem to be having a recurrence of my former trouble. Will you kindly advise me how to go about treatment for this condition?

A.—Consult the physician who performed the operation for an examination to determine the cause of the trouble and follow whatever advice he gives you.

• • •

ANXIOUS. Q.—Will you kindly tell me whether or not pyorrhea can be permanently cured?

A.—No, pyorrhea cannot be permanently cured, but the progress of the disease can be checked by having systematic treatment under the direction of a competent dentist.

• • •

J. F. C. Q.—Will you kindly advise me as to whether or not cancer and tuberculosis are hereditary?

A.—These diseases are not hereditary. However, the tendency toward them is.

• • •

J. D. R. Q.—Will you kindly tell me what causes a pain under the knee when I bend it?

A.—This may be due to some injury. You should consult an orthopedist for an examination and then treatment will be suggested.

• • •

M. W. Q.—Will you kindly tell me what makes my face dry? I use cold cream, but this does not help.

A.—If you have been in the habit of using soap on your face, discontinue its use. Wash your face with cold water. This will tend to help the condition.

• • •

J. K. Q.—Is frequent wetting helpful to the hair?

2.—Is vaseline harmful or in any way beneficial to the hair?

A.—Slightly dampening the hair will not injure it, but excessive use of water is decidedly harmful.

2.—Vaseline supplies oil to the scalp, which, in some people, is lacking.

• • •

N. W. Q.—Will you kindly advise me whether or not it is harmful to apply water to hair that is naturally wavy?

A.—Water tends to dry the oil in the hair, and if this practise is continued, the hair will eventually fall out.

Famous Bullfighter And $10,000 Horse In "The Bandolero"

One of the most interesting features of "The Bandolero," which will be the feature at the American theatre tomorrow, is said to be the bullfight scenes. These were made by Tom Terriss, the director, in Granada, Spain, near the famous Alhambra, while the Grand Fair of that nook of the world was in progress.

Terriss hadn't gone to all the trouble of taking his company to that authentic spot to get ordinary bull-fight pictures. He was after something entirely different. As a matter of fact, he came very near getting nothing at all because of a bullfighters' union whose members decided they wouldn't do their business in front of cameras without getting paid extra special salaries for the occasion.

Things were looking mighty black as far as special bullfight scenes were concerned when Canero, the most renowned annoyer of bulls in Spain, came along with his ten thousand dollar white horse. Camero said he was willing to do his act, for which he usually receives one thousand pesetas, for nothing. That looked to Mr. Terriss like a very fair basis from which to begin bargaining; and as a result Canero and his ten thousand dollar nag soon were at work on a bull.

A Great Year ~ A Great Car ~ and Lower Prices

1925 was the greatest year in Dodge Brothers history.

More than a quarter of a million Dodge Brothers Motor Cars were built and sold, yet demand was far in excess of production—and continues to mount.

To meet this world-wide need for a smart and dependable motor car, Dodge Brothers, Inc. have recently completed a $10,000,000 program of expansion, vastly increasing production and lowering the cost of manufacture.

Remarkable new machine equipment has also been installed—further reducing costs and perfecting quality.

As a result Dodge Brothers, Inc. were enabled on January 7th, to announce a schedule of prices that has revolutionized all previous standards of motor car value.

Prices all the more impressive because they apply to a dependable and trusted product made still better in many vital respects—

Engine operation incredibly smooth and quiet.

Instant engine response and elasticity.

Stylish new bodies finished in rich and distinctive colors.

Exceptional driving vision.

And the most important advance in steel body construction since Dodge Brothers pioneered in building the first all-steel body.

HUDSON-ESSEX PRICES A. Y. D.

Abandon Old System of Quoting Factory Figures.

An entirely new system of pricing motor cars—in which the old familiar phrase "f. o. b. Detroit" becomes a thing of the past—was announced today by the Buckeye Motor company, Hudson-Essex distributors. Instead of quoting "f. o. b. Detroit," this firm will immediately inaugurate an a. y. d. or "at your door" system of pricing.

It was announced that from now on the prices quoted on all Hudson and Essex cars in this territory will include freight, war tax and equipment. Nothing else to pay.

"Beginning today, we shall quote a. y. d. and not f. o. b., prices," said Ray Birch, local Hudson-Essex distributor. "The price we advertise will be 'the price you pay to drive away'—or the complete price at which we will deliver an equipped car at any man's residence. Under this revolutionary new system any motorist may read one of our quoted prices and know that it is exactly what a complete car, with equipment and ready to drive, will cost him, delivered at his home.

"The equipment included will be front and rear bumpers, an electric windshield wiper, rear view mirror, a transmission anti-theft lock, radiator shutters, motometer, and a combination tail-and-stop light. This program includes all new Hudson and Essex cars.

"For many years we have been asked by motorists to adopt this policy. Few people in fact ever have understood what an f. o. b. price was—except that it led the to expect to buy an automobile for a whole lot less than was actually possible.

"They have asked us price our cars just as they stood ready to deliver. That sounded right, but there have been many difficulties in the way. Now these have been overcome and we are able to meet this desire of the public.

"Under our exclusive new system Hudson and Essex cars will be sold like any articles of merchandise. A man does not buy a ham f. o. b., Chicago, a bar of soap f. o. b., Cincinnati, or a life insurance policy f. o. b., Hartford. The letters f. o. b., Detroit mean 'free on board Detroit;' that is a motor car loaded into a freight car in Detroit. Now does a motorist want a motor loaded in a freight car in Detroit? Not much; he wants the car, ready to drive, delivered to him where he orders it delivered. And now that all difficulties in the way have been removed, he will be able to buy a Hudson or Essex car just that way.

"He will not find that the actual price of a car is a hundred dollars or more above the price quoted. Nor will he find it necessary to purchase a substantial list of accessories, for the equipment we furnish is amply sufficient for a trip around the world. In other words a complete car offered, delivered to the order of the buyer, and his only expense is the driving license for the particular type of car which he wishes to buy. We are confident that this new policy will meet the immediate approval of the buying public.

"The price quoted in our announcements will be those not only in effect in our own establishment, but in those of all our dealers both in this city and throughout this whole territory. The dealers like ourselves have felt the public demand and are pleased that this modern method is open to them."

Keaton Tenderfoot Cowboy in Strand Picture "Go West"

Buster Keaton as a cowboy! Foiling "bad men," rounding up thousands of cattle, winning the girl just like all heroes are supposed to do in the great open spaces, but furnishing ten laughs with every thrill—that is the frozen-faced comedian's latest and greatest picture, "Go West," which opened at the Strand theatre yesterday.

Keaton has had many mirth-provoking roles during his screen career. None, however, has approached that of the young drifter who gets himself into all kinds of outlandish predicaments. The famous screen farceur also demonstrates in his newest picture that he has a flair for pathos as well as comedy.

"Go West" has a real plot that carries the star to the cotton plantations of the far south, the lumber camps of the frozen north and other places before he finally lands in the ranch country of the west. Some of the most mirthful scenes are crammed into his travels as a boxcar tourist.

Kicked off a train on the desert, the comedian hires out as a cow puncher. He falls in love with a beautiful girl, and acquires a strange pal, a cow. Then the real fun begins.

Joseph M. Schenck produced "Go West" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release.

London cabarets have started a "Brighter Sunday" movement by presenting children's games and special dances on Sundays.

The Forgotten Letter

MRS. Brown decided to spend a quiet evening reading. She picked up a book, which she had laid aside months ago, determined to start the story, and on opening it what should stare her in the face but a letter from a dear friend---a letter she had forgotten to answer.

Would that old friendship be terminated by her unpardonable forgetfulness? She determined that it should not, but how could she make amends? Her glance fell on the telephone and her problem was solved.

Soon she was talking with her friend half way across the continent---talking as satisfactorily as if she were in the same room and everything was explained. A few minutes chat was enjoyed and the ties were more strongly cemented than before. It was a pleasure for both which was inexpensive, as station-to-station calls after 8:30 take a special reduced rate if the day rate is more than 25 cents.

Perhaps you have forgotten a letter or are letting old friendships drift apart because of lack of contact. Long distance service is waiting to put you in touch with old associations and to keep old friendships alive. A short chat is a good substitute for a visit, for remember your voice is you.

SEVENTY-SEVEN.

Morning brought two surprises to Laurel, a letter from Noble and an unexpected caller.

Berenice brought up the letter with a glass of orange juice, and stood by watching her sister, while making a pretense of glancing over the books on the small shelf by the window.

Laurel could not help feeling some of the old glow over receiving an envelope with Noble's crest.

"My Dearest: I have had deposited in the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, to your order, $100,000. I didn't make it available to you here because such matters have a way of getting out of the Central City National. The sum is yours to do with as you like. I don't want you to wish for anything without being able to have it.

'I understand that you want to go to California, and I wish you would go and enjoy yourself. Take your mother and Berenice or anyone you like. Rest and renew and recreate yourself. When you have decided what you want to do, let me know. I hope and pary that you will decide that for our child's sake it would be best for us to make another start. If you decide this, you have but to call and I will come to you immediately. We will go to the Orient or South America, whatever your whim is.

'Oh, I love you so much. I miss you so terribly. I hate myself for being such a fool as to hurt you as I have.

"I know that you don't want to see me, but please let me come and see you for just a minute or two before you go away."

Laurel laid down the letter and gazed out the window, bathing her eyes in the morning sun.

"It's a letter from Noble, isn't it?" Berenice asked eagerly.

"Yet." The answer was toneless.

"Oh——."

"You'll die if you don't see it, won't you? To save you the trouble of searching for it, you may read it now" She held out the paper and bent her head upon her hands.

Berenice colored at the insult and halted, but her curiosity was too strong to allow her to forego the opportunity. Her fingers shook with the surprise of being allowed to see it. . . . One hundred thousand dollars!

"You're not going to accept this, are you?"

"You ought not to settle with him for less than a million. He——."

"Berenice, get out of this room. I can't stand you one minute longer!"

"Aw, Laurel, I——."

Mother Todd opened the door. "Berenice, I though I told you to stay away from Laurel? I suppose you came up here to bring that letter?"

"Mother, I simply can't STAND her!"

Mrs. Todd pushed her eldest daughter toward the door. "Berenice, you'd drive any one crazy. It's no wonder that no man has ever married you."

The shot cut deep. "She's——."

Her mother did not let her finish. "Don't go down there. Go to your room. You're a woman, yet you have to be treated like a child."

Closing the door, Mrs. Todd turned to Laurel: "Mrs. Harry Yancey is downstairs. Do you wish to see her?"

"She IS!"

"She looks perfectly terrible. Her face is bruised and some of her teeth are gone. Her husband must have beaten her."

"Oh!" Laurel was not surprised at this news. She was willing to believe anything of Harry Yancey. "Wait, I'll dress and go down." What did Harry Yancey's wife want? Assistance? Or did she have something she wanted Laurel to know?

Berenice reappeared in the door. "Forgive me, Laurel, for being such a little cad. I'm sorry. I know I'm a little cat."

"All right." Laurel was thinking of Mrs. Yancey.

"I was just thinking, Laurel, that maybe you would help mother and me get that modiste shop started. If everybody knew that you were connected with it, we'd do a perfectly huge business. Curiosity, you know. It wouldn't take very much. And now that you have the money—— "

"Berenice!" Mrs. Todd almost shrieked the exclamation.

"Never mind, mother," Laurel remarked, despairingly, "what's the use?" Drawing a breakfast gown about her, she went down to see Harry Yancey's wife.

Found One of the Greatest Jewels On Earth

Mrs. Lucy Celant, residing at No. 4 Tower Lane, Morgantown, W. Va., picked up a rare gem right on the streets of that city some few weeks ago, and is now receiving the full benefit of her lucky find. For about a year Mrs. Celant had been a sufferer from stomach trouble, indigestion, gas heart pains, nervousness, kidney and liver trouble, headaches, dizzy spells, and numbness of the limbs. She had her teeth pulled upon advice, in hope of getting relief, but none followed. She was advised for an operation, but before submitting found the jewel, "Ka-di-ok."

"So many people I know got such good results from Ka-di-ok, I wondered why not I," said Mrs. Celant to the Ka-di-ok representative. "I felt better after the third day. I believe I have found one of the greatest jewels on earth, good health. Ka-di-ok told me, how to find it; now there isn't any doubt in my mind. I can say I feel so much better since taking Ka-di-ok, that I shall continue taking it regularly for a while."

Similar jewels are awaiting residents of this city for the picking. Just make up your mind to be one of the lucky ones, start a Ka-di-ok treatment, and the gem of health will be yours.

Ka-di-ok is sold in East Liverpool at Mathews' Cut Rate Store and other drug stores.

Rin-Tin-Tin, Wonder Dog, in Exciting Picture at Strand

"Below the Line," the latest of the Rin-Tin-Tin series of pictures, opened today at the Strand theatre for a run of three days. It is a picture of thrills, romance and comedy, but especially of thrills. Undoubtedly it is the most exciting of the wonder dog's pictures and Warner Bros., the producers, have been especially fortunate in obtaining good pictures for this sensational dog star.

"Below the Line" was written and adapted to the screen by Charles A. Logue. It tells the story of a vicious pit-fighting dog in a small southern village. The dog's master, a village boy, has won the animal's affections through tender treatment. When the boy gets into trouble, the dog's fighting blood is once more aroused. The climax comes with a fight between Rin-Tin-Tin and a pack of bloodhounds that carries the thrills to fever heat.

The dog star has never been better. From the time he is dumped out of a crate when being transported through the village on a train to the moment of his blood thumping fight, he develops the character with uncanny instinct for the proper effect. He is humorous, tender, strong, unrelenting, vicious, snarling, pathetic and glorious by turns. Even in the matter of make-up, his trainer had him prepared for the role with utmost realism. At first he is ugly in a dirty tramp dog fashion, and then, gradually, you see him develop into the beautiful beast that he is. The transition was quite as startling as that made in reverse order by John Barrymore when he gradually changed from the elegant Beau Brummel to the squalid old man.

Daring Explorer Opens New Wilderness to Whites

Folks Over Forty Beware Of High Blood Pressure

New Magic of ARIUM—Radium in Tablets—Without Drugs—Brings Amazing and Lasting Relief From Dizzy Spells, Sleeplessness, Kidney and Prostate Trouble, Nervous Weakness and Other Dangerous Symptoms—Test It Yourself.

"$5,000 REWARD IF IT FAILS"

"ARIUM HAS GIVEN ME NEW LIFE where everything else I used failed," says Mr. Chris Ulfers, a prominent resident of Iowa. "I had high blood pressure bad—that is gone now—I have also overcome nervousness. Had terrible pains and swelling of stomach and lower bowels—this is getting better—can sleep good—I am stronger and enjoy life again, for I feel better than I did years ago."

With high blood pressure daily claiming its victims by thousands, you should watch closely for such dangerous symptoms as dizziness, hot flashes, surging of blood to the head, aches in the head or back, heart palpitations, quick pulse, shortness of breath, ringing in the ears, pouches under the eyes, enlarged veins over the temples, nervous weakness, or lack of VITAL FORCE. Doctors report that in 90 to 95 per cent of the cases tested, the marvelous restorative radium power supplied by ARIUM, produced a rapid lowering of high blood pressure and brought back normal healthful activity. This is because ARIUM creates a vitalizing, internal exercise of the glands and organs, renewing their proper, youthful action, just as Nature intended. A multitude of alarming symptoms quickly disappear. You see and feel the startling improvement in yourself each day—act and look younger, no matter what your age may be.

The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., of New York, which supplies druggists with ARIUM, guarantees successful and satisfactory results from its progressive use in every case, or money refunded, and offers $5,000.00 Reward if it fails to prove that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in its preparation. ARIUM is easy and economical to take and may now be readily obtained in this city from any good druggist who can easily get it for you if he has none in stock.

Coach or Coupe, at factory

General Motors' New Six is here!

GENERAL MOTORS now presents through its Oakland division the New Pontiac Six—the first six-cylinder car it has ever named and sponsored from the original design.

Representing the supreme embodiment of the corporation's almost limitless resources, this new Six is destined to compel a complete revision of existing ideas in motor car value.

The Pontiac Six is not another of the so-called "revolutionary" cars.

It is simply and solely a car of high quality developed to dominate a definite market . . . and as such represents an achievement no less significant, no less unprecedented, no less epochal than the invention of the first six-cylinder engine.

In the Pontiac Six you are offered a new order of beauty—that grace of line and balanced proportion characteristic only of Fisher craftsmanship. You are offered precisely the enduring body construction that is used on cars selling for $2,000 or more, finished in rich Duco colors.

You are offered a roadability of extraordinary scope—exhilarating power for hills, refreshing agility in traffic, a maximum speed you will use only in emergencies.

Add to this new order of beauty and this performance of unprecedented brilliance, the equally important matter of accessory equipment, and the preponderance of Pontiac value becomes literally irresistible—

—for the Pontiac Six comes equipped with full balloon cords, nickeled radiator, Fisher VV windshield, automatic windshield cleaner, indirectly illuminated instrument panel, rear vision mirror, high-speed window regulators and other important essentials to pride of ownership.

The Pontiac Six is now on display in our salesrooms. Demonstrations may be arranged for. We not only invite you to see this newest creation of General Motors at the earliest possible moment—we urge you to come prepared for a new and unique experience—for here at last is the Six you have always wanted . . . . at a price so unexpectedly low that only General Motors could possibly achieve it.

The Pontiac Six, companion car to the Oakland Six, is built and distributed by the

ONCE PROUD MONITOR, LAST OF TYPE, JOINS JUNK PILE

U. S. S. Cheyenne, Still In Good Order, Goes to Keep Her Rendezvous With Davy Jones.

Baltimore, Md.—Trailing ignominiously at the end of a towline, a once proud monitor and last of her type recently moved toward her grave—a junk pile at Hampton roads.

One of four sister ships laid down in 1904, the Cheyenne, originally the Wyoming, started her death march alone with the U. S. S. Owl, a navy yard tug, stealing ahead like a conscience-stricken executioner. The Tallahassee, the last of her sisters, felt the acetylene torch 20 years ago.

Sixty-six years back in American history the monitor type, embodied in John Ericsson's Monitor, nemesis of the Merrimac, revolutionized naval practice. Monitors maintained President Lincoln's blockade of southern ports during the Civil war.

The present and last monitor, living to see her once all-powerful type belittled by modern development, epitomized naval progress when she served as a mother ship for submarines on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts during the World war. The Cheyenne, then the Wyoming, also was the first naval vessel to feel the thrust of modern oil-burning engines. Experiments conducted aboard the Wyoming have since led the Navy department to take steps for the conversion of all remaining coal burners.

For more than five years the Cheyenne has served as the training ship of the Fifth Naval Reserve district and with her passing the Baltimore water front loses a bit of romance. The original Monitor indirectly was protecting this port when it destroyed the Merrimac in Hampton roads.

Under her own power, around the Virginia capes from Philadelphia, the Cheyenne came to Baltimore in October, 1920. It is through no fault of her own that she is dragged away on the end of a chain, like a criminal to the gibbet. Her engines are sturdy and fit, her propeller trim—but she is obsolete and her crew is gone. Part of her crew has been transferred to Eagle boat 56, her successor, and the remainder has gone on the inactive list.

So, with her fireroom cold and her decks deserted, the last of the monitors keeps her rendezvous with Davy Jones.

Blood Reveals Race History, Tests Show

Berlin.—Blood tests to identify descendants of those who crossed the Atlantic in the Mayflower or to expose fake survivors of the Light brigade soon will be possible, if experiments of Dr. E. O. Manoiloff, Russian blood specialist, are extended, this scientist claims.

The old adage "blood will tell," is literally true, Doctor Manoiloff says. Though his experiments have been limited to Europeans, he asserts that by blood analyses he can tell a Chinese from a Japanese, a German from a Pole. Out of 1,362 Russians and Jews whose ancestry has been traced, Doctor Manoloff said that his tests enabled him to distinguish between the two races with 88 per cent accuracy.

At a clinic attended by five distinguished savants who took samples of blood from 202 persons of various races and nationalities, Doctor Manoloff, without seeing the persons, diagnosed correctly the nationalities and race of 187, an error of only 7.5 per cent. His analyses are based upon color solutions.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

STATE FIRE LOSS HIGH IN JANUARY

The January fire loss in West Virginia was $585,725, an increase of $31,502, or six per cent, over the same month in 1924, it is shown by a report of the state fire marshal department. This is the first month of the fiscal year to register an increase when compared with the corresponding months of the year before.

Thirty-six counties reported fires but three of these—Brooke, Cabell and Kanawha—suffered more than 60 per cent of the total loss, or $355,450. The respective losses for the three counties were $214,200, $89,700 and $51,550.

There were 146 fires reported for the state during the month and in 71 of these the loss was entire and in 75 partial. The sound value of the property attacked by the flames was $1,523,875 and the insurance $926,800.

For the seven months of the fiscal year ending January 31, the loss in the state from 627 fires was $2,851,701, a reduction of $1,158,239, or 29 per cent, from the same period in the preceding fiscal year. For the 12 months ending January 31, the loss from 1,069 fires was $5,429,309, a decrease of $1,156,674, or 17 per cent, from the twelve-month preceding.

Cast of Favorites In American Film, "I Want My Man"

How will the future judge of America in its present era of social dissolution which came as a reaction to the anxiety and agitation of the last war?

That is the question evoked by Milton Sills and Doris Kenyon in their latest First National drama, "I Want My Man," which opened last night at the American theatre.

Will they see it with the eyes of Sills in his role of Gulian Eyre—a man returning after eight years' seclusion in France, during which he was seeking cure from blindness incurred in the war?

To Sills it is a world up-ended, a world of flapper orgies, of tea-dancing matrons and reckless fathers. But beneath it all, he sees, there is that soundness of heritage that will emerge above the phase of pleasure-madness that prevails.

As Earl Hudson has produced it, "I Want My Man" is well acted, well directed and well told. It is a drama well worth seeing, with a story of weight and moment. The film was adapted from Struthers Burt's novel, "The Interpreter's House."

The picture has been well cast. Phyllis Haver, May Allison and Paul Nicholson give excellent renditions as the victims of jazz mania. Kate Bruce and Theresa Maxwell Conover, as a pair of mothers, give contrasting portrayals of equal merit. Little Frankie Evans shows promise in a child role.

Waited Till the Cows Came Home

"I am indeed glad to write you this letter. I was a terrible sufferer from gases in the stomach and colic attacks. The specialist, our family doctor sent me to in Philadelphia, gave me no relief, although I took his medicine till the cows came home. He finally said I would have to be operated on. Luckily I heard of MAYR'S "One Dose Will Convince" then, and although it is now three years since I took a course of it, I have never had a symptom of my old trouble since." SEVEN IN FAMILY DIE IN FIRE

POLICE OPEN OFFENSIVE AGAINST GAMBLERS

TODAY

The Tax on Fools.
Romantic Oil.
American, Not Mexican.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.)
Copyright, 1926, by the Star Co.

The Italian government runs a lottery, as do many other nations. The latest drawing yielded a government profit of five million dollars, gambling excitement being increased by an individual predicting winning numbers. The numbers didn't win, but in Naples alone the people spent fifteen million lire for tickets.

In Italy they call the lottery "the tax on fools."

We need not criticize Italy, for in this country, according to statistics, race track fools tax themselves eight million dollars a year, handing the money to the bookmakers.

And get-rich-quick schemes tax the American public, especially women, a thousand millions more.

The marvel is that the people have any money left when the gamblers and the get-rich-quick schemers finish with them. It is all for the best probably. He who loses his savings must continue to work hard. Hard work, not people living on their incomes in idleness, is what the country needs.

Even the prosaic oil business is romantic. You know of the oil well that the Rockefellers have "brought in" within the Arctic circle. It would cost many millions to run in a pipe line. But at least the Rockefellers know that there is an Arctic reserve.

At Ventura, on the Pacific coast, the Shell Oil Co.'s docks were washed away. Its tankers could load no oil.

Associated Oil said: "Bring your tank ships here, we'll load them." Associated runs a pipe line half a mile out on the bottom of the sea, has a flexible pipe anchored at the surface and fills tanks, storm or no storm.

Nearby are wells driven down through the water, pumping up oil from below the Pacific. Submarines some day will find much wealth for enterprising prospectors.

The flying machine is used in prospecting now.

There is much excitement about the Mexican-American dive resort maintained at Tia Juana, just across the California border. Two American girls drank in one of the Tia Juana saloons with their father and mother

DIRECTOR MOORE BANS FICTITIOUS NAMES IN MAKING RAID REPORTS

Governor Opposes Race Track Betting, He Tells Crabbe

COLUMBUS, Feb. 17.—Governor Donahey is flatly opposed to gambling in connection with horse racing, or in any other form. He believes, however, that efforts to stop gambling during race meets at Ohio tracks can be adequately made by local officials and that the situation for the present at least does not necessitate action by the governor.

This statement was made at the governor's office early this afternoon following a conference between Governor Donahey and Attorney General Crabbe. At this conference, requested by the attorney general, Crabbe asked for the governor's co-operation in the former's efforts to stop race horse gambling in Ohio.

Notice Posted at City Hall Instructs Officers to Make Public Identity of all Offenders.

EARL SALSBERRY IS FINED $50

Judge J. C. Hanley Orders Prisoner Committed to Workhouse if he Does Not Pay.

War on gamblers was declared today by Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, Safety-Service Director J. W. Moore and the police department.

With the launching of the offensive, orders were issued to the police to register the correct names of all persons arrested in gambling raids. Heretofore, fictitious names have appeared on the police blotter.

Notice Posted at City Hall

Here is the notice, signed by Director Moore and approved by Mayor Benedum, posted at police headquarters today:

"When arrests are made [illegible] entry on the police blotter and the charge made to the court must, in all cases, carry the correct name of the offender, if such knowledge is available.

"Attempts to answer under an assumed name must be ignored and the correct one given, if known to the officer, or if he can, by reasonable diligence, so determine."

"No gambling will be allowed here during my term of office," declared Benedum. "I have so informed several persons who have come to me with the intention of ascertaining my attitude.

"Police have orders to visit all places suspected of violating the laws. This order includes pool rooms. We will insist that all offenders be arrested."

Salsberry First Victim.

The first violator in the campaign of the police to stop gambling was fined $50 and costs and committed to jail by Municipal Judge Hanley. He is Earl Salsberry, St. Clair avenue, whose home, almost opposite Central fire station, was visited by the police last Sunday morning.

Salsberry, without funds, was released on his own recognizance to appear before Judge Hanley for a hearing at a 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. When he failed to keep his promise, orders were issued for his arrest. He was apprehended yesterday afternoon by Patrolman William Lister.

FRANK HOOVER PRINCIPAL IN WAR ROMANCE

Washington Nurse Will Become Bride of City Solicitor.

WED TOMORROW

Ex-soldier Met Miss Harriet Clogston While in Hospital.

A war romance, which began four and one-half years ago when he was a patient in the Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C., convalescing from a shattered leg, will culminate tomorrow morning when City Solicitor Frank H. Hoover and Miss Harriet Clogston, Red Cross nurse, formerly of Bridgeport, Ohio, are married in Christ's church, Alexandria, Va.

Hoover met Miss Clogston when she nursed him in hospital where he received treatment for wounds sustained at Thielt, Belgium, on October 31, 1918, while fighting with the 135th Machine Gun battalion, a part of the 37th ("Buckeye") division. Friendship grew into love. The marriage will be solemnized in the church where George Washington worshiped.

Hoover was born here. He joined Company E, Tenth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, when it was being recruited during the early stages of the war. He trained at Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., and saw active service on the battle fronts in France and in Belgium. While wounded he was confined in field and base hospitals in France for several months. Disabled, he returned to the United States with the rank of sergeant.

After hospitalization, Hoover entered the National university at Washington, D. C., where he graduated in 1924 with a master of law degree. He began practice here on June 15, 1924, and was elected solicitor last fall after having won the Republican nomination from a field of four.

L. W. BOSTON, 21, BRAKEMAN, DIES AS RESULT OF RAIL ACCIDENT

Skull Fractured and Leg Broken When Dragged by Train.

MISSED FOOTING

Wellsville Man is Fatally Injured at Irondale.

Lawrence W. Boston, 21 years old, of Wellsville, furloughed Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, is dead today as a result of injuries sustained Monday night at the Irondale C. & P. station when he missed his footing in an attempt to board an eastbound freight and was dragged 50 feet along the tracks.

His skull was fractured and one leg broken as his body was scraped over the ends of the ties between the rails and the curbing at the station.

Boston had been looking for work in Irondale and was ready to return to Wellsville when the freight passed at the station. He jumped for a step on one of the cars, but his foot slipped and his leg was caught fast. Unable to extricate it, he was dragged by the train until shouts of witnesses apprised the crew of the accident.

Body Shipped to Powhatan.

After temporary medical attention had been given him by Dr. Rice, of Irondale, Boston was placed aboard the train and removed to Wellsville. He was transferred there to the D. N. MacLean ambulance and then taken to the City hospital.

Boston had been living with his sister, Mrs. J. R. Whiteman, 1122 Buckeye avenue, Wellsville.

His body will be shipped to Powhatan, O., for burial tomorrow.

WOMAN AND SIX CHILDREN ARE TRAPPED; TWO OTHERS ESCAPE

Mother Sacrifices Life in Attempt to Rescue Tots.

FATHER INJURED

Eldest Daughter Unhurt in Central Bridge, N. Y., Blaze.

CENTRAL BRIDGE, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Edmund Teal and six of her children were burned to death here early today when fire, said to have started from a defective chimney, destroyed a two-story building. The husband and the oldest daughter, Catherine, escaped, but Teal was badly burned.

Father Breaks Both Arms.

Teal is 43 years old. In running down the stairs to summon help he fell and broke both arms. He also was badly burned and suffered from inhaling smoke.

The mother could have escaped, neighbors said, but she remained in the burning building and bravely died with her children. Teal said when he rushed from the house to summon help he believed his wife would follow with the children. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

The Teal family lived on the second floor of the building, the first floor being used for a barber shop.

Fire Threatens Business Zone.

Neighbors were unaware of the fire until Teal ran from his home, his clothes afire, calling for help. The flames spread to other buildings, and for a time it was feared the business section of this small town would be wiped out.

Fire apparatus from Cobleskill, Howe Cave and Scoharie responded.

Mrs. Teal was about 35 years of age. The children who died in the flames were: Charles, 11; Davis, 7; Ernest, 4; Sydney, 3; Elizabeth, 2, and a two months' old baby.

It was some time before fire apparatus from nearby villages arrived. The only telephone in the village, that is in use at night, is in the home of Dr. H. R. Bentley. When Dr. Bentley learned of the fire he called the eelephone operator at Howe Cave who in turn notified the surrounding villages.

Charles Brown and Kurt Bergner will be the "glad handers."

EAST LIVERPOOL, "STAFFORDSHIRE OF AMERICA," FIRST CITY TO UTILIZE OIL AND GAS PIPE LINES, T. T. JONES TELLS WCAE RADIO FANS

The 127-year history of East Liverpool, recognized as the center of the American ceramic industry and home of its two great organizations—the United States Potters' association and the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters—was outlined recently in a five-minute talk from the WCAE broadcasting station, Pittsburgh, by T. T. Jones, newspaper man.

Jones appeared on the program with the augmented choir of the First Presbyterian church, of which W. A. Macdonald is director.

Jones' speech follows:

City Settled by Thomas Fawcett.

"East Liverpool, Ohio, 44 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, Pa., and an equal distance north of Wheeling, W. Va., is a manufacturing city of some 25,000 people, that fronts a beautiful, serpentine bend of the Ohio river from the rugged heights of its continuous series of ridges.

"Just across the placid stream and connected by two bridges, are Chester and Newell, two progressive West Virginia communities which, with Wellsville, Ohio, four miles to the west, and Midland, Pa., as far to the east, and other surrounding rural localities, make of it a mutual attraction point of a 50,000 population.

"Settled in 1798, 127 years ago, a year before George Washington died and a few months over a decade before Abraham Lincoln was born, by Thomas Fawcett, a Quaker-Irishman, and his wife, who was Isabelle Snodgrass, also a native of the Emerald Isle, and their four sons and as many daughters, East Liverpool, after the many vicissitudes of its pioneer days, has slowly but steadily, grown until in turn it has become nationally and internationally known as 'The Staffordshire of America,' 'The City of Hills and Kilns' and 'The Pottery Center of the World.'

Once Called St. Clair.

"In the beginning the hamlet was called St. Clair for the governor of the Northwest territory; then for a period it was referred to as Fawcettstown in honor of its founder; later the advent of numerous Englishmen to it caused the village's name to be changed to Liverpool, which finally was added to by the prefix 'East' so as to distinguish it from another town of the same name in a nearby county.

"Four score and six years ago the city's present supremacy in the ceramic industry took definite form when James Bennett, a native of England and then but a young man, recognized the potentialities of clays with which its soil abounded. With the aid of several forward looking citizens he built on land long since washed away by the Ohio floods the city's first pottery. To the daughter of one of these men, Mrs. Cynthia Bradshaw, he presented the first piece of ware taken from the initial kiln of the plant fired. That bit of earthenware, pioneer of countless others since made in it, is to this day intact and in the possession of the recipient's daughter, Mrs. Ida O. Reynolds, of Chicago, Ill.

"How the industry thrived and the trade expanded to its present dimensions of millions of dollars per annum of production from its 20 or more plants, one of which the Homer Laughlin China company, being the largest in the world, is a story replete with interest, and reflects the evolution from plain yellow ware to the decorated white china variety of the moment with the multitudinous porcelain products that have supplemented the manufacture of initial table necessities.

"With an industry bulwarking it East Liverpool developed proportionately in other lines. Oil and gas found in and about it made possible its being the first city in the world to utilize pipe lines and thus insure municipal fuel and illumination.

Home of Gift Hymn Writer.

"To it as a boy came Andrew Carnegie to visit relatives during summers, and a nearby early furnace perhaps caught the ambition that made of him later the ironmaster of the country. In it also was reared and lived the gifted song and hymn writer, William L. Thompson, author of 'Softly and Tenderly Jesus Is Calling,' 'Jesus Is All the World to Me' and other contributions, and Will Rhoades, the great Pittsburgh tenor. From it went soldiers at the nation's every call from General 'Mad' Anthony Wayne's campaign against the Indians to the 'Watch of Coblentz on the Rhine.'

"Just north of it a dozen miles is the historic spot that marks the farthest northern point reached by Confederate soldiery in the clash of the states in the sixties. The stump of the famous tree under which General John Morgan then surrendered has long been exhibited by the East Liverpool Historical society.

"But a short distance out of it J. M. McGuffy, who later became the president of the University of Virginia and the author of the famous McGuffy readers which Henry Ford has recently assembled for his museum, began his career of teaching in a log school house; in it Sanford C. Hill,

STATE TAX LEVY REPORT IS FILED

Against the total property valuation of $2,133,491,140 in the state in 1925, the state, county, municipalities and district boards of education levied direct taxes to the amount of $52,536,197, says Grant P. Hall, state tax commissioner, in a letter prepared to be sent to all county assessors.

Out of every $100 levied in direct taxes in this state last year, $1.80 was used for state purposes other than the Virginia debt and school aid, while $98.20 was used for county, district, school and municipal purposes, the letter says.

There was an increase of 9½ cents in the average tax rate on each $100 valuation for 1925 as compared with the 1924 figures, the average rate being $2.19 in 1924 and $2.285 in last year.

The total amount of all direct taxes levied by the state upon real estate, personal property and public utilities for the year 1925 was $6,761,528, says the tax commissioner. Only $2,133,491 of this sum was levied for state purposes other than the Virginia debt and of this slightly more than two million $1,250,000 was appropriated to the local taxing districts as state aid to schools, "leaving only $833,491 to be used for general state purposes."

County courts levied last year for county and district purposes $15,691,440; boards of education levied $24,015,823, and the municipal authorities $6,067,306.

Vanderbilt Bills Newport on Dead Hens, Gets $30

Newport, R. I.—Under an old Rhode Island law that dates back to the Revolutionary days, William H. Vanderbilt has collected $30 from the city of Newport in payment for 15 of his hens, which were killed by a dog at Oakland farm, Portsmouth. The law, which Newport members of the general assembly have sought to repeal in vain, provides that the city of Newport shall pay practically all the cost in recompensing owners of hens killed anywhere in the county.

Acting under this law, Mr. Vanderbilt put in a bill which was approved by the board of aldermen and paid.

REOPEN TUNNEL USED BY GRANT'S TROOPS

Shaft to Be Memorial to "Battle of the Crater."

Petersburg, Va.—One of the greatest pieces of battlefield engineering of the Civil war has been brought to light with the reopening of the main tunnel by which the famous mine under the Confederate works near Petersburg was placed. Explosion of the mine caused the "Battle of the Crater" to go down in history as the most tragic of that war.

Much of its timber still sound, the tunnel is declared to be a model of shoring. It is planned to make of it a shrine to American ingenuity and resourcefulness.

Winding its narrow way 30 feet underground, the tunnel extends a distance of 510 feet from behind what was General Grant's front line to the crater itself. Several parallel and perpendicular shorter tunnels connect with it. Finally the passageway enters a large underground room, believed to have been a Confederate bomb-proof dugout.

Dug in Thirty Days.

It was this gallery, as it was called by the Pennsylvania miners of Colonel Pleasant's regiment who dug it in 30 days, that afforded the means of laying the mines which were intended to clear the obstruction to Grant's march on Richmond. In the success of Colonel Pleasant's plan, which at first Grant described as "claptrap and nonsense," the North had placed its faith for an immediate ending of the war.

Federal troops had been drilled for a month and Grant had concentrated 65,000 troops in the adjacent valley for the charge that was to follow the explosion at 3:30 a. m. of July 30, 1864, which wrecked Elliott's salient and cleared the way to the capital of the Confederacy.

Many sections of the passageway have now been found to be in place just as originally built. Here and there were discovered evidences of the men of the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania infantry who dug them. Whether the parallel galleries were dug by the men under General Lee in an effort to locate the Federals working underground or by the same men who dug their way 510 feet to the crater, remains undetermined.

300 Were Killed.

Through Colonel Pleasant's tunnel 4,000 pounds of explosives were placed under the Confederate works. While Grant's army waited the fuse was lit. After an hour's wait it was found necessary to enter the tunnel and relight it half way up. A few minutes later came the explosion which sent 300 Confederates to death, caused confusion and delay to the waiting Federal troops, and paved the way for the rush of General Meade's men to their destruction.

A crossfire from Confederate batteries, placed advantageously after it had been learned that their position was being undermined, met the Federals as they charged through the opening made by the explosion. It was two hours before Meade penetrated the thin gray line.

By that time Mahone had come up with his Petersburg brigade, and the celebrated "Crater Charge" drove the enemy beyond the crater, leaving behind more than 5,000 Union dead. The hope of General Grant for the immediate capture of Richmond was wrecked.

Offer College Courses to Japanese Students

Philadelphia.—Under plans launched by the American Friends service committee a selected group of Japanese students will be invited to come to the United States next autumn to study in colleges and universities as the guests of Americans.

The Friends service committee said that a nation-wide appeal would be made for co-operation in carrying out their plans. A number of colleges already have volunteered.

"This is the first concrete proposal," said a statement, "to give general expression to the widespread desire. . . to improve our relations with the people of Japan.

"A Friends service committee, composed of Japanese Quakers, has been formed in Tokyo. This committee will be charged with the selection of the students. The choice will be based entirely on individual fitness and aims and the students will not represent any official or other special interests.

"On their arrival in this country they will be placed in volunteer colleges. This will insure the full benefit of the plan to Americans as well as to the Japanese."

Heart Disease Killed Poet Bobby Burns Not Alcohol as Claimed

LONDON.—The poet, Robert Burns, died of heart disease and not from alcoholism, according to Sir James Crichton-Browne, who has just published a new book on the life of the Scotch laureate.

"Burns died of endocarditis," Sir James declares, "with the origination of which alcohol had nothing to do, though it is possible that an injudicious use of alcohol may have hastened its progress.

"It was rheumatism that was the undoing of Burns. It attacked him in early years, damaged his heart, embittered his life and cut short his career."

Leading Voters To The Polls

Two bills are before the New York state legislature aiming to make voting compulsory. The whole country has felt the need of finding some way to get more citizens to vote. Uusually activity takes the form of a campaign prior to election to arouse interest in voting as a privilege and duty. But with all the urging and campaigning and scolding and pleading, the number of voters exercising the franchise continues to dwindle.

Transportation to the polling place shouldn't be much of a problem in these days. Neither should the act of voting take much time. Indifference, not inconvenience, is at the root of the trouble.

And why the indifference? It is suggested that voters no longer take an interest in elections because they are convinced that most of the candidates for office are prompted by self-interest rather than public service, that issues are fictitious and that campaign pledges are rarely fulfilled.

The way to overcome these evils and popularize the vote, some people say, is to penalize successful candidates if they fail to carry out their promises. That might make an election mean more than it often does now.

But whether the remedy sought is better candidates or better platforms o rbetter conduct in office, it all goes back to the fundamental needs fo better citizenship in the individual voter. Compulsory voting won't bring that about, but education may.

Ford Economics

Henry Ford, of course, is unique. He is a law unto himself. when he wants to lower the price of his product, he reduces the selling price below the cost of production and tells his subordinates they've got to make it possible. Then they do. It has never failed. Other manufacturers follow the opposite course, seeing first how much they can lower production costs, then keeping a safe margin above that in lowering the selling price.

Similarly Mr. Ford cuts prices and raises wages at the same time. Other manufacturers usually argue that they can't pay higher wages without higher prices, and can't lower prices without lowering wages.

Still, the uncontrollable and unfathomable Henry may not be defying economic law so outrageously as he seems. When he lowers his selling price, he gets such a rush of new orders that increased volume of business, along with stricter economy and efficiency, justifies the new prices. When he raises wages without any visible reason, his working force somehow becomes mor productive.

Henry seems to feel that economic law is based on human nature, and he capitalizes his knowledge of human nature.

He makes a good case, in an article in Collier's, for what old-fashioned business man would regard as madness—that it's "always good business to raise wages and never to lower them." He explains that higher wages mean greater purchasing power and more customers, and that charging "all the traffic will bear" is never a sound business policy because it won't hold the business.

Hot Dogs and Rural Charm

At a meeting of the Ontario Horticultural association recently in Toronto, a plea was made for "rural beautification." Usually one thinks of the country as being naturally beautfiul. It is, when orchards are in bloom or crops are growing and when man has not interfered too much with nature.

But frequently farm buildings are unattractive or ill-kept, grass and flowers are omitted because they take too much time from farm duties, and roadsides are absolutely threeless and given over to weeds and dust. A definite movement to plant trees, shrubs and flowers in rural districts that have been too thoroughly cleaned off by pioneer settlers would help greatly to restore rural beauty.

There is another means of beautification which is particularly needed along main highways in this country. That is some sort of control of the hot dog and soft drink stands that have sprung up like mushrooms wherever the tourist goes. Sandwiches, coffee or lemonade for the traveler are frequently as desirable as gas and oil and air for the automobile. But it is hard to see why these stands ministering to the comforts of motorists must inevitably be so ugly that they disfigure otherwise lovely scenes.

One cannot expect architectural beauty of them, but surely the proprietors need not go out of their way to plaster them with hideous advertising signs or to decorate the neighborhood with tin cans, bottles and rubbish. Somebody should start a movement to make these places simpler, cleaner, more pleasant to the eye than they have been up to date.

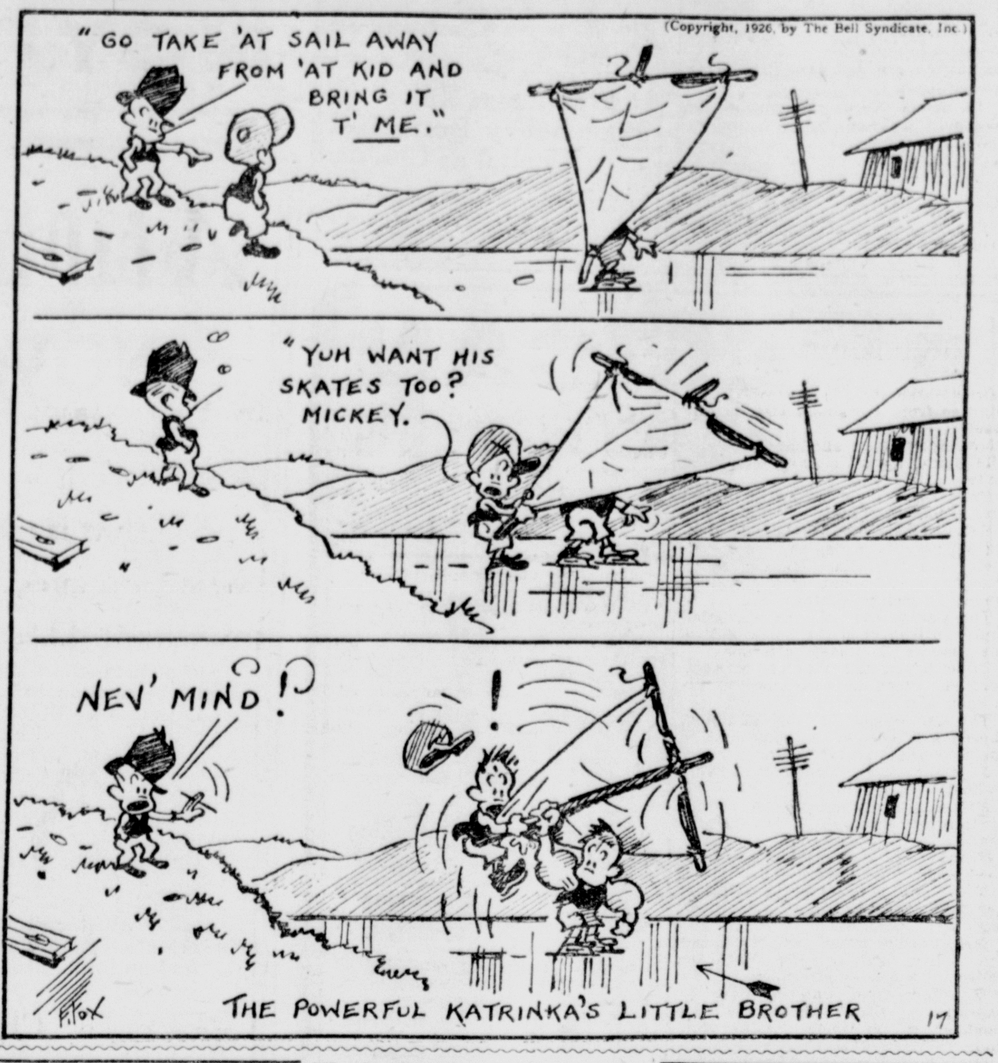

Mussolini and the king together are the absolute power in Italy. And now if Mussolini would only let the king do the talking!

Every time we read a news story about a man arrested for bigamy or trigamy or anything like that, we think some people must be regular gluttons for monthly bills in their mail.

Now that we're going into the world court, no need of hurry to provide business for it. International litigation is no more desirable than any other kind.

Radio needs more radius to cross the Atlantic.

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Movie Organs and Organists.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Twenty-one centuries ago there lived in Alexandria, Egypt, a man named Ctesibius. He was a musician, and along with his musical ability he possessed inventive genius. The result was that he gave to the world the instrument known as the organ.

It was a simple affair of three reeds which the performer held upon his knees while he played upon it and his audiences at best were small and not exceptionally appreciative. There is neither record nor tradition to the effect that Ctesibius was regarded as one of the foremost musicians of his day, and it is improbable that he ever made any money out of his talent or the instrument which he invented.

However, Ctesibius started something. That primitive affair of three reeds that cost almost nothing has grown to be an immense instrument om innumerable pipes, keys, pedals, and what not, that reproduces the tone and effect of almost every instrument in a great orchestra, and it costs anywhere from $5,000 to $150,000. And the performer who plays the modern organ thrills thousands in his immediate presence every day and night ,and not infrequently plays to an audience that is limited only by the number of people having radios. The is what the motion pictures have done for organs and organists, for it is through the film theatres that the pipe organ has been developed almost miraculously within the last decade and its players have had their profession expanded for them until it has become one of the most remunerative in the musical world.

Hundreds of motion picture houses throughout the country have installed magnificent organs and afford constant and lucrative employment for from two to three organists for each theatre. The day when the artist who mastered the pipe organ was limited in his opportunities for engagements to the comparatively few churches that boasted such instruments, and an occasional concert hall, is long since past. A good organist is never out of a position and the top-notchers are rapidly acquiring fame and fortune.

A Widely Known Performer.

Washington has one of these performers with a nation-wide reputation in teh person of Otto F. Beck, the musical director of one of the city's largest motion picture theatres, who has done concert work throughout the East and Middle West, and who now broadcasts a program three times a week and has become known to radio fans everywhere. Mr. Beck started his career with the movies in Montreal. Later he played at the Rialto in New York, the first Broadway theater to install a pipe organ, and was also in Atlantic City for a time before coming to Washington.

Although he himself was fortunate enough to have the opportunity to study under one of the greatest organists, the late Houe-Jones, Mr. Beck says that musical talent and technique are only half the requirements for success in his profession. The motion picture organist must possess that gift or art known as showmanship.

"The organist who hopes to make a name for himself must possess this quality," says Br. Beck. "He must realize that he is just as much a performer as the actor on the screen or stage. Me may be skilled and versatile, he may be conscientious, and industrious, but he will never attain real success if he is not a showman. With a different set of methods he must 'sell' the motion picture he is accompanying—put it over to the audience—very much as the ballyhoo man sells the sideshow at a circus."

Everyone remembers the days when movies were accompanied by indifferent musicians who merely made sounds to break the quiet accentuated by the flicker of the films and the shuffle of restless feet. Then producers discovered that a good pianist could play upon the emotions of an audience almost as much as the picture itselif, and they began to require their musicians to do more than play tom-tom stuff for an Indian scene or "Hearts and Flowers' for a bit of pathos. The artist at the piano, thereupon, found it necessary to acquire a repertoire, and to cultivate the imagination that would enable him to use that repertoire in interpreting the rapidly changing scenes and action on the screen.

The music must create the atmosphere for the drama to breathe in. The flat gray figures are there, and must be made to glow, to pulsate, and to sound. Even an amateur would not play a brisk march for a dying mother scene, Mr. Beck points out, but would be known that "hurries' and "agitatos' are not appropriate for a prize tight scene, because mental disturbances are lacking, and that he should play light, brilliant music?.

Experience Also Required.

Experience is another essential to success as a motion picture organist, according to this authority. In fact, he says it is decidedly difficult for an organist to get a job unless he had had experience. Just how aspiring artists can get experience without first getting a job is not so clear to the layman, but perhaps back of this somewhat anomalous requirement of the profession lies the explanation of why the ranks of the organists are not being over-run with recruits.

Most of the well known motion picture organists are former movie and orchestra pianists. Church organists, it is said, rarely break in, and as a rule they do not make good movie organists. They seem to find it hard to develop a diversified repertoire, and do not adapt themselves readily to the jazz and other light music that are so essential in movie accompaniments.

The movie organist, it should be known, does not always sit and let his fingers wander idly over the keys, playing at random whatever occurs to him as appropriate to the scene on the screen. With each feature film that is to be shown in his theater he gets a cue sheet, which indicates the music which the picture producer thinks should be played from the beginning to the end of film, and frequently he has a per-view of the picture in order that he may see how the cue sheet music does fit in and determine whether or not he should make any changes it it.

As to the financial rewards that may be reaped by the successful organist, the figures that are quoted will be an eye-opener to most patrons of the cinema. Not all the "big money" in the motion picture business goes to the screen stars, directors, and producers, or to the owners of the popular theaters.

An assistant organist in an average city motion picture theater will start at a salary of $60 a week, it is stated. From that up, the sky is the limit. An average good organist who proves that he has showmanship ability finds it comparatively easy to garner from $10,000 to $15,000 a year, and when one gets into the star class and is in demand for concert work he may enjoy an income that rivals that of the President of the United States—$75,000 a year. And these incomes are real, be is averred, and are not the dreams of highly imaginative press agents.

That it is an attractive profession is further attested by the fact that a Washington school eacher makes a weekly trip to New York to take a lesson from one of the great pipe organ artists of that city.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 17.—Night life in Miami and Palm Beach smacks of Broadway. Familiar names stud the Florida heavens in lights—the Kit Kat club, the Del Fay club, Rector's, Club de Montmartre and others. All, like their New York prototypes, have the intimacy of the ash-can.

Visitors are divided into two classes. Those who come for rest and repose and those who come to have their fling. For the latter there are numerous high spots. Intrigues abound. And liquor is just as plentiful for those who want it as in New York. And a little more expensive.

Road houses are in profusion and are no better or worse than those dotting Long Island. The tea hour in the outdoor gardens of the big hotel reveals many familiar faces of those ladies who live lightly along Broadway. They flee from the rigors of a New York winter, poor dears.

Florida is a new and green pasture for press agents who wrap their superlative about real estate and other projects and ship them north to brave the blue pencil. They have made "a huge red ball of fire hanging in the west" of the sun we used to know.

The moon does not come up. It "hangs a slight crescent in the plush velvet night." Press agents become poets. Old first night roues knock their heads against the stars. Doubtful ladies discard sex and gossip weeklies for Byron and Shelley.

We stopped along the roadside last night to "hook" a few grape fruit. After looking furtively about I concealed a few under my coat. Upon my return the owner was there and helped fill the bottom of the car. I thanked him in the guilty fashion of a trapped thief.

What a change! On the last piratical expedition as a boy in Ohio I was going over a rail fence with a juicy watermelon. There was the boom of a shot-gun and the zing of a bacon rind against my anatomy and I ate standing up for several days.

It is considered hot stuff to appear in New York in the middle of February with a heavy tan. Head walters may even notice you. I merely blister and peel and instead of a sepia tint I whiten. Any dim museum desiring an Albino at current rates will only be required to furnish a little peroxide. Along the beaches are men and women as dark as a mahogany stain. But I suspect they have been here through the summer.

A sign maker's sign on Miami Beach: "I do not talk. I make signs."

From a screened porch I watched a group of darkies raking up a load of dry grass across the roadway. The darkey is attuned to the happy song of life as no other human. At intervals they would stop to sing and drop their rakes to do a few Charleston steps. They laughed as they worked—something I have not seen for many years. The last man I saw laugh at his work was a copy reader in Dayton, O. He was dismissed for upsetting the office morale.

For some reason or other Indiana seems to have the largest representation in Florida. Hoosiers are everywhere—some to stay, others to play. Kin Hubbard, the Abe Martin humorist, is the latest arrival from the corn belt. George Ade is golfing nearby. Ohio seems next in representation judging from auto license plates.

Florida is polite to its visitors. None of the arrogance that is spoiling Europe for visitors exists here. Even hotel clerks are displaying a cordiality that is rare in most busy cities. This spirit will do more for Florida than it perhaps realizes.

CHURCH EVENT PLANNED HERE

Rev. Peter W. Macauley to Observe Anniversary of Pastorate.

Next Sunday the Rev. Peter W. Macaulay and the congregation of the First Presbyterian church Lisbon, will celebrate the seventh anniversary of the pastorate of this minister. During the morning service, the mid-winter communion service will be observed with a reception of new members. At the evening service the pastor will speak on the subject, "Our Church."

The Rev. Mr. McCaulay came to the Presbyterian church of Lisbon, February 1919 from the churches of Florence and Frankfort, Pa., this being his second charge. He succeeded the Rev. John C. Strubel, now pastor of the Presbyterian church at Columbiana. At that time the Lisbon church had an enrollment of 550 members, and was in a flourishing condition, with many active and thriving organizations. In fact, a good and lasting work had been done by those who preceded the present pastor in this church.

During his pastorate more than 300 members have been added to the roll of the church, and the membership now totals 710, the largest in any town in the state with a population of 3,500.

The congregation has more than doubled its gifts to all causes and has placed each year $2,000 in a building fund.

This spring the congregation plans church improvements estimated to cost $60,000, about half of which has been subscribed. A new organ is included in this program.

The Ladies' organization, the Friendship Circle has already subscribed $5,000 toward the organ fund, and the balance will be underwritten by special gifts, since the organ will be dedicated to the mothers of the church, past and present.

The church has a band of 30 pieces, which plays free of charge for any church or patriotic organization in the town. It is supported by the community at large, the church furnishing the room, light and heat one night each week for rehearsal purposes.

The Rev. Macaulay was the first president of the Lisbon Kiwanis club, which office he held for two years. He also is active in the Boy Scout movement.

The church has an auditorium which seats 300 and is filled almost every Sunday morning. The average attendance for the morning service during the last six years has been 289, while the evening service attendance has averaged 150. Ushers count the congregations at every service, and and accurate record of attendance at all church services has been kept.

Only one meeting of Mahoning Presbytery, in which the Lisbon church is located, has the Rev. Macaulay failed to attend. He was elected moderator last year.

He is a graduate of Franklin college and also of the Western Theological seminary. He has been in the ministry 10 years. He is a member of the several branches of the Masonic fraternity in Lisbon, and also of Salem commandery, Knights Templar of Salem.

Decision Is Expected Soon on Location of Lisbon-Negley Road

While the state highway department has not handed down a decision relative to the permanent location of the new Lisbon-Negley-state line intercounty highway, this can be expected within a few weeks, according to Chief Locating Engineer W. C. Fawcett, who spent Tuesday and Wednesday in this county reviewing the 1926 road program as it has been advanced by the county commissioners and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk.

"It is our understanding that another hearing will be asked on this road, at the suggestion of the Pennsylvania state highway department," Mr. Fawcett announced, "but it is my opinion that the department at Columbus will decide upon the location of this road so far as Columbiana county is concerned within the next few weeks."

There was a public hearing on this road held in Lisbon last fall, with Mr. Fawcett presiding and representing the state highway department. The department at Columbus scheduled several possible routes for this east and west road from Lisbon to the Ohio - Pennsylvania state line, but there was no change sought in the route between Lisbon and Elkton. From Elkton east, however, several possible routes were suggested, and it was upon these routes that discussion followed.

"The Columbiana county road program is being discussed all over the state, I have observed. The plan is so simple that it is being copied by other counties, but Columbiana has the jump on all the rest of the state so far as connecting improved roads is concerned."

Mr. Fawcett was formerly division highway engineer for this district, but since the Columbus department revised the districts of the state he was promoted to chief locating engineer, with headquarters at Columbus. His visit to this county this week was the first in several months. He intended to travel over the route of the new East Liverpool - Youngstown intercounty highway, but the condition of the road prevented the journey with Surveyor Kirk.

Divorce Action Filed.

Declaring that his wife has been absent from his home since March 15, 1921, and that her present whereabouts are unknown to him, Elf Hodkinson, through his counsel, Lones, Hill & Davidson of East Liverpool, has filed a petition for divorce from his wife, Grace Hodkins.

STATE LIVESTOCK BODY TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Ohio Livestock Cooperative association will open at Columbus next Monday, it has been announced by Service Manager Phil E. Heim, of the County Farm Bureau. Delegates sent to this meeting will represent about 60 counties in Ohio and also represent farmers who have shipped more than $12,500,000 worth of live stock to market during the last year on a cooperative basis.

The Columbiana County Live Stock Cooperative association will be represented.

The meeting will consider trucking, loading, grading and other problems of local cooperatives. Major subjects will be discussed by those actively connected with all branches of the industry, both at the loading point and at the receiving stations.

Directors and officers are to be elected, and a banquet will be held Tuesday night.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been issued to Byron Bruce Lewis, druggist, of Lisbon, and Miss Jeannette Rowan Gibbs, a nurse, residing at Salem, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Gibbs. They are to be married by Rev. Collier at Salem.

Uncle Sam Will No Longer Pry Into "Little Fellows'" Pay

Employers Need Not Report Incomes Below $1,500 for Single and $3,500 for Married Persons.

By FRED J. WALKER.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. — Uncle Sam announced today he would no longer pry into the incomes of the "little fellows."

Anticipating passage by congress of the new revenue law, which eliminates all taxes on incomes below $1,500 for single men and $3,500 for married persons, the treasury issued regulations that employers henceforth need not report salaries below these figures.

The order will cut 4,000,000 people from the surveillance of the internal revenue bureau, it is estimated, and leave only 8,000,000 on whom the treasury has a salary check.

Up to the present every employer in the United States has been required by law to report the incomes of every employe who received more than $1,000 annually. The effect of the rule has been to give the government a double check on the veracity of the taxpayer—through his own return and that of the "boss."

An important decrease in work for both the employer and the government is expected to result from the new regulations.

Regulations Go To Collectors.

The new tax bill provides that returns must be made by "all persons, in whatever capacity acting, including lessees of mortgagers of real or personal property, fiduciaries and employers," where salaries exceed $1,500 for single and $3,500 for married persons.

Those whose employers do not know they are married had better report that fact at once, the treasury advised, because the boss must report all salaries over $1,500 if he does not know the "marital status of the payee."

Among the checks still retained by the treasury, however, are those requiring real estate agents to report payments to landlords, and bank interest payments if the amount exceeded the minimum income figures.

The regulations were forwarded today to all collectors throughout the country.

One of the most important effects to those required to pay income taxes is expected to be a more prompt auditing of returns, minimizing the instances where, years after, demands are made for additional taxes.

SUSPECT FLEES AS COP FIRES

Bullets Fly in Search for Gunman in Wellsville.

The search for the assailant of Antonio Graham, 24, Wellsville Italian, who is in a critical condition in the City hospital with five bullet wounds in his body, continued today throughout Wellsville and adjoining territory. It has been uninterrupted since early Tuesday morning save for several hours last night when police, seeking a suspect in the Italian district, chased him for several blocks and lost him in the darkness.

Thoroughfares leading out of the city have been kept under surveillance since 7 o'clock yesterday morning when Graham was shot down in the street by one of a group of three men on a second story porch.

Authorities last night searched stores, dwellings and other buildings in the vicinity of Twelth and Commerce streets for the suspected gunman. Shortly before 7 o'clock, Patrolman Hurd, standing in an alley near Twelfth street, observed a man run out of a house about a half a block away. Hurd started after him, firing several shots at the fleeing form. The chase led into Eleventh street and toward the hill where the fugitive disappeared.

Anthony Armiento, arrested yesterday by Chief Fultz, is being held on suspicion.

Reports that one or more persons were killed in Wellsville last night were proven groundless by authorities.

'FLOWER NIGHT' SERVICES HELD

First M. E. Church Bower of Beauty as Pastor Speaks.

One of the most impressive services during the present evangelistic campaign was that conducted in the First Methodist Episcopal church last night, when "Flower Night" was observed.

The rostrum was filled with bouquets of cut flowers and potted plants, contributed in memory of those who have died.

Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., spoke on "The Kingdom of God is Within You." Several persons came forward at the conclusion of the sermon.

The flowers, which were displayed last night, were distributed to the sick and shut-in today by a committee made up of Messdames W. T. McNutt, chairman; C. R. Boyce, T. T. McCann, K. D. Dotson, Carrie Guillarmod, William Barlow, Harry Davis and R. O Stewart.

DEVIE DEATH INQUIRY ENDS

One Youth Fined $500, Another is Sent to Jail.

Lester Rowley, of East Liverpool, who was arrested by Wellsville authorities following the mysterious death of Charles Devie, Wellsville laborer, on December 21, last, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of furnishing intoxicating liquors, when he appeared before Judge Lodge Riddle in probate court, Lisbon, yesterday, and was fined $500 and costs. He was committed to the county jail until the fine is paid.

William McKinnon, also of East Liverpool, who was arrested along with Rowley, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny in connection with the theft of $20 from Devie. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in jail. He has already spent 50 days in jail, being the only one of the four men connected with the case who could not furnish bond. Charges against Ray Carroll, East Liverpool, and Anthony Dash, Wellsville, were dismissed.

The arrests followed the finding of Devie's body in the hallway of the second floor of a Main street building in Wellsville. The four men, police charged, had furnished Devie with the liquor.

The youths were bound over to the common pleas court on charges of murder, but the grand jury at the January term ignored the cases, which were then referred to the probate court.

then, it is said, they were drugged and subsequently outrageously treated by men that may be shot for their crime. The unfortunate father, Peteet, of San Diego, overwhelmed with shame, killed himself, his wife and two daughters to wipe out the stain.

Very tragic and news that 52 of Tia Juana's drinking dives have been closed is good news.

Secretary Kellogg doubtless will find a way to prevent constant migration of United States citizens to the dives across the border.

Tia Juana's drinking dives and race rack dives are patronized and kept going by people from the United States.

Above the drinking dives the word in big letters is bar, not cantina. If the American father had not taken his wife and daughters to a Tia Juana drinking dive the daughters would have kept out of trouble, the father would not have found it necessary to kill himself and his family.

Prof. Ross, sound thinker, of the University of Wisconsin, has cheer for this troubled world.

It is getting better, he says. A hundred years hence the average man will enjoy bnfits of civilization "now enjoyed only by them ost advanced people."

Religions are less violent in their hates than they used to be. The average length of life is increasing. Child welfare is considered more important than any particular detail in baptism or any squabble about the nature of the trinity.

Council Will Act Tonight on Market House Fund Issue

City council's proposal to transfer the $38,000 balance in the Market house fund to a proposed municipal building fund, will be discussed by Trades and Labor council tonight.

The proposed "Tag Day" for the benefit of the striking anthracite coal miners, which was to have been conducted here next Saturday, has been cancelled inasmuch as the strike has been settled.

Several shipments of clothing and shoes collected by labor representatives here have already been forwarded to the eastern Pennsylvania districts where the miners have been idle since September 1, last.

War Department Ax Falls Upon Three Air Service Men

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The official ax of the war department fell today upon three army air service officers because of their "lobbying" activities in attempting to influence congress against the administration's air program.

Two of the officers are in the regular army, the other in the reserves.

The officers are Major H. A. Dargue, chief of the air [illegible] division; Major H[illegible]k. Vatican Campaign Against Immodest Dress is Launched

ROME, Feb. 17.—The pope has started a Lenten campaign against immodest dress. The suggestion has gone forth from the vatican that during Lent sermons should be preached against the short skirts and low necks which women are wearing.

The pope's suggestion was made during a private audience, and it is understood that he urged that the sermons be directed at men as well as women.

The pope is reported to have declared that men are largely responsible for present fashions. He recalled an incident which occurred in Hungary, when a mass meeting was held to protest against women's garb. The pope said that the women answered the protest by stating that they dressed to please men.

The pope's opposition to modern fashions has long been known for the vatican regulations with regard to dress have been made strict and churches have been advised to bar the entry of women who are not deemed to be properly dressed.

The balance of the market was comparatively dull and inactive. Motors sold slightly higher, steel and copper stocks were irregular. Call money 4¾ per cent.

FIVE CONVERTS AT REVIVAL

Rev. B. R. Johnson Preaches Sermon on Character

Five persons responded to the invitation at revival services in the First Church of Christ last night after the Rev. B. R. Johnson, the pastor, spoke on "What We Take Along." All persons so far to unite with the church have adults.

In last night's sermon, the pastor said:

"There are two views of life. One teaches that man should eat, drink and be merry, and says to to the soul, "Soul take thine ease, for thou hast much goods laid up for many years." The other view of life is expressed in the word of Jesus, "A man's life consists not in the abundance of things which he possesseth."

No matter how wealthy you may be, it ought to be remembered that shrouds have no pockets. A man built up a great fortune of more than $200,000,000. One day he died and it was asked upon the street, "How much did he leave?" The reply was, "He left it all." He left it all—houses, barns, gold, jewelry, art. Naked we came into the world and naked we go out.

"Mr. Fish of the International Rotary was recently addressing the Washington, D. C., Rotary club. In the course of his remarks he said: 'You men who compose this club are well to do. Many of you are millionaires. Let me say to you men that you cannot take a single cent with you. Look about you and find places to give your money. Help the needy and use your money while you live for you cannot control it when you are dead.'

"King Tut took most of his gold and possessions with him into his tomb. Floating near the head of his rich and costly casket was a light canoe, suspended from the ceiling. This was for the use of his soul that he may safely pass the river Styx. After three thousand years we dig into the rich tomb and find things just as they were the day of his burial. He had no use for them after death.

"We do not take our pains and troubles with us. Paul was troubled with a thorn in his flesh, but when he entered into rest he left his 'thorn' to smoulder in the grave. How often have we seen the crippled, the sick, the invalid in their suffering, but we do not take our diseases and our pains with us.

"What then do we take? We take a character. Man does not become immortal by any peculiar process of religion. Man is an eternal being, but religion etermines how he shall spend and enjoy eternity. Let him that is filthy be filthy still, let him that is unholy be unholy still, but let him that is holy be holy still and he that is righteous be righteous still. A man starts his soul agoing here, gives it its heavenward or hellward bent. A man goes up before his God with a character and his judgment will be as his work is. "Fame is vapor, popularity takes wings, those who cheer today will curse tomorrow. One thing endures, character."

"If we take a character and a character only with us, let us be of greater concern about its growth and development. You can buy bread from the baker, a suit of clothes from the clothier, a watch from the jeweler, shoes from the shoe store, but show me where you can purchase a character. They are not for sale. You must make that for yourself. A life conforming to and being transformed into the likeness of Christ, will assure you of a character that will stand throughout the eternities."

The subject tonight is "How to Become a Christian."

Federal Decision On Countess Vera's Status Uncertain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17. — The status of Vera, the attractive Countess of Cathcart, appeared extremely uncertain today, while harassed officials of the department of labor continued to wrestle with the problem of whether to ship her back to England as an "undesirable" or admit her to the United States.

Bombarded with protests against her exclusion from feminist organizations, and threatened with lengthy litigation to determine their powers of exclusion, the authorities seemed unwilling today to promulgate the final decision which they intimated yesterday was in the nature of a routine performance.

NEWBERN, N. C., Feb. 17. — The Earl of Craven will not preside at the ceremony of unveiling of portrait of his ancestor, an earlier Earl of Craven, who was one of the lord proprietors of North Carolina.

The Colonial Dames of Newbern have decided that the earl's invitation should be withdrawn, in view of the publicity he received as a result of his relations with the Countess of Cathcart.

Fear Flood Stage In Ohio River as Rain is Forecast

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 17. — Heavy rains are expected in western Pennsylvania late tonight and tomorrow, which might cause the rivers to reach a near-flood stage, the U. S. weather bureau warned today.

The forecaster said there is an average of six to eight inches of snow at the headways of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, which would be melted by the rain.

Colder weather will follow the rainstorm, it was said.

President Coolidge Has Cold; Cancels All Engagements

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Coolidge is suffering from a heavy cold.

While his indisposition is not considered serious, it was said to be sufficiently aggravating for him to cancel all engagements and remain in the White House proper today.

The president was at his desk only long enough this morning to dispose of a few pressing matters. Then he retired to the mansion.

Police Ready to Act.

About 10 days ago, Salsberry, according to Mayor Benedum, asking the mayor's permission "to run." He said that "others were getting away with it," the mayor told newspaper men, and that he was entitled to the same consideration. The mayor flatly refused his request.

"If you attempt to 'open up' you will be arrested," the mayor told him. Last Saturday night police declare, was his first attempt to operate a gambling house and a few hours after the game was started, Captain Conley and Patrolman McFarland raided the place, arresting Salsberry and four players. The four players furnished fictitious names, police say.

"There are no open gambling houses on the police docket, if we can prevent it," said the mayor. "We have served due notice on every one and if they are caught they can expect their correct names to be used on police court records, which are open to the newspapers. We will make no attempt to shield any one."

"We will follow out our orders," Chief of Police McDermott said. "There aer no open gambling houses in operation here now and neither will there be any so long as I am at the head of the department."

COUPLE FORGET 21-YEAR FIGHT, SEEK CHILDREN

Wife's Frequent Visits to Honeymoon Flat Are Rewarded.

RENEW ROMANCE

Chicago Story of Marital Quarrel Reads Like Fiction.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—For 21 years, following separation from her husband and the placing of their two children in an orphanage, Mrs. Joseph Wojtalewecz, of 8525 Lumpkin street, Detroit, has made frequent pilgrimages to Chicago, scene of her girlhood and marriage. Each time she has gone to the house to which Wojtalewecz took her as his bride and spent a few minutes gazing at the windows of their honeymoon flat.

Today a man descended the steps of the house and passed her a casual greeting.

"Good morning, stranger," she replied.

At the sound of her voice the man started and looked at her more closely.

"I'm no stranger, he said then. "I'm your husband."

They sat down then and there, found that the differences that had parted them long ago seemed trivial now and began at once a second honeymoon. The only dark spot in it, they say, is that they don't know the whereabouts of their children. Joe, the son, would be 26 now; his sister, Agnes, 24.

"East Liverpool is the metropolis of Columbiana county, which has given to the country and the world such citizens as Senator Marcus A. Hanna, a near president and the maker of presidents; the parents of William McKinley, who were long residents of it; John H. Clarke, who succeeded Charles Evans Hughes on the supreme bench; many members of the famous 'Fighting' McCooks; Clement L. Vallandingham, Harvey J. Firestone and Stephen G. Porter, Pittsburgh congressman and long chairman of the house committee of foreign affairs, whose joint resolution with the senate committee of foreign relations finally brought about two years after its close, a formal peace with Germany and Austria following the World war.

"No less renowned have been the city's contributions to the world of sport, particularly the great national game. To the St. Louis Browns of the eighties it gave Curt Welch, the greatest outfielder of his day. In 'Scoops' Carey, the Pittsburgh world champions captain perhaps received his diamond cognomen, for the famed Baltimore Orioles had a player many critics held to be the best fielding initial bagman of all time. Washington and Detroit, the latter he was to have managed, had in Win Mercer a pitcher second to none for many years. Alf Shaw as catcher, Bill Mundy as first baseman and John Godwin as third baseman of the Boston Americans, did yeoman service in their various positions; Bill Powell, than whom there was no greater basketball player at center, was a sterling member of the pitching staff of the Pirate world champions, who saw later service with Chicago and Cincinnati; while 'Hi' Myers, gardener de luxe, made permanent fame as swatsman and fielder for the Brooklyn and St. Louis Nationals.

"East Liverpool's scenic beauty is ever arresting; its inhabitants are law-abiding as is attested by the utilization of perhaps the smallest police force of any town its size anywhere. Theirs for the most is the acknowledgement of the truism: 'Y gwir yn erbyn y byd.' 'For them truth against the world' in the varied years of its existence has given the city a place in the sun which by now in commercial development, industrial activity, cultural acquirement and religious assimilation has made of it a community of superlative appeal in the richness of its past, the attainment of its present and the outlook of its future."

PLAN TO WIDEN SHARP TURN

City May Cut Sidewalk at Center and Twelfth Streets.

Characterizing the peculiar intersection at Twelfth and Center street as "dangerous," solons last night broached a plan for the widening of the Center street drive at the point by elimination of sections of sidewalks on both sides of the street and the removal of a telephone pole.

A plan showing in detail the proposed improvement, drawn up by Engineer McGill, was exhibited at the council table.

Inasmuch as George Patterson, owner of a section of property at the intersection, is out of town, council considered it advisable to withhold action until his return.

Residents and taxpayers of Fifth street, in a petition, asked for the widening of Fifth street from Commerce to Washington, asserting that in its present condition, the thoroughfare is objectionable to residents of the vicinity in particular and traffic in general. The petition suggested the purchase of property from Frank O'Hara for the widening of the street.

Superintendent G. W. Willis, of the street car company, in a communication to Councilman Nicholson, read to council, pointed out that the company does not attempt to turn cars at the Seventeenth street cross-over, except in cases of absolute emergency as in floods, fires and breakdowns on the right of way. It is done then, Willis said, to maintain the regular schedule spaces for the convenience of the public at large instead of only a few.

Council authorized Service Director Grafton to sell copper, wire, scrap, lumber, barrels and kegs in the possession of the city.

A resolution authorizing the auditor to pay $38 to Thomas Jackson, former garbage collector, was approved by council. Jackson returned property sold by the last administration and in a receent replevning suit was authorized to collect the money he had paid for it.

Auditor Eckfeld submitted the following fund report: General, $1,940; safety, $1,911.55; health, $426.70; service, $3,280.93; water, $216.09; cemetery, $2,038.17; library, $748.29; special water, $30,746.51; auto license, $1,357.42; gasoline tax, $2,664; cemetery trust, $410.52; Wells avenue and Lisbon street, $524.45; sinking fund, $22,353.86.

MAY GET CONTRACT WITH WORKHOUSE

Cashless law violators found guilty before municipal authorities in the future will work their fine out at the Canton workhouse if plans started by solons last night materialize.

A contract with the Stark county institution was urged by President Clyde Baker, who broached the subject, and who asserted that, in his opinion, a workhouse term would serve as an effective weapon against potential offenders.

The ordinance committee was authorized to bring in a resolution for action at the next meeting of the lawmakers.

Under the terms of the contract under which the Canton institution operates with municipalities, the city is required to pay $1 daily for each person sent there. In addition, the city pays the person's transportation to and from the workhouse and provides funds for burial expenses in the event of death.

LONES COUNSEL IN CITY FIGHT

Attorney W. F. Lones, of the law firm of Lones, Hill & Davidson, of East Liverpool, will assist the city in any litigation or controversy that may arise between the municipality and A. W. Hinaman, contractor, who built the reservoir in Little Yellow creek.

Council last night authorized City Solicitor S. C. Luccock to employ the services of Attorney Lones and to fix his fee, subject to the approval of the solons.

The city and Contractor Hinaman have been negotiating for several weeks over plans for the adjustment of the contract existing. Hinaman recently turned down a plan of settlement suggested by the city and in turn suggested arbitration.

WILL INCREASE STREET LIGHTS

Locations are Outlined in Report to Council.

Thirty or more lights, situated at points most needed throughout the city, will be added to the present street illumination system, according to plans launched last night by city council.

Recommendation for the lights was made by W. B. Nicholson, chairman of the street and light committee, as the result of an inspection of conditions in every district in the city.

The report advises the placing of new lights, the repair of lights already located and the transfer of others from the side to the center of whatever street they might be on.

Lights will be placed at the intersections of Tenth and Center streets and at Ninth and Center streets. In addition, a red reflector will be erected in front of the Central school building in Ninth street, directly at the end of Center, to warn motorists of the square turn at this point.

Here is the committee's recommendations:

East End bridge—Move to street center.

Highland avenue hill—Light at foot of hill.

Broadway at Fifth—Place arc light.

Commerce between Fifth and Sixth—Light the one there.

Commerce between Seventh and Eighth—Paid by individuals, to be taken care of by city.

The committee's report was placed on file. It is likely that the solons will confer with the Ohio Power contract with a view to establishing a new contract in connection with the installation of the additional lights.

Fine Levied 18 Years Ago Threatens Man's Home

Des Moines, Iowa.—Facing deprivation of his home to satisfy the state's demands for payment of a fine imposed 18 years ago, Charles Eddy, seventy-year-old painter, of Belle Plaine, has appealed to Governor Hammill.

The property has been ordered sold to satisfy the judgment of the Benton county court, imposed September 25, 1907, for a state liquor law violation. Eddy pleaded guilty and was fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in jail.

He served the jail sentence, but was unable to pay the fine. The state for 18 years left Eddy unmolested. While the fine was growing to $725 through increase of interest, he saved his money and bought a home.

Eddy's attempt to obtain a loan on his property brought to light the old judgment against him.

When Sandusky Started Laying Concrete Street Pavement

How many street pavements can you think of that were put down in 1914 and are still in excellent condition?

J. M. Eakin, City Engineer of Sandusky, can tell you of some. And they are paved with concrete. He says:

"Our first concrete pavement was constructed in 1914—on Scott and Fifth Streets. The results have been so satisfactory that we have 115,000 square yards of concrete paved streets today. All of this is highly satisfactory, to property owners and to the city.

"We have had practically no maintenance on our concrete streets. That is why we build more each year. We have just completed nine more streets."

In addition, concrete paving has made all Sandusky more attractive, by its smart, clean appearance. It has reduced traffic mishaps because of its rut-free, skid-proof surface.

Twelve years of these benefits! And practically no maintenance.

How about your city?

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

TOURING WORLD WITH CORN CROP

"Corn," in Other Countries Don't Mean What It Does in America.

Washington.—Because the three-billion-bushel corn crop in the United States for the past season apparently cannot be marketed satisfactorily either in the sack or "on the hoof," corn holds the center of the economic—and even the political—stage in America just now.

"Just what is corn?" asks a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"The youngest farm lad will be sure he can answer that question fully," continues the bulletin. "But can he?

"Tell an Englishman that a bumper corn crop is causing our farmers economic distress and he will not think of fields of great, tall stalks and big golden ears, but of waving wheat and huge elevators. You must speak of 'maize' if you would have him understand.

"Talk to a South African of either corn or maize and he will fail to get your meaning. He grows the same plant with its grain-studded cobs, but it is 'mealies' to him. So around the world you will find what we know as 'corn' growing under half a dozen aliases, while in other English-speaking countries 'corn' means something entirely different.

"'Corn' is an English word of long standing. Of old, it meant any small, hard, granule. 'Pepper-corn' is one survival, while 'corned' beef is, surprisingly, another. 'Corned' meat gets its name from the fact that it was first prepared with coarse grains of salt—'salt-corns.' Even 'acorn' has had a misspelling legitimatized because early Englishmen naturally mistook its derivation to be from 'oak-corn.'

Corn and Lawn Grasses Are Cousins.

"From its very general meaning 'corn,' used alone, came in time to mean the small grains of the cereal plants such as barley, wheat, oats, etc.; and finally, in England and some of the colonies it usually meant wheat. 'Corn' meant the cereals in general at the time of the colonization of America, and since 'Indian corn,' was the predominant grain crop in the New world, it soon monopolized the name.

"To those who have not dabbled in botany the classification of corn, often reaching a height of 20 feet, as a grass, is a bit surprising. It is, however, just as truly a grass as the tiny plants that carpet golf greens, the succulent foliage that covers pastures, the cereals, wheat, oats, rice, and the like, or its closer kinsmen, the sugar-canes and the sorghums. Corn is often called a 'giant grass.' It is rather a conservative giant, though, beside its cousin, bamboo, 'the grass that grows into the sky.' Bamboo attains a height of 125 feet and more.

"The confusion in regard to corn is increased by the existence of still other 'corns.' 'Kaffir corn,' also a grass, and a cousin of Indian corn, is one of the grain sorghums. It carries its round seeds not on ears but in an upright plume at the very top of its stalk where Indian corn has its grainless tassel. It did not reach America until after 1880.

"Jerusalem corn is somewhat like kaffir corn and the other grain sorghums (milo, maize, durra, etc.) but its seed-clusters hang downward, the ends of the stalk being bent over. It, too, is an immigrant.

"Broom corn is the queerest of the cousins that bear commonly the corn surname, and incidentally it is the oldest of the nonsugar-bearing sorghums to be cultivated in the United States. Brooms were made commercially in America from locally grown broom-corn as early as 1798, and the plant was grown for home broom making some years earlier. The seeds are of little value in broom-corn, but the stems of the seed-clusters, are admirably suited to use in making brooms.

Corn That Turns Inside Out.

"Popcorn is merely a sort of dwarf Indian corn bearing small ears studded with small, hard kernels. The latter have the property, however, of puffing or popping when heat is applied. The hard outer shell bursts and the grain puffs out so violently that it turns itself inside out. Millions of dollars in nickels and dimes have changed hands on American street corners because of the contortions of popcorn grains.

"It is generally accepted that America gave Indian corn to the world. A few students have supported the theory that the plant came from Asia to Europe and from America to Europe at about the same time, soon after the discovery of America. There are no generally accepted records of corn's existence in Asia before the beginning of the Sixteenth century, however, while it is known to have been cultivated in America for many centuries before the arrival of Columbus.

"Since the Fifteenth century corn has spread all over the world and is now an important crop in parts of all the continents as well as in New Zealand and other islands. It is one of the most important food grains in portions of Portugal, Spain, France, Italy, Yugo-Slavia, and Rumania. In Burma the corn grain is a sort of by-product. The type grown there has fine, silky shucks or husks inclosing the ear. This is the highly-prized product. It is used to wrap the 'whackin white cheroots' smoked by Burmese men, women and babies."

WILD DUCKS HIDE OUT ON HUNTERS

Can't Be Found When They Are Sought in Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark.—Southeastern Arkansas, for many years a paradise of duck hunters, this season produced poor hunting despite the fact that there are millions of the green-headed water fowl.

Whether the weather is responsible for conditions, or the ducks have gained through experience of aged birds passed on to the younger generations, sportsmen are unable to tell. Officials, however, blame the weather.

For ducks there are, literally by the million, but not where the hunters are prone to hunt. They are in the less frequented lakes and the open rivers of the rice country.

Early in the season ducks were so plentiful hunters found no trouble filling their legal bags, and rice farmers appealed to the state game and fish commission and the migratory bird authorities that the bag limit be lifted.

The hunters had hardly arrived when the water fowl disappeared. The weather had turned warm again. Then came word that duck hunting in Illinois, Wisconsin and other northern states was better than in years. The hunters put away their guns and prepared to wait for colder weather.

Cold weather came. The ducks returned. Hunters again put out for the rice fields. But when they arrived the ducks had disappeared except in small numbers.

Guy H. Amsler, secretary of the Arkansas game and fish commission, made a trip to the district to look over the situation. In several of the remote lakes he found four millions of the birds, Mr. Amsler said.

The official attributed the movements of the birds to the fact that when the weather turned cold enough to drive the water fowl out of the more northern states, it struck southern Arkansas hard enough to freeze the shallower waters in and about the rice fields. This, he said, had driven them into the open waters of the rivers and lakes.

Hydroplanes being constructed for the Genoa-Palermo lines are capable of carrying 15 passengers and freight for 10 hours continuously.

Should Have Punched Ball, Says Net Expert

Mrs. Molla Mallory Who Once Caused Suzanne to Resign Under Fire, Asserts Miss Wills Employed Wrong Tactics Against French Star; "Hit 'em First and Hard," Her Advice.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Helen Wills tried to do a buck-and-wing with a competitive Pavlowa when she should have forgotten her footwork and remembered to punch the lady in the nose, so to speak.

This, somewhat stripped of its elegance, was the essence of a post mortem on the Wills-Lenglen meeting delivered today by one who has lost to both of them, to wit, Mrs. Molla Mallory. To receipt the bill in full, it may also be noted that she has won from both but never went so far as to make it habitual.

But she once caused Suzanne to "resign" under fire and, therefore, can speak without embarrassment. She did.

Her message was to the general effect that Helen Wills will continue to lose to Suzanne but will do so by ever-diminishing totals, unless she alters her tactics, pronto. It seems that there is only way to defeat the lady of France and Helen tried to use all the others.

The method in question calls for nothing more elaborate than the password to pier six: Hit 'em first and explain afterward, if at all.

"Helen had nobody to advise her or she wouldn't have tried to fence with Mlle. Lenglen," Mrs. Mallory said. "She would have started slugging with the first exchange and never stopped. Bill Tilden came to me in 1921 and told me what to do when I first faced the French girl. He told me to knock the cover off the ball. I did it. The result was that I won the first set and Mlle. Lenglen defaulted after I took the first two points in the second set.

"It seems to me that Helen had a better chance to win on the hard courts of southern France than she will have later at Wimbledon. Those helped her footwork and, in addition, they have much in common with her California courts.

"She had her big chance Tuesday and might have made the most of it had she been better advised. Hard hitting is the only system by which you can hope to take the play away from Mlle. Lenglen. Helen is noted for her hard hitting. It is suicidal for a slugger to try to spar with an expert boxer."

Georges Carpentier, sitting nearby, was moved to polite thought somewhat melancholy agreement. His mind seemed elsewhere, which was approximately the place he would have preferred to have had his chin on that memorable July 2, 1921.

"You might say that I was like Helen and Dempsey like Suzanne," he observed. "It was my hope to feint and box with Dempsey. But he came crowding in upon me, swinging a lot of punishing punches, and boxing was out of the question. I don't pose as an authority on tennis, but I think the principle of the thing is much the same."

Honor Champion Soccer Squads

Press League Winners to Banquet Saturday Night.

Homer Laughlin Soccer players champions of the Northwest division of the Pittsburgh Press circuit, are whetting their appetites for the sixteenth annual soccer banquet and presentation of trophies under auspices of the Pittsburgh Press and the West Penn Football association, on Saturday evening in the General Forbes hotel, Pittsburgh.

Representatives of the five championship clubs will be special guests. The clubs include the Homer Laughlins, of the northwest division; Scandia, of the Main Line league; Pittsburgh Celtics, champions of the Central Junior league; Homestead, champs of the Sons of St. George loop; Altoona, champions of the Blair-Cambria circuit.

Trophies will be given outright to the title clubs, each of which will also receive a handsome figure as well as 15 gold medals.

Majority of the Laughlin players expect to leave here Saturday on the 11:40 a. m., train and will take in the Heidelberg-Turtle Creek game.

FRANCE PAYS WILLS TRIBUTE

Lenglen's Defeat is Now Conceivable Says Newspaper.

PARIS, Feb. 17.—While hailing the victory of Suzanne Lenglen as a national triumph the press today paid tribute to Helen Wills as a worthy adversary and admitted that the American girl had set the pace practically throughout the match.

Only one newspaper, however, The Echo Des Sports, conceded that the match proved that Lenglen was no longer in a class by herself.

"Hitherto," this paper said, "it was believed that no rival could menace Suzanne's reign as queen of tennis. And without wishing to belittle her, the match made it plain that the defeat of Lenglen can now be considered as a conceivable, normal happening. Far from deciding the question of the relative superiority of the two contestants yesterday's play complicated it."

BEAULIEU, France, Feb. 17—Showing no effects of the strain of her two terrific matches with Suzanne Lenglen yesterday, Helen Wills came to Beaulieu this morning to take part in the Bristol hotel tournament.

The American champion will play Miss Hamerton at 1:30 this afternoon and an hour later she will meet Miss Wright.

"Naturally, I will continue playing," Helen said in response to a question. "I see no reason why I shouldn't go on. I shall play in all Riviera tournaments because I like to play. Senorita Alvarez, the famous Spanish player, is entered in the Monte Carlo tournament next week and I'm extremely anxious to play her."

Steubenville Quint Billed Here Friday

Local Boys' and Girls Teams in Action Against Jefferson County Squads; Closely Fought Contest Between Cartledge and Lorah Fives Anticipated.

Steubenville on Friday night and Chester on the following night provide the basketball assignment this week-end for Coach Lorah's Blue and White passers.

Still feeling the effects of the double drubbing at New Philadelphia and Dover last week, although undaunted, the locals are working strenuously this week with a victory over the Jefferson county combine as their objective.

Cartledge at Steubenville is directing a fast, powerful squad which undoubtedly will provide the Potters with as much opposition as either New Philly or Dover, but the team is not invincible, as indicated by a setback or two it has taken during the current season.

Both the boys' and the girls' teams will be in action in the Steubenville meeting.

Chester cagers, who cross the river on Saturday night for their engagement with the Lorah passers, have worked hard this season to win, but have failed thus far of capturing a single tilt. They have the spirit and the fight but, apparently, lack marksmanship, and their scoring, consequently, suffers.

LENGLEN RESTS AFTER TRIUMPH

But Wills Plunges Into More Strenuous Play.

By Frederick K. Abbott.

BEAULIEU, France, Feb. 17.—Mlle. Lenglen, the victor, rests at her home in Nice today, while Helen Wills, the vanquished, plunges into more strenuous play, preparing for their next meeting.

The next meeting is still indefinite, dependent upon the vagaries of the temperamental, and sadly worn, Suzanne.

If the play is made according to the present writing on the books, Suzanne must again face the dogged and determined Helen across the nets during the week of March 8, at Nice.

Suzanne has announced that she does not intend to play in singles again until the Nice tournament, and furthermore she doesn't apparently care much whether she meets Miss Wills again for a long time.

"I will play in the singles at Nice, and Helen may enter," said Suzanne laconically when asked when she expected to give the California girl an opportunity at revenge.

"I intend to keep right on playing," said Miss Wills, determined to play in every possible tournament, and to pass up no opportunity at meeting Suzanne, or any other star the Riviera may attract.

ACMES FACING HARD BATTLE

Play Rochester Quint at Odd Fellows Tonight.

The Acme basketball team will tackle a tough foe tonight in the Rochester Independents, an outfit consisting of western Pennsylvania court stars. The clash is slated for the Odd Fellows' court, starting at 8 o'clock.

The main tilt will be preceded by a girls' game between a local combine and a sextet of Freeport girls.

Forward Martin of the Independents established a reputation as a member of the Rochester Wizards for three years. Jeffries, his running mate, has achieved fame as a member of the Beaver Falls Basketball club and no little recognition as a Beaver court performer. Pearson, reserve forward, was a member of the Marine aviation team of San Diego, Cal., last year.

The pivot post is held down by Shaw, member of the Duquesne five last year, runners-up in the Beaver county industrial league.

Hall, Dean and Lawrence are the guards. Dean is also a member of the Peerless club of Beaver Falls while Lawrence has been performing with the Rochester Wizards and in the church league.

Price Winner In Cue Match

Defeats Paul White, 75-65, in Opening Tilt of Tourney.

Charles Price hung up a closely contested victory in the opening match of the city pocket billiard title tournament last night at the Liberty.

Price won from Paul White, 75 to 65. Each had high run of 14.

Roland White and Clarence Moore will clash tonight.

Recent developments in national swimming championships remind us a great deal of many of the old "IF" stories which have served as alibis for sports participants for many generations. In this particular instance the stupidity of promoters and officials are as much to blame as anything, however.

Aquatic fans will recall that the word was flashed from St. Augustine, Fla., and muchly heralded, that two new world's records had been established, one by Agnes Geraghty in the 200 yard breast stroke and the other by Martha Norelius in the 250 yard free style.

Now come the "glad" tidings that these records have been disallowed by the A. A. U. because upon being measured it was found that the pool was three inches short of standard measurements.

Residents of Riverview, Ky., just across the river from Ironton, O., assert that the braying of a mule is causing local radio interference. We heard that braying the other night on our radio, too, but we thought it was one of those wrestlers posting another one of those phoney $5,000 challenges.

Seldom in the field of sports does one find two noted athletes in different branches, being pursued, beset or harassed by opponents bearing the same name and yet it is happens at the present time. If you think we're spoofing, there's Harry Wills, the black heavyweight, pursuing our own Jack Dempsey, and there's the dainty Californian, Helen Wills pursuing Mlle. Lenglen. To paraphrase an old saying, "Where there's a Wills, there's always a disturbance."

We read a headline on a baseball story recently which said "Psychology wins a Lot of Games." That surprised us greatly for we always thought that a lot of good, long, clean hits which the fielders failed to field were the greatest factors in game winning.

Racing associations around the country are having a lot of fun these days naming their stake events. For instance there's The Rainy Day Stake and The Home Brew Stake at Cleveland, as well as the Wet Weather Stake at Syracuse. What track will be the first to name one The Volstead Stake?

Russell Pence, righthanded rookie pitcher of the Chicago Cubs, has the doubtful honor of being the first holdout of the season and the first in the history of the National league team in the windy city. We do not know how many pence Pence held out for, but we presume it was aplenty.

Willie MacFarlane, national open golf champion will defend his title in the national open tournament to be staged at the Scioto Country club course at Columbus, next July. Mac is at present acting as golf pro at the Hollywood, Fla., Country club. Can you pick, at this date, some one to trim him? Neither can we.

It is said that George Herman Ruth, sometimes spoken of as the "Big Bambino of Baseball" is doing his preliminary training in Florida, for the 1926 race, on the golf links, the beach and the dog track. This sounds better to us than training on gin and gyrations, not that we have anything against either of the latter, but they are not conductive to good ball playing.

Tea Drinking Rapped By Irish Surgeon In Health Address

BELFAST.—That tea-drinking is "ruining" people—and that silk stockings are to blame for some present-day illnesses—is the opinion of Dr. O'Hagan, surgeon of Louth County Infirmary, given when a special committee discussed the treatment of consumption.

"What is required," he said, "is a health campaign to get people to feed themselves properly. I advise people to drink less tea and get back to the days of stitabout and buttermilk.

"There would be less consumption if people took this advice," he added.

FINDS BIGGEST VOLCANO WAS ACTIVE IN VIRGINIA

Dr. W. A. Nelson, State Geologist, Discovers Ash Which Was Deposited Millions of Years Ago.

Charlottesville, Va.—Discovery of a layer of volcanic ash ten feet deep in Rockbridge county, four miles south of Lexington, has just been announced by the finder, Dr. Wilbur A. Nelson, state geologist and head of the school of geology of the University of Virginia.

This layer, says Doctor Nelson, was probably ejected by one of the oldest known volcanoes in America. Its presence coincides with similar deposits of ash discovered by Doctor Nelson several years ago in Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee.

Virginia's ash deposit is the thickest so far found, says the state geologist. It shows that in early geological times, millions of years ago, the mountains just to the west of Virginia, now buried under the Cumberland plateau, were a region of great volcanic activity.

From the measurement of the area over which the ash fell and was deposited in the ancient sea around this island volcano, it has been estimated that more than 60 cubic miles of ash was ejected. In addition to thick deposits in the southern states, several inches have been found as far northwest as Minnesota and as far north as Pennsylvania. This would indicate that this volcano, located probably in eastern Kentucky, near the West Virginia line, was one of the greatest of which knowledge exists.

Volcanic eruptions considered enormous during modern times, such as Krakto and Katmai, only ejected five or ten cubic miles of material, which scattered over 1,000 miles, Doctor Nelson added. These recent eruptions are considered of great magnitude, but they dwarf into insignificance when compared with this event which occurred during the Ordovician period.

Give 150-Year-Old Turk Job to Save His Life

Constantinople. — The famous old Turk, Zaro Agha, who claims that his one hundred and fifty years make him the oldest man in the world, is to be honored, and incidentally, saved from starvation by the city of Constantinople.

The aged man has been unable for the last year or two to carry on his life-long trade as hamal. The hamals are the human delivery wagons of Turkey, and it is a common thing to see one of these porters, bent nearly double, plodding steadily along the street with a piano or bedstead or dining-room table on his back. As Zaro Agha has grown somewhat too old for this herculean occupation, he has found it difficult to supply himself with the bread and cheese of existence, for the pension which he receives from the Association of Hamals is anything but large.

Now the prefect of Constantinople, Eminebey, has appointed Zaro as doorkeeper for the municipal council. Therefore he will now have not only bread and cheese aplenty, a uniform and a warm place to sit in, but a feeling of importance befitting the dignity of his years.

Twenty-one mills in and near La Rochelle, France, now produce each day, 15 tons of cigarette paper nearly all of which comes to the United States.

Make Strong Linen of Human Hair Mixture

Amiens, France.—The manufacture of strong linen for the filtering of extra heavy oils and other fats is the latest use found for milady's beautiful hair.

The supply of women's hair being totally inadequate to meet the demand of the manufacturers, it is now being mixed with hair obtained in China from the fast disappearing queues of modern celestials.

The carding, spinning and weaving of human hair for the manufacture of cloth is an industry just established here, but which has made great strides. The cloth or linen obtained from very close weaving of hair is virtually untearable and is in demand by refining plants and distillers of heavy oils, which require that the cloth used as filters be subjected to a very high tension.

Several washing operations are required before the hair can be sent to the carding room. Thereafter it is handled just like wool and woven on special looms.

FIND FOOTPRINTS 25 MILLION YEARS OLD

Marks Made by Animals Long Since Extinct.

Washington.—Footprints made in the sand approximately twenty-five million years ago by animals long since extinct have been discovered in the Grand canyon of the Colorado river. They have been preserved indelibly in the record of the rocks, in this instance the Coconino sandstone of Arizona.

Dr. Charles W. Gilmore, the paleontologist who uncovered many of these ancient tracks, has brought specimens of them to Washington. He describes the unique exhibit for the first time in a bulletin of the Smithsonian institution.

Hard to Grasp.

The human mind, according to Doctor Gilmore, can scarcely grasp the idea of the vast age of animal life on the earth that is presented by these strange footprints. Some tracks of extinct quadrupeds were first discovered in the Grand canyon in 1915 by Prof. Charles Schuchert. In 1924 Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie institution of Washington conceived the idea of having a permanent exhibit of the footprints in place, just as they were found, so that the tourist that visits the Grand canyon may see them.

Such an exhibit has been prepared on the Hermit trail by Doctor Gilmore, in addition to the specimens brought to Washington. The tracks include those of new and unknown species that lived in the wet sand of this region when the earth was much younger. The Smithsonian institution hopes later to do similar work in other localities and to take steps to preserve such natural phenomena.

"The great antiquity of these footprints, which occur from 900 to 1,080 feet below the level of the present rim of the canyon," says Doctor Gilmore, "is clearly demonstrated at this locality.

Beyond Comprehension.

It is obvious that since the day when those animals impressed their feet in what at that time was moist sand, more than 1,000 feet of rock-making materials were piled up in successive strata above them, and this does not take into account many hundreds of feet more that have been eroded off from the present top of the canyon wall.

"The great length of time required for the cutting away or erosion of the rock to form the deep canyon, and the even longer time necessary for the original deposition of this great mass of stone is, when translated into terms of years, if that were possible, so stupendous as to be almost beyond human comprehension.

"It is hoped that the object lesson so graphically taught by this unique exhibit may serve as an example to stimulate the preparation and preservation of other natural phenomena to be found in our government controlled parks, monuments and reservations."

Twenty leading British companies have a combined capital of $955,000,000 and 509,485 stock holders.

Gives You confidence

HOW conscious we are of our skin! Even one little pimple or blackhead will so embarrass us that we want to hide right away. And eczema, boils, blotches and rashes! Why, these awful things simply destroy all our ambition!

But what confidence we have in ourselves if our skin is clear and unblemished—free from any eruptions or breaking out! A clear skin is one of the greatest possessions in the world—and it is so easy to have it. All that is necessary is to keep our systems full of rich, red, pure blood. S. S. S. helps Nature build this blood. And the impurities that cause these so-called skin disorders are driven right out of the system.

If you want the kind of skin that captivates men and compels the admiration of other women, just remember that you can't have it if your blood is impoverished. But, just build red-blood-cells in your blood with S. S. S. and your dream of a soft, rosy, velvet skin, clear of blemishes, will be realized. Then notice the difference in the way you feel.

S. S. S. has proven for generations that it helps Nature build the rich, red blood that makes beautiful skin and healthy bodies. Let S. S. S. prove it for you.

Get S. S. S. from any drug store. And get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

Q. How many people take automobile trips in one year? N. J.

A. The American Automobile Association says that a survey of tourist camp data leads to the conclusion that 12,000,000 people in 3,000,000 cars took trips averaging 33 days last year.

Q. How was the building of the Eiffel Tower financed? J. B.

A. The French government contributed $292,000 of the $1,000,000 or more that it cost. Alexandre Gustave Eiffel, the engineer who built it, supplied the remainder of the money, trusting for reimbursement to the collection of a fee for ascending the tower. His interest in the tower was to terminate in 20 years, at which time—1909—the government took it over. During the first year that it was open to the public the fees collected nearly paid the cost of the building.

Q. In what sort of places are diamonds found? At what depth? W. L. C.

A. Diamonds are not found in any special locations. On the American continent, with the exception of Arkansas, the diamond has never been found in the actual matrix in which it was formed but in gravels and earth which are the result of the breaking down of rock peridotite. This rock decrepitates very rapidly; cracks and alters into a greenish soapstone-like substance and then actually into a yellowish green powder. The mines located in South Africa, or volcanic pipes as they really are, are like yellow snuff on the surface, then it gradually turns into a yellow rock, then into a bluish grain to a depth of 1,000 feet, then becomes a black rock going down to a depth of 3,500 feet. Diamonds are usually found in octahedron shapes or some modification of the same.

Q. What became of Alexander Smith who founded a colony on Pitcairn Island? H. W.

A. Under the assumed name of John Adams, Smith and either other mutineers of the English ship Bounty, together with some men and women from Tahiti founded a colony on Pitcairn Island about 1788. Adams was its head. He established worship and a school of a sort; and lived and died in peace, leaving a prosperous and religious people

Q. Is the commercial cold storage of Florida grapefruit practicable? L. H.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that it is. Recent tests show that cold storage improves the flavor of the product, breaking down the bitter principle, and decreases the acid content, but does not materially change the sugar content. There is a tendency of the fruit in storage to pit, that is to become covered with sunken brown spots, after being held more than six weeks.

Q. What language is the language of the Roumanian royal family? W. D.

A. Charles Upson Clark in "Greater Roumania" says that it is English.

Q. How high is the tide at Bangor and Augusta, Maine? C. F. P.

A. The Coast and Geodetic Survey says that the mean range of the tide at Bangor, Maine, is 13.1 feet, and the spring range, that is, the range at the time of new and full moon is 14.9 feet. Augusta, Maine, the mean range is 4.1 feet and the spring range is 4.6 feet.

Q. Has the government a herd of reindeer in Alaska? J. L. D.

A. The Biological Survey says that the government does not maintain reindeer herds in Alaska at the present time, although a project was carried through by the U. S. Bureau of Education several years ago. At this time the natives are raising reindeer, and this industry has proved to be of value in that part of the country. In July, 1920, under the authorization of an appropriation by Congress the Biological Survey established a reindeer experiment station at Unalakleet.

Q. How much blood is there in the human body? D. T.

A. There are from 9 to 11 quarts of blood in the body of an average man about 25 years of age.

Gas mantles made in Germany are being sold in England at fifty cents a dozen. wholesale, new machinery making it possible for 750 hands to turn out as many mantles as 1,000 formerly did.

Although cigarette manufacturing is one of Egypt's greatest industries, no cigarette paper is made in that country, and 1,250,000 pounds were imported last year.

Making of solid silverware in China, where it has been an industry for centuries, is giving way to imported plate and to the introduction of the electro plating process into that country.

We Fight Colds

We paid $1,000,000 for this way

Many years ago a great laboratory started to develop a way to fight colds. They worked 25 years to perfect it. All the best that science found was embodied in it.

We have lately paid $1,000,000 for that formula and product. Just because millions have proved it the greatest remedy for colds. And millions more will use it when they know.

It stops a cold in one day. It stops the spread of a cold. It ends the dread of a cold. In a lifetime of investigation we have found nothing more efficient.

The name is Hills' Cascara-Bromide-Quinine. It combines all the best that men know for a cold.

The best way is to have it on hand when needed. Have it ready to stop any cold at the start. Then is when minutes save hours of trouble.

But, if you lack it when the cold develops, get it as soon as you can. Get the genuine, for nothing else is like it. The way in which it ends a cold will remove all your fears of a cold. At your drug store.

The Sting of Truth!

The happenings of actual life are always more interesting than fiction. But Truth may also carry a sting. Truth always hurts when it comes too close to home—because it exposes the methods of Satan, and helps to shatter the power of wrong.

But Truth can never hurt those who wish to guard against evil. In fact, thousands have profited by the timely warnings received through the experiences of others.

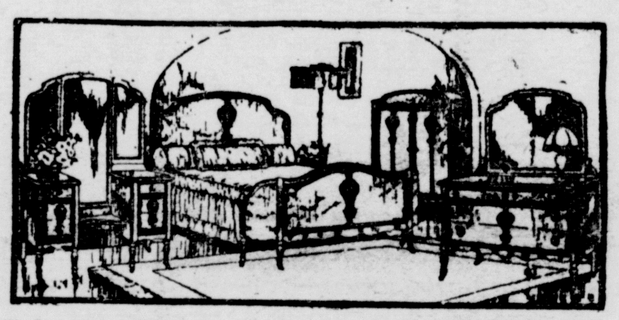

Every month True Story Magazine publishes eighteen or twenty true-life narratives written by those whose ignorance or folly has brought them grief and despair. How they triumphed over their mistakes and found happiness in right living is always as dramatic and thrilling as it is helpful. The March issue is fairly packed with such stories. Sebring Lad Asks $5,000 Damages, for Whipping.

As an aftermath of the whipping of Patrick McGowan, Sebring lad, about a month ago, suit for $5,000 damages has been filed in the Mahoning county common pleas court against Miss Pauline Klingensmith, former school teacher, and her father, Dr. J. B. Klingensmith, both of Sebring. The action was instituted by Mrs. F. P. McGowan, mother of the boy.

Mrs. McGowan charges that the physician and his daughter entered into a conspiracy to punish the lad, who was a pupil in the room taught by Miss Klingensmith. The petition alleges that Dr. Klingensmith provided a strip of garden hose with which the punishment was inflicted. The wripping took place on January 14 in the McKinley school at Sebring.

The child was under the care of a punishment was inflicted. The whipping, it is claimed. Miss Klingensmith recently resigned her position in the Sebring schools, but the board denied that she had been dismissed because of the whipping episode.

Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Quick Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet—Famous but Simple Old English Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition, Banishes After-Eating Distress.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system by following unnecessary starvation diets.

Never hurry your meal or overeat of anything, but within reason most folks may eat what they like—if they will keep their stomach sweet, clean and active and free from the souring acids that hinder or paralyse the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a small amount of pure Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless and inexpensive form of Magnesia that promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bisurated Magnesia, which may be obtained from any druggist for only a few cents, will easily convince you of the great value of this old English recipe.

Be sure and get BISURATED Magnesia—not a laxative.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

YOUR HEALTH

Count Good Health as a Thanksgiving Blessing

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. COPELAND

EVERY good American has reason to rejoice on Thanksgiving Day if 1923 has blessed him with good health. This year has been filled with wars and rumors of war, but if you and yours are well and strong, free from acute chronic disease, you may well thank God on this day set apart for joy and thanksgiving.

If we think of this anniversary as a day of rejoicing over our national blessings, we have a right to be happy. The year has been notable for its freedom from epidemics of diseases. While other countries have suffered from famine, flood and earthquake, we have been spared these horrors.

It is meet, right and our bounden duty to lift our eyes to Almighty God and devoutly thank Him for His manifold blessings. We do this with humble hearts.

Should we not on such a day renew our pledges of upright living, promising that no wilful acts of ours shall mar a second of the year to come?

To my mind a day of rejoicing is almost a selfish day unless it serves also as a reminder of better performances in the year to follow. In our celebration of this day, therefore, let us pledge ourselves, among other worthy things, to the active support and practice of all measures making for individual and national health.

The Pilgrim Father endured endless trials and countless dangers which happily we escape. The Pilgrim Mother, bear in mind, had to endure all that the Pilgrim Father did and, besides, she had to put up with the Pilgrim Father too!

When I think about the olden times, I think about the sacrifices made by the pioneer women. The spinning, the weaving, the making up the heavy garments for the family, the knitting of the socks and mittens, the fashioning of the skins of animals into jackets, caps and shoes—these were woman's duties. The baking, the smoking and curing of the meats, the carving, the pickling and preserving, the trying out of the grease and the making of the candles—these were woman's duties. But their duties did not end here. Who was the nurse, the orderly, the doctor in most ailments? The Pilgrim Mother.

As a nation and as individuals we owe everything to the pioneers. Their bravery, patience and foresight have produced a sturdy race. Those of us who enjoy great privileges to-day should add a word of praise and thanksgiving for what our forefathers and foremothers did for this land, free and happy because they suffered and wearied not.

One of the greatest of our blessings is the American insistence upon the rules of health. In the home, in the school, in the factory there is teaching about health. Municipal, township, state and national boards of health spread wide the knowledge of how to live and how to avoid disease. The span of life is increasing—eleven years in the last half century.

To-day, good friends, we can thank God and take courage!

Answers to Health Questions.

S. S. Q.—I am a young man twenty-seven years of age. Two years ago I was operated on for rupture and have been wearing a truss ever since. I seem to be having a recurrence of my former trouble. Will you kindly advise me how to go about treatment for this condition?

A.—Consult the physician who performed the operation for an examination to determine the cause of the trouble and follow whatever advice he gives you.

• • •

ANXIOUS. Q.—Will you kindly tell me whether or not pyorrhea can be permanently cured?

A.—No, pyorrhea cannot be permanently cured, but the progress of the disease can be checked by having systematic treatment under the direction of a competent dentist.

• • •

J. F. C. Q.—Will you kindly advise me as to whether or not cancer and tuberculosis are hereditary?

A.—These diseases are not hereditary. However, the tendency toward them is.

• • •

J. D. R. Q.—Will you kindly tell me what causes a pain under the knee when I bend it?

A.—This may be due to some injury. You should consult an orthopedist for an examination and then treatment will be suggested.

• • •

M. W. Q.—Will you kindly tell me what makes my face dry? I use cold cream, but this does not help.

A.—If you have been in the habit of using soap on your face, discontinue its use. Wash your face with cold water. This will tend to help the condition.

• • •

J. K. Q.—Is frequent wetting helpful to the hair?

2.—Is vaseline harmful or in any way beneficial to the hair?

A.—Slightly dampening the hair will not injure it, but excessive use of water is decidedly harmful.

2.—Vaseline supplies oil to the scalp, which, in some people, is lacking.

• • •

N. W. Q.—Will you kindly advise me whether or not it is harmful to apply water to hair that is naturally wavy?

Famous Bullfighter And $10,000 Horse In "The Bandolero"

One of the most interesting features of "The Bandolero," which will be the feature at the American theatre tomorrow, is said to be the bullfight scenes. These were made by Tom Terriss, the director, in Granada, Spain, near the famous Alhambra, while the Grand Fair of that nook of the world was in progress.

Terriss hadn't gone to all the trouble of taking his company to that authentic spot to get ordinary bull-fight pictures. He was after something entirely different. As a matter of fact, he came very near getting nothing at all because of a bullfighters' union whose members decided they wouldn't do their business in front of cameras without getting paid extra special salaries for the occasion.

Things were looking mighty black as far as special bullfight scenes were concerned when Canero, the most renowned annoyer of bulls in Spain, came along with his ten thousand dollar white horse. Camero said he was willing to do his act, for which he usually receives one thousand pesetas, for nothing. That looked to Mr. Terriss like a very fair basis from which to begin bargaining; and as a result Canero and his ten thousand dollar nag soon were at work on a bull.

A Great Year ~ A Great Car ~ and Lower Prices

1925 was the greatest year in Dodge Brothers history.

More than a quarter of a million Dodge Brothers Motor Cars were built and sold, yet demand was far in excess of production—and continues to mount.

To meet this world-wide need for a smart and dependable motor car, Dodge Brothers, Inc. have recently completed a $10,000,000 program of expansion, vastly increasing production and lowering the cost of manufacture.

Remarkable new machine equipment has also been installed—further reducing costs and perfecting quality.

As a result Dodge Brothers, Inc. were enabled on January 7th, to announce a schedule of prices that has revolutionized all previous standards of motor car value.

Prices all the more impressive because they apply to a dependable and trusted product made still better in many vital respects—

Engine operation incredibly smooth and quiet.

Instant engine response and elasticity.

Stylish new bodies finished in rich and distinctive colors.

Exceptional driving vision.

And the most important advance in steel body construction since Dodge Brothers pioneered in building the first all-steel body.

HUDSON-ESSEX PRICES A. Y. D.

Abandon Old System of Quoting Factory Figures.

An entirely new system of pricing motor cars—in which the old familiar phrase "f. o. b. Detroit" becomes a thing of the past—was announced today by the Buckeye Motor company,

Hudson-Essex distributors. Instead of quoting "f. o. b. Detroit," this firm will immediately inaugurate an a. y. d. or "at your door" system of pricing.

It was announced that from now on the prices quoted on all Hudson and Essex cars in this territory will include freight, war tax and equipment. Nothing else to pay.

"Beginning today, we shall quote a. y. d. and not f. o. b., prices," said Ray Birch, local Hudson-Essex distributor. "The price we advertise will be 'the price you pay to drive away'—or the complete price at which we will deliver an equipped car at any man's residence. Under this revolutionary new system any motorist may read one of our quoted prices and know that it is exactly what a complete car, with equipment and ready to drive, will cost him, delivered at his home.

"The equipment included will be front and rear bumpers, an electric windshield wiper, rear view mirror, a transmission anti-theft lock, radiator shutters, motometer, and a combination tail-and-stop light. This program includes all new Hudson and Essex cars.

"For many years we have been asked by motorists to adopt this policy. Few people in fact ever have understood what an f. o. b. price was—except that it led the to expect to buy an automobile for a whole lot less than was actually possible.

"They have asked us price our cars just as they stood ready to deliver. That sounded right, but there have been many difficulties in the way. Now these have been overcome and we are able to meet this desire of the public.

"Under our exclusive new system Hudson and Essex cars will be sold like any articles of merchandise. A man does not buy a ham f. o. b., Chicago, a bar of soap f. o. b., Cincinnati, or a life insurance policy f. o. b., Hartford. The letters f. o. b., Detroit mean 'free on board Detroit;' that is a motor car loaded into a freight car in Detroit. Now does a motorist want a motor loaded in a freight car in Detroit? Not much; he wants the car, ready to drive, delivered to him where he orders it delivered. And now that all difficulties in the way have been removed, he will be able to buy a Hudson or Essex car just that way.

"He will not find that the actual price of a car is a hundred dollars or more above the price quoted. Nor will he find it necessary to purchase a substantial list of accessories, for the equipment we furnish is amply sufficient for a trip around the world. In other words a complete car offered, delivered to the order of the buyer, and his only expense is the driving license for the particular type of car which he wishes to buy. We are confident that this new policy will meet the immediate approval of the buying public.

"The price quoted in our announcements will be those not only in effect in our own establishment, but in those of all our dealers both in this city and throughout this whole territory. The dealers like ourselves have felt the public demand and are pleased that this modern method is open to them."

Keaton Tenderfoot Cowboy in Strand Picture "Go West"

Buster Keaton as a cowboy! Foiling "bad men," rounding up thousands of cattle, winning the girl just like all heroes are supposed to do in the great open spaces, but furnishing ten laughs with every thrill—that is the frozen-faced comedian's latest and greatest picture, "Go West," which opened at the Strand theatre yesterday.

Keaton has had many mirth-provoking roles during his screen career. None, however, has approached that of the young drifter who gets himself into all kinds of outlandish predicaments. The famous screen farceur also demonstrates in his newest picture that he has a flair for pathos as well as comedy.

"Go West" has a real plot that carries the star to the cotton plantations of the far south, the lumber camps of the frozen north and other places before he finally lands in the ranch country of the west. Some of the most mirthful scenes are crammed into his travels as a boxcar tourist.

Kicked off a train on the desert, the comedian hires out as a cow puncher. He falls in love with a beautiful girl, and acquires a strange pal, a cow. Then the real fun begins.

Joseph M. Schenck produced "Go West" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release.

London cabarets have started a "Brighter Sunday" movement by presenting children's games and special dances on Sundays.

The Forgotten Letter

MRS. Brown decided to spend a quiet evening reading. She picked up a book, which she had laid aside months ago, determined to start the story, and on opening it what should stare her in the face but a letter from a dear friend---a letter she had forgotten to answer.

Would that old friendship be terminated by her unpardonable forgetfulness? She determined that it should not, but how could she make amends? Her glance fell on the telephone and her problem was solved.

Soon she was talking with her friend half way across the continent---talking as satisfactorily as if she were in the same room and everything was explained. A few minutes chat was enjoyed and the ties were more strongly cemented than before. It was a pleasure for both which was inexpensive, as station-to-station calls after 8:30 take a special reduced rate if the day rate is more than 25 cents.

Perhaps you have forgotten a letter or are letting old friendships drift apart because of lack of contact. Long distance service is waiting to put you in touch with old associations and to keep old friendships alive. A short chat is a good substitute for a visit, for remember your voice is you.

SEVENTY-SEVEN.

Morning brought two surprises to Laurel, a letter from Noble and an unexpected caller.

Berenice brought up the letter with a glass of orange juice, and stood by watching her sister, while making a pretense of glancing over the books on the small shelf by the window.

Laurel could not help feeling some of the old glow over receiving an envelope with Noble's crest.

"My Dearest: I have had deposited in the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, to your order, $100,000. I didn't make it available to you here because such matters have a way of getting out of the Central City National. The sum is yours to do with as you like. I don't want you to wish for anything without being able to have it.

"I understand that you want to go to California, and I wish you would go and enjoy yourself. Take your mother and Berenice or anyone you like. Rest and renew and recreate yourself. When you have decided what you want to do, let me know. I hope and pary that you will decide that for our child's sake it would be best for us to make another start. If you decide this, you have but to call and I will come to you immediately. We will go to the Orient or South America, whatever your whim is.

'Oh, I love you so much. I miss you so terribly. I hate myself for being such a fool as to hurt you as I have.

"I know that you don't want to see me, but please let me come and see you for just a minute or two before you go away."

Laurel laid down the letter and gazed out the window, bathing her eyes in the morning sun.

"It's a letter from Noble, isn't it?" Berenice asked eagerly.

"Yet." The answer was toneless.

"Oh——."

"You'll die if you don't see it, won't you? To save you the trouble of searching for it, you may read it now" She held out the paper and bent her head upon her hands.

Berenice colored at the insult and halted, but her curiosity was too strong to allow her to forego the opportunity. Her fingers shook with the surprise of being allowed to see it. . . . One hundred thousand dollars!

"You're not going to accept this, are you?"

"You ought not to settle with him for less than a million. He——."

"Berenice, get out of this room. I can't stand you one minute longer!"

"Aw, Laurel, I——."

Mother Todd opened the door. "Berenice, I though I told you to stay away from Laurel? I suppose you came up here to bring that letter?"

"Mother, I simply can't STAND her!"

Mrs. Todd pushed her eldest daughter toward the door. "Berenice, you'd drive any one crazy. It's no wonder that no man has ever married you."

The shot cut deep. "She's——."

Her mother did not let her finish. "Don't go down there. Go to your room. You're a woman, yet you have to be treated like a child."

Closing the door, Mrs. Todd turned to Laurel: "Mrs. Harry Yancey is downstairs. Do you wish to see her?"

"She IS!"

"She looks perfectly terrible. Her face is bruised and some of her teeth are gone. Her husband must have beaten her."

"Oh!" Laurel was not surprised at this news. She was willing to believe anything of Harry Yancey. "Wait, I'll dress and go down." What did Harry Yancey's wife want? Assistance? Or did she have something she wanted Laurel to know?

Berenice reappeared in the door. "Forgive me, Laurel, for being such a little cad. I'm sorry. I know I'm a little cat."

"All right." Laurel was thinking of Mrs. Yancey.

"I was just thinking, Laurel, that maybe you would help mother and me get that modiste shop started. If everybody knew that you were connected with it, we'd do a perfectly huge business. Curiosity, you know. It wouldn't take very much. And now that you have the money— "

"Berenice!" Mrs. Todd almost shrieked the exclamation.

"Never mind, mother," Laurel remarked, despairingly, "what's the use?" Drawing a breakfast gown about her, she went down to see Harry Yancey's wife.

Found One of the Greatest Jewels On Earth

Mrs. Lucy Celant, residing at No. 4 Tower Lane, Morgantown, W. Va., picked up a rare gem right on the streets of that city some few weeks ago, and is now receiving the full benefit of her lucky find. For about a year Mrs. Celant had been a sufferer from stomach trouble, indigestion, gas heart pains, nervousness, kidney and liver trouble, headaches, dizzy spells, and numbness of the limbs. She had her teeth pulled upon advice, in hope of getting relief, but none followed. She was advised for an operation, but before submitting found the jewel, "Ka-di-ok."

"So many people I know got such good results from Ka-di-ok, I wondered why not I," said Mrs. Celant to the Ka-di-ok representative. "I felt better after the third day. I believe I have found one of the greatest jewels on earth, good health. Ka-di-ok told me, how to find it; now there isn't any doubt in my mind. I can say I feel so much better since taking Ka-di-ok, that I shall continue taking it regularly for a while."

Similar jewels are awaiting residents of this city for the picking. Just make up your mind to be one of the lucky ones, start a Ka-di-ok treatment, and the gem of health will be yours.

Ka-di-ok is sold in East Liverpool at Mathews' Cut Rate Store and other drug stores.

Rin-Tin-Tin, Wonder Dog, in Exciting Picture at Strand

"Below the Line," the latest of the Rin-Tin-Tin series of pictures, opened today at the Strand theatre for a run of three days. It is a picture of thrills, romance and comedy, but especially of thrills. Undoubtedly it is the most exciting of the wonder dog's pictures and Warner Bros., the producers, have been especially fortunate in obtaining good pictures for this sensational dog star.

"Below the Line" was written and adapted to the screen by Charles A. Logue. It tells the story of a vicious pit-fighting dog in a small southern village. The dog's master, a village boy, has won the animal's affections through tender treatment. When the boy gets into trouble, the dog's fighting blood is once more aroused. The climax comes with a fight between Rin-Tin-Tin and a pack of bloodhounds that carries the thrills to fever heat.

The dog star has never been better. From the time he is dumped out of a crate when being transported through the village on a train to the moment of his blood thumping fight, he develops the character with uncanny instinct for the proper effect. He is humorous, tender, strong, unrelenting, vicious, snarling, pathetic and glorious by turns. Even in the matter of make-up, his trainer had him prepared for the role with utmost realism. At first he is ugly in a dirty tramp dog fashion, and then, gradually, you see him develop into the beautiful beast that he is. The transition was quite as startling as that made in reverse order by John Barrymore when he gradually changed from the elegant Beau Brummel to the squalid old man.

Daring Explorer Opens New Wilderness to Whites

George M. Dyott, noted English explorer and author, is back from a perilous trip through Ecuador and Brazil across South America, on which he visited regions never before seen by a white man At bottom is the great volcano of Sangai, photographed for the first time. At top is one of the swift deadly streams with which he had to continually battle. As the photo was taken, one of his boats was being smashed. Folks Over Forty Beware Of High Blood Pressure

New Magic of ARIUM—Radium in Tablets — Without Drugs — Brings Amazing and Lasting Relief From Dizzy Spells, Sleeplessness, Kidney and Prostate Trouble, Nervous Weakness and Other Dangerous Symptoms—Test It Yourself.

"$5,000 REWARD IF IT FAILS"

"ARIUM HAS GIVEN ME NEW LIFE where everything else I used failed," says Mr. Chris Ulfers, a prominent resident of Iowa. "I had high blood pressure bad—that is gone now—I have also overcome nervousness. Had terrible pains and swelling of stomach and lower bowels—this is getting better—can sleep good—I am stronger and enjoy life again, for I feel better than I did years ago."

With high blood pressure daily claiming its victims by thousands, you should watch closely for such dangerous symptoms as dizziness, hot flashes, surging of blood to the head, aches in the head or back, heart palpitations, quick pulse, shortness of breath, ringing in the ears, pouches under the eyes, enlarged veins over the temples, nervous weakness, or lack of VITAL FORCE. Doctors report that in 90 to 95 per cent of the cases tested, the marvelous restorative radium power supplied by ARIUM, produced a rapid lowering of high blood pressure and brought back normal healthful activity. This is because ARIUM creates a vitalizing, internal exercise of the glands and organs, renewing their proper, youthful action, just as Nature intended. A multitude of alarming symptoms quickly disappear. You see and feel the startling improvement in yourself each day—act and look younger, no matter what your age may be.

The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., of New York, which supplies druggists with ARIUM, guarantees successful and satisfactory results from its progressive use in every case, or money refunded, and offers $5,000.00 Reward if it fails to prove that a definite quantity of genuine radium is used in its preparation. ARIUM is easy and economical to take and may now be readily obtained in this city from any good druggist who can easily get it for you if he has none in stock.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

Coach or Coupe, at factory

General Motors' New Six is here!

GENERAL MOTORS now presents through its Oakland division the New Pontiac Six—the first six-cylinder car it has ever named and sponsored from the original design.

Representing the supreme embodiment of the corporation's almost limitless resources, this new Six is destined to compel a complete revision of existing ideas in motor car value.

The Pontiac Six is not another of the so-called "revolutionary" cars.

It is simply and solely a car of high quality developed to dominate a definite market . . . and as such represents an achievement no less significant, no less unprecedented, no less epochal than the invention of the first six-cylinder engine.

In the Pontiac Six you are offered a new order of beauty—that grace of line and balanced proportion characteristic only of Fisher craftsmanship. You are offered precisely the enduring body construction that is used on cars selling for $2,000 or more, finished in rich Duco colors.

You are offered a roadability of extraordinary scope—exhilarating power for hills, refreshing agility in traffic, a maximum speed you will use only in emergencies.

Add to this new order of beauty and this performance of unprecedented brilliance, the equally important matter of accessory equipment, and the preponderance of Pontiac value becomes literally irresistible—

—for the Pontiac Six comes equipped with full balloon cords, nickeled radiator, Fisher VV windshield, automatic windshield cleaner, indirectly illuminated instrument panel, rear vision mirror, high-speed window regulators and other important essentials to pride of ownership.

The Pontiac Six is now on display in our salesrooms. Demonstrations may be arranged for. We not only invite you to see this newest creation of General Motors at the earliest possible moment—we urge you to come prepared for a new and unique experience—for here at last is the Six you have always wanted . . . . at a price so unexpectedly low that only General Motors could possibly achieve it.

The Pontiac Six, companion car to the Oakland Six, is built and distributed by the

ONCE PROUD MONITOR, LAST OF TYPE, JOINS JUNK PILE

U. S. S. Cheyenne, Still In Good Order, Goes to Keep Her Rendezvous With Davy Jones.

Baltimore, Md.—Trailing ignominiously at the end of a towline, a once proud monitor and last of her type recently moved toward her grave—a junk pile at Hampton roads.

One of four sister ships laid down in 1904, the Cheyenne, originally the Wyoming, started her death march alone with the U. S. S. Owl, a navy yard tug, stealing ahead like a conscience-stricken executioner. The Tallahassee, the last of her sisters, felt the acetylene torch 20 years ago.

Sixty-six years back in American history the monitor type, embodied in John Ericsson's Monitor, nemesis of the Merrimac, revolutionized naval practice. Monitors maintained President Lincoln's blockade of southern ports during the Civil war.

The present and last monitor, living to see her once all-powerful type belittled by modern development, epitomized naval progress when she served as a mother ship for submarines on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts during the World war. The Cheyenne, then the Wyoming, also was the first naval vessel to feel the thrust of modern oil-burning engines. Experiments conducted aboard the Wyoming have since led the Navy department to take steps for the conversion of all remaining coal burners.

For more than five years the Cheyenne has served as the training ship of the Fifth Naval Reserve district and with her passing the Baltimore water front loses a bit of romance. The original Monitor indirectly was protecting this port when it destroyed the Merrimac in Hampton roads.

Under her own power, around the Virginia capes from Philadelphia, the Cheyenne came to Baltimore in October, 1920. It is through no fault of her own that she is dragged away on the end of a chain, like a criminal to the gibbet. Her engines are sturdy and fit, her propeller trim—but she is obsolete and her crew is gone. Part of her crew has been transferred to Eagle boat 56, her successor, and the remainder has gone on the inactive list.

So, with her fireroom cold and her decks deserted, the last of the monitors keeps her rendezvous with Davy Jones.

Blood Reveals Race History, Tests Show

Berlin.—Blood tests to identify descendants of those who crossed the Atlantic in the Mayflower or to expose fake survivors of the Light brigade soon will be possible, if experiments of Dr. E. O. Manoiloff, Russian blood specialist, are extended, this scientist claims.

The old adage "blood will tell," is literally true, Doctor Manoiloff says. Though his experiments have been limited to Europeans, he asserts that by blood analyses he can tell a Chinese from a Japanese, a German from a Pole. Out of 1,362 Russians and Jews whose ancestry has been traced, Doctor Manoiloff said that his tests enabled him to distinguish between the two races with 88 per cent accuracy.

At a clinic attended by five distinguished savants who took samples of blood from 202 persons of various races and nationalities, Doctor Manoiloff, without seeing the persons, diagnosed correctly the nationalities and race of 187, an error of only 7.5 per cent. His analyses are based upon color solutions.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Diagnoses Crime Wave as He Waits for Death on Canadian Scaffold

"Children are taught too much idealism, and not enough realism." This is the diagnosis of the crime wave made by Si Sowash, alias Henry F. Meyers as he waited death on the scaffold at Vancouver, B. C., on a murder charge. When he walked to the noose, he left behind a remarkable essay on crime and its causes.

STATE FIRE LOSS HIGH IN JANUARY

The January fire loss in West Virginia was $585,725, an increase of $31,502, or six per cent, over the same month in 1924, it is shown by a report of the state fire marshal department. This is the first month of the fiscal year to register an increase when compared with the corresponding months of the year before.

Thirty-six counties reported fires but three of these—Brooke, Cabell and Kanawha—suffered more than 60 per cent of the total loss, or $355,450. The respective losses for the three counties were $214,200, $89,700 and $51,550.

There were 146 fires reported for the state during the month and in 71 of these the loss was entire and in 75 partial. The sound value of the property attacked by the flames was $1,523,875 and the insurance $926,800.

For the seven months of the fiscal year ending January 31, the loss in the state from 627 fires was $2,851,701, a reduction of $1,158,239, or 29 per cent, from the same period in the preceding fiscal year. For the 12 months ending January 31, the loss from 1,069 fires was $5,429,309, a decrease of $1,156,674, or 17 per cent, from the twelve-month preceding.

Cast of Favorites In American Film, "I Want My Man"

How will the future judge of America in its present era of social dissolution which came as a reaction to the anxiety and agitation of the last war?

That is the question evoked by Milton Sills and Doris Kenyon in their latest First National drama, "I Want My Man," which opened last night at the American theatre.

Will they see it with the eyes of Sills in his role of Gulian Eyre—a man returning after eight years' seclusion in France, during which he was seeking cure from blindness incurred in the war?

To Sills it is a world upended, a world of flapper orgies, of tea-dancing matrons and reckless fathers. But beneath it all, he sees, there is that soundness of heritage that will emerge above the phase of pleasure-madness that prevails.

As Earl Hudson has produced it, "I Want My Man" is well acted, well directed and well told. It is a drama well worth seeing, with a story of weight and moment. The film was adapted from Struthers Burt's novel, "The Interpreter's House."

The picture has been well cast. Phyllis Haver, May Allison and Paul Nicholson give excellent renditions as the victims of jazz mania. Kate Bruce and Theresa Maxwell Conover, as a pair of mothers, give contrasting portrayals of equal merit. Little Frankie Evans shows promise in a child role.

Waited Till the Cows Came Home

"I am indeed glad to write you this letter. I was a terrible sufferer from gases in the stomach and colic attacks. The specialist, our family doctor sent me to in Philadelphia, gave me no relief, although I took his medicine till the cows came home. He finally said I would have to be operated on. Luckily I heard of MAYR'S "One Dose Will Convince" then, and although it is now three years since I took a course of it, I have never had a symptom of my old trouble since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and druggists everywhere.
